

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

APRIL 10, 1893.

The Citizens' Meeting

As the officials' petition was an explicit denial of the Government's contention that the officials "wanted to be disfranchised," so the meeting on Friday evening was an unmistakable proof of the falsity of the Governmental notion that the people take no particular interest in the outrageous attack upon the officials' electoral rights and privileges. Rarely has there been a larger, or more influential, or more deeply interested audience assembled within the walls of the Market Hall. Knowing that the citizens of Charlottetown are possessed of hearts and minds essentially Liberal, this is what THE EXAMINER anticipated. To think that the negroes of the Southern States may vote; that Indians in the Northwest may vote; that men who can neither read nor write may vote; that our corner loafers may vote; that the drunkard and debauchee who has been fined by the Stipendiary Magistrate may vote; that the felon having endured his punishment may leave the prison doors and vote; and to think that Frederick Brecken and John A. Campbell, James Currie and George Bremner, Percy Pope and Thomas Foley, Joseph Unsworth and George A. Sharp, with seven or eight hundred other intelligent men of good character may not vote, this is, indeed, enough to make the blood boil in every Prince Edward Islander's veins.

The Mayor brushed away with a few pithy sentences the contemptible objection that he had no right to call the meeting, and showed clearly that he was the only man who had the right to call it. His Worship's sympathy with the popular movement on behalf of the disfranchised officials was evidenced by the fact that he came out after night, at the risk of his health, to open the meeting. It will now be remembered that when the franchise rights of our young men were attacked in the Dominion Parliament by the Hon. David Laird and his confederates of the Grit Government of Canada, the Hon. Mr. Haviland, then a Senator, succeeded, with the assistance of Senators Howland, Haythorne and Montgomery, in repelling the attack and maintaining the threatened rights. His action of Friday night may not be equally successful. But it shows that the heart of our Chief Magistrate is still in the right place, and it will be remembered to his credit.

It is not necessary to enlarge upon the arguments advanced at the meeting. Enough to know that the speeches were pointed and eloquent, and that the large and influential audience, unanimously and indignantly, denounced the disfranchisement measure and demanded its repeal. We shall now see, whether, having denied the prayer of the officials' petition, the Peters Government will dare to flout the public opinion of Charlottetown and the Province at large.

The Wessel Impaled

Those who heard the remarks of Mr. Joseph Wise at the citizens' meeting when reading the Patriot of Saturday evening, have been struck by the applicability of his elegant illustration of the thieving wessel impaled upon the dung fork to the present position of the party which has robbed the Dominion officials of their franchise. That party of political bandits is not yet dead. But it is pinned down by the prong of public opinion. Though its fate is assured, it is still wriggling and squirming in the vain hope that the prong will be removed. Every device to draw off public attention from the main point is adopted by the Patriot. It sneers at Mr. J. P. Tanton and abuses Mr. Ferguson. It refers to what was said by the Mayor, but it carefully avoids the strong points which he made. It attacks Mr. W. S. Stewart, who it says, "aspires to be a candidate." The reply to this is that if Mr. Stewart is at all desirous of entering public life, he could not have been more suspiciously introduced to the people. Mr. Stewart spoke eloquently and argumentatively. He made a decidedly favorable impression upon the public, and he espoused a cause which is at once right and popular.

The Patriot tries to make a point out of the fact that the Dominion officials took no part in the meeting. It will be remembered that the officials had previously petitioned against the outrage. When it was found that this petition—respectful and reasonable as it was—was presented to both branches of the Legislature in vain, then the citizens decided to enter their protest and to demand that the obnoxious measure be repealed. The meeting was a spontaneous movement on the part of the citizens. Officials had nothing to do with it, and, therefore—though their deep interest was evinced by their presence—they took no part in it.

The Patriot studiously avoids reference to the resolutions which were unanimously passed. Never have we heard within the walls of the Market Hall a more vigorous or more united "Yes" than that which was given to the resolution in which the Disfranchisement Act was denounced as "tyrannical in its nature, most unjust to the officials concerned and unworthy of a self-respecting people." Yet persons who read only the Patriot would never know that such a resolution had been carried.

It will be noted, too, that the Patriot has not accepted Mr. Blake's challenge to point out one official who has been forced to vote for the Liberal Conservatives!

The fact is there is no cause or excuse—other than the desire of Mr. Peters' Party to obtain an advantage in the elections—for the outrageous franchise deprivation of which the Dominion officials are the victims. Consequently there is no reason why the franchise robbers should be relieved. Impaled and wriggling, let the political wessel remain where it is—until kicked outright at the time of the general election.

The New York Herald's medical article suggests a new remedy for cold in the head. The remedy was proposed by M. Capitan, of Paris. The formula is,— Salol 1.00 gm. Salicylic acid 20 cgm. Tannin 20 cgm. Powdered boric acid 4.00 gm. At the outset of a cold in the head a pinch of this powder is to be snuffed up each nostril every for the first half-day only. If used more frequently no longer it gives rise to an eruption of the edge of the nostrils. But the preparation can be so modified as to prevent this eruption by mixing with it a little talcum or boric acid or by reducing the proportion of salol to one-half or one-quarter of that mentioned in the formula.

The Guardian exults in the thought that Sir John Thompson and Mr. Foster, with their Parliamentary followers, will, as a result of numerous Prohibition Placettes, be put "into a tight corner," and that the party for which such eminent, practical prohibitionists as Mr. Peters and Mr. Blair are working, will consequently ere long obtain a majority in Parliament. That is, in plain English, the meaning of its editorial paragraph of this morning. The Guardian is too apt to indulge in the pleasures of imagination. We are not aware that the leaders of the Liberal Conservative party have, either by personal or by public act, done anything to forfeit the confidence of temperance men; and we feel sure that a large majority will agree with THE EXAMINER that the present administration is as willing and as able to deal practically with the important and difficult questions involved in the prohibitionists' proposal, as any other administration which can be found in Canada.

There is to be a reduction in the tariff of Newfoundland of five cents a barrel on flour, and twenty-five cents a barrel on pork.

THE PICKWICK CLUB.—The programme of the Pickwick impersonations which are to be given on next Thursday evening in the Lyceum is published in to-day's paper. Those who are familiar with the droll situations in which the characters of the Pickwick Papers were forever becoming entangled will be glad to know that nothing will be lost in their production on Thursday evening. To those who have not read of the doings of the celebrated Pickwickians, and wish not of the humor of Sam Weller, we can say that the scenes to be presented will be full of action and fairly sparkling with fun; and because of the prevailing high elevation of fashionable bonnets, the management respectfully request those who occupy the front seats on Thursday evening to kindly take off their bonnets and by this means allow people in the back seats to obtain a view of the stage.

To night.—Some beautiful hats and ties will be on exhibition at D. A. Bruce's. Everyone should call and see.

Oppression's Pilot

See stern oppression mount his iron car, Roll o'er the land and spread his ruin far. The rights of man go down beneath his wheel, And all is woe where once was only weal. But who's his pilot? For 'tis long since he Gazed on this land where every man was free. The Peters guides him on his d-d and career, Points out his victims and invites him here. Mark Peters, every freeman, mark him well, In him no generous feelings for the people dwell. The birthright from his fellow man he bears; Gloats o'er his ruin and rejects his prayers. The freeman once, now drags a bondman's chain, That Peters and his crew in power remain. But you, who yet may claim a voice to stay 'This Nero in his devastating way, Lift up that voice, and to the world proclaim That Freedom here is not an empty name. Hurl down the tyrant from his rotten throne, And yield oblivion him he claims his own. SIMPLEX.

A Peculiar Case.

A MAN CLAIMS THAT HE WAS GIVEN $500 TO MARRY HIS WIFE.

A rather interesting matter came before Judge Savory at Digby one day last week, in the way of an application under the Married Women's Property Act, for an order to compel the repayment by Daniel J. Morehouse to Eliza Morehouse, his wife, of $500, alleged to have been placed in his hands to invest for her benefit. Morehouse opposed the application on the ground that the money was paid to him on account of a sum to be given by Mrs. Morehouse in consideration of his marrying her. A number of affidavits were ready to prove this, and from one of Mrs. Harris it would appear that she admits not being very numerous Mrs. Morehouse (then Crowell) engaged the services of Mrs. Harris to arrange a match for her with Mr. M., the inducement being that she should have $2,000 after they were married, and agreeing to pay Mrs. Harris $5 in the event of a successful termination to the negotiations. Morehouse nipped the tempting bait and became a married man. After a time $500 was paid him on account of the trouble and inducement. Then domestic troubles arose and they separated. Mrs. Morehouse seeks to recover the amount paid, while Mrs. Harris is still looking for her well earned fee of $5; judgment was reserved.

CARPETS.

Who knows who are the best carpet makers? What store is it that grasps most thoroughly the idea of harmony and effect, of getting the newest and most stylish patterns in all reliable grades? We believe we know who. We have such an assortment of fine carpets that would do justice to a store with nothing else to think of. JAMES PATON & Co.

CLOTHING.

Do you recall the beginning of our clothing business? We began with right value in boys' suits and pants. We succeeded in pleasing the little tots and their big brothers, and were soon assured of their mothers' goodwill. With mother's approbation the head of the house soon fell into line. It wasn't a difficult matter after that to enlarge the conditions and get our share of the trade. JAMES PATON & Co.

GENT'S FURNISHING.

One of the "signs of the times" is the evident inclination of men to break away from habits of trade. This is properly a woman's store, and this is woman's news; but we keep a store of things for the men that help to make a big business, and the men can find it to their interest to buy, because we keep the prices right. JAMES PATON & Co.

Meeting at Souris.

A large meeting of lobster packers and fishermen was held in Morrow's Hall on the evening of the 6th inst. Dennis Murphy, Esq., was appointed chairman and the undersigned secretary.

John McLean, Esq., M. P., was the first speaker. He explained all the different interests existing from the Bay of Fundy all around the Gulf of St. Lawrence and the Magdalen Islands; all the conflicting demands made upon the department, the great difficulty of framing a law to meet general approval, and the certainty that unless some reasonable solution were arrived at, that the department would enact permanent legislation perhaps injurious to some localities. He stated that himself and his colleagues in Parliament, all agreed to the provisions of a certain bill, upon which the recent order in council was based; as the best possible concession to the industry here, and as a compromise between the extreme demands of some localities and those of our own people.

F. Morrow, Esq., said he had listened with much interest to the explanation given by John McLean, and thought that the regulation just passed should meet the approval of all intelligent people. He held that the change proposed would detract but little from the quantity trapped and that any loss would be more than made up by uninterrupted fishing and increased time.

John A. McLeane, Esq., St. Peter's Bay, said he had passed with this last regulation and that he had used some traps last season successfully with 15th-17 inches apart.

Mr. McFarlane, Annandale, said that he also favored the present regulations and thought it all the concession we could expect. Messrs. John Crawley, Joseph A. McDonald, Charles Cheverie and others expressed their satisfaction with the regulations, and said it was much better than the uncertainty of the past years.

C. H. Sterna, Esq., also spoke strongly in favor of the recent change, and believed it would be much help to the industry. The undersigned, after endorsing the opinions of the previous speakers, and describing a trip on board one of the cruisers to length a dispute of an eighth of an inch in the length of a few lobsters, moved the following resolutions:

Whereas, Many changes have occurred in the Lobster Fishing Regulations during the past few years, causing much annoyance to fishermen and packers, and much difficulty to enforce said regulations; and Whereas, The many conflicting interests of the packers and fishermen caused a great many different demands to have been made in the Fisheries Department; and Whereas, An order in Council has been recently passed intended as a compromise between the provisions of a certain bill pending and the various demands of the packers and fishermen;

Therefore Resolved, That the order in Council referred to, providing that all restrictions heretofore existing be removed, excepting the fishing season to the 15th July, as formerly, and that each trap shall have a space of one and a quarter inches between the first and second traps or slats on each side, meets the approval of this meeting.

This resolution was seconded by Charles S. Sterna, John A. McLeane, Hugh McPhee, Edwin McFarlane, John Cumings and Joseph A. McDonald, Esqs., and carried unanimously.

After a vote of thanks to Mr. McLean for his assistance and influence in the lobster regulation, and a vote of thanks to the chair, the meeting adjourned. GEO. B. McCAIGHERN, Secretary. Souris, April 7, 1893.
