

Supplementary Estimates Are Introduced In House

OTTAWA (CP) — Supplementary spending appropriations totaling $234,976,348 were introduced in the Commons Monday by Revenue Minister Benson, bringing the budgetary spending program for the current fiscal year to $7,825,903,438.

In addition, Mr. Benson, as chairman of the treasury board, asked the Commons to approve $42,350,000 in loans, investments and advances bringing the total for the year ending March 31, 1966, to $348,835,101. These are not counted as budgetary expenditures because the government expects the amounts to be repaid.

The largest item in the new spending estimates was $70,000,000 to the railways, the annual reimbursement to them for maintaining freight rates at their 1958 level.

Another $84,000,000 was earmarked for payments to the provinces for winter works by Indian bands, and $25,000,000 was for winter construction and repair work undertaken by various government departments.

An item of $15,000,000 for the external aid office was listed.

Mr. Benson also tabled estimates for 1965-66 previously submitted to but not passed by the Commons and Senate last summer before dissolution of Parliament for the Nov. 3 general election.

NEED APPROVAL
The items not passed then and the new items submitted Monday must be approved by the Commons ultimately. Meanwhile, government spending has been authorized by interim approval.

It was learned here that new RCAF ground crews have been assigned to Leopoldville for three months beginning Feb. 16. Most of the first group will start home then.

The lift was originally scheduled to last for January only. RCAF Hercules transport crews made their first runs down Leopoldville and Lusaka and Ndola in Zambia Dec. 30.

A weary RCAF crew led by Sqdn. Ldr. Gerry Fosberg of Sprague, Man., Saturday night brought home to Ottawa an equally weary Hercules from the Congo. Two other air crews led by Flt. Lt. Don McConachie of Hagersville, Ont., and Edmonton and Flt. Lt. Ken Ruel of La Tuque, Que., returned to Trenton, Ont., from the Congo earlier the same day.

FLY MORE THAN MAXIMUM
Not only do the four-engine Hercules planes have to be brought home for inspection and overhaul but the air crews are flying more than the maximum 120 hours a month permitted in the RCAF.

Fosberg's plane had a three-page list of needed repairs which couldn't be remedied by the spare parts available in Leopoldville when it left The Congo.

And it had to fly another 25 1/2 hours from Leopoldville via Tripoli, Libya, and Marville, France, before reaching its home base here—and the comforts and administrations of a hangar.

Fosberg ran into a heavy thunderstorm out of Leopoldville—the plane had already lost its storm-detecting radar—and into freezing rain and fog at Marville.

While the planes undergo overhaul for five to seven days, airmen returning from tropical Africa have to enter hospital for "debugging." RCAF doctors want to learn whether they have picked up any tropical diseases, especially internal parasites.

The problem of spare parts for the four Hercules has become acute in Leopoldville. This is due partly to the Vietnam war. The U.S. Air Force is getting most of the available spares.

Crews returning from the Congo heat are preparing for a dose of arctic cold. They will fly an infantry battalion and equipment to Bardufoss in northern Norway next month for a NATO exercise.

WORKS ON BIRTHDAY
UNITED NATIONS (AP)—Secretary-General U Thant of the United Nations observed his 57th birthday Saturday by working for three hours at his desk.

became declarer at four a notrump after North had invited a slam. The raise to four opened South to bid a slam if his opening notrump was based on maximum values, that is, 18 points. South, of course, declined the invitation.

West led the king of diamonds, East playing the jack, and continued with the queen, which South took with the ace.

Anticipating no difficulties, declarer cashed the A-Q of clubs, but an unexpected problem developed when East showed out on the second club.

Undisturbed by this development, South proceeded to make the contract anyhow. He cashed the A-K-Q of spades and the A-K-Q of hearts, forcing West to reduce his hand to the 10-6 of diamonds and the J-9 of clubs. South's remaining four cards consisted of a heart, a diamond and the K-10 of clubs.

West's distribution had become an open book after six tricks were played, and South was now able to play a diamond in great comfort and thus force West to return a club from the J-9 to the K-10. As a result, South made four notrump.

At trick two it became obvious that West had started with six diamonds. At trick four South learned that West had started with four clubs, and at trick six that West had started with a singleton spade. The missing two cards had to be hearts, and all that South had to do for the rest of the hand to insure a successful endplay was watch West's discards.
