ORGANIZATION.

We sincerely hope that the work of Liberal Conservative organization will go on. The time is propitious. A way of indication is sweeping over the Province, not so much on account of the taxes of which some persons have had a foretaste in the shape of enormous income tax bills, as on account of the deception which has been practised by the present government. The people were led to expect greater economy and better administration as a result of the advent of the Peters' combination. They have been cruelly awakened to their mistake by heavy, extravagant, needless expenditures, a big deficit, and impending taxation. Under the judicious management of the Liberal Conservatives the political path was so smooth that the people became politically lethargic and easy-going. They readily listened to, the voice of the charmer—the shrewd special pleader who had his own ends in view. But they have been roused by the developments of last year. They are now, or they ought to be, prepared to drive from office the men by whom they have been humbugged and beguiled. The movement towards organization is therefore timely. Even though begun in a small way in the midst of harvest, it is likely to grow—after the taxes have been gathered in. Queen's West has followed Queen's East in the organization of a Liberal-Conservative association. We have no doubt that there will be a consensus of favorable opinion in respect to the officers elected and the platform adopted. It will be admitted, we think, that President Blake and his fellow-officers are honest men and have the good of the country at heart. The resolutions passed and published in another column are admirably worded. The great ability of Sir John Thompson has been repeatedly tried and proved. We have in Canada, after fifteen years of the National Policy, an eminently cheap country to live in, and a country that is upon the whole, as compared with other countries, eminently prosperous. Some of the industries that had an advantage under the National Policy are now able to go on without further protection. In respect to others the protection has been lessened. On the other hand, the duties which favor the farmer have been, on the whole, fully maintained. That is to say, the farmers' home market for pork, oats, etc., in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, has been kept for him, and, at the same time, his taxes in respect to agricultural machinery, binder twine and many other things, has been considerably reduced. But what would now be our position if the people of Canada had listened to Mercier, Wiman, Farrer, Cartwright, Laurier, Davies, and Company, and accepted Commercial Union or Unrestricted Reciprocity? We should be in the same boat with the States! Industries prostrate, thousands upon thousands idle and in need, a falling revenue, big deficits, increased taxation for national as well as for provincial purposes! That would have been the position of Canada to-day if the advice of the Liberal leaders had been accepted by the people of Canada. The Association formed yesterday did well to record an expression of thankfulness for our escape. It also did well to refer to the folly of the majority in this Province who madly sent to parliament men to vote away the commercial independence of Canada and to misrepresent the interests of the Province. In that which is in respect to this Province and that which might have been in respect to Canada, there is surely good ground for the hope that the Grits will no longer triumph here. At all events, let there be no risk or danger of such a disaster on account of inefficient organization; and let the revision of the voters list be carefully attended to.

LIBERAL-CONSERVATIVES IN WEST QUEEN'S.

An Association Has Been Formed.

Strong Resolutions Passed.

The List of Officers Elected.

A meeting of Liberal Conservatives was held in Philharmonic Hall yesterday afternoon, at the "Liberal Conservative Association for West Queen's" was duly organized. W. E. Dawson occupied the chair, and C. R. Smallwood was elected secretary. A constitution was adopted which provides that every bona fide Liberal Conservative elector in the riding shall be a member of the Association. The following resolutions were severally adopted:

1. Resolved, That we desire to place on record our unqualified confidence in the administration of Sir John Thompson, and to express our gratification that, on the lamented death of that eminent statesman, Sir John McDonald, who so long and successfully directed the destinies of Canada, such men as Sir John Abbott and Sir John Thompson were found both able and willing to carry forward the work which has proved so beneficial to the people of the Dominion.

2. Resolved, That the National Policy having in an eminent degree developed the industrial resources of Canada so as to place many of the industries which are encouraged and protected by the important modifications of the Tariff made during the late session of Parliament.

3. Resolved, That the reductions of duty on articles mainly or entirely used by farmers and the wise and paternal policy of the government in furnishing capital and skill for the promotion of the dairy interests of this Province calls for our hearty thanks and merits the support of the farming classes of Prince Edward Island, irrespective of former party associations.

4. Resolved, That we deplore the great mistake which has been repeatedly made by the electorate of this Province in placing P. E. Island in a position of hostility to the majorities in all the other Provinces, and we sincerely trust that after the next election the Island will be represented by men who will act in harmony with the government in urging the just rights of the Province in the matters of public works and winter communication.

5. Resolved, That in view of the comparative prosperity of Canada during the last year, and our immunity from the great financial depression which has proved so disastrous in the United States, we desire to record our thanks to a majority of the people who were sufficiently wise to reject the dangerous schemes of Commercial Union and Unrestricted Reciprocity, which the party led by Mr. Laurier, at the recent election of the Province in the United States, advised the people to accept.

6. Resolved, That while ever ready and anxious to agree to freer trade relations with the United States on a reciprocal basis, the recent action of the so-called Free Trade party in the United States in adopting a highly protective tariff and abrogating existing Reciprocity treaties, measures more than ever convince us that it is the duty of all patriotic Canadians to support tariff measures with a main eye to the interests of Canada and the British Empire.

Officers of the Association were elected as follows: President—P. Blake, Esq. Vice President—G. W. Pierce, Esq. Secretary—C. R. Smallwood, Esq. Treasurer—D. E. Campbell, Esq. Resolutions were passed by a majority of 100 to 20.

—The Guardian cites THE EXAMINER'S admission that salaries are not high in this Province in proof of the failure of the N. P. It says: "If salaries are low, so is everything else. Five hundred dollars will buy as much, or almost as much, as a thousand dollars would fifteen years ago. With National Policy the National Policy has also brought low prices resulting from hot competition and heavy production. Canada is now a cheap country to live in. But the Provincial Government has been extravagant at a dear rate, and the people of the Province must now pay out of their small incomes, big taxes."

—Not long ago the Republic of Hawaii was proclaimed. On that occasion, after recounting the past, President Dole said: "There are achievements in free government, as yet unattained, to be striven for in response to the claim that the poor man, the weak man, the ignorant man shall be recognized in fact as well as in name in 'body politic.'" A nationality in which equal rights are given to every member of the commonwealth is built upon a solid foundation. How different this from the conduct of the tyrannical faction in this Province who have deprived the poorer half of the electorate of an equal voice in the legislature and have imposed unjust unequal, odious and galling taxation on the industrious portion of the community.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

SOME OBSERVATIONS.

Sir,—On reading the speeches delivered at the Agricultural Conference held during the vice-regal visit, as reported in THE EXAMINER and Patriot, I was struck with the remarks made by Mr. McPherson, who is one of the Patron members recently elected to the Ontario Legislature, as well as President of the Dominion Dairyman's Association. Amongst other things, he is reported as saying:

"In order to make agriculture as successful as we desire, we require both capital and skill. These are qualifications which many of our agriculturists lack. Our legislators should under such circumstances come to the rescue of the people. Look at what the Federal Government at Ottawa has done for the people of the Island. They have provided both capital and skill in the carrying on of your dairy industry—capital in the working of the factories, and skill in the person of Professor Robertson and his assistants. You are to-day realizing a large dividend from this working capital and skill. All this should greatly encourage you to push on in further improvement. It is only the beginning of what we all anticipate."

These many words of commendation coming, not from a Conservative, but from a Patron of Industry, will be endorsed by every independent man in the Province. The Dominion Government is doing a noble work, for the farmers, and the farmers will be only too glad to cheer if they do not show their appreciation of it by their votes at the next election. What a contrast does this practical and paternal policy of helping the farmers present, to the schemes of the party which kept up for a number of years about commercial union, unrestricted reciprocity and similar fads. If we wish to judge of the policy to be followed, we must observe its effects. The tree of politics, like the tree of knowledge, must be estimated only by its fruits. The labors of the Grits only produce the hollow and empty phrases, policies to be replaced by policies, and all in the end to be repudiated. Can any man truthfully say that any part of Canada is better off to-day on account of any beneficent act or scheme announced by the party of which Mr. Laurier is leader? Not one of the standards which the Liberals have taken on the many questions before the country for the last fifteen years, has been vindicated, while many of them were as visionary as declarations in favor of immediate and complete communication between the earth and the planets. Even at this moment Mr. Laurier is appealing to the country as a Free Trade leader. But here is what Mr. Blake—an infinitely sber and honest man—said in 1887 about Free Trade for Canada, in what is known as his Malvern speech:

"No man, I care not how convinced an advocate of Free Trade for Canada he may be, has yet suggested—no man I believe can suggest—a plan by which we can whereby our great revenue needs can be met otherwise than by the continued imposition of very high duties on goods similar to those we make or can make within our borders, or on the importation of such goods. I invite the most ardent free trader in public life to present a plausible solution of this problem; and I contend that he is bound to do so before he talks of Free Trade as practical for Canada. I have not believed it soluble in my day, and any chance of its solubility, if chance there were, has been destroyed by the vast increase of our yearly charge, and by the other conditions which have been created. The thing is removed from the domain of practicalities."

But it may be urged in behalf of the Liberals that they have been sixteen years in opposition and that they have been permitted, for want of opportunities, to show their wisdom and patriotism in bringing forward measures for the benefit of the country. In reply to this I would say that surely no Liberal leader would party will contend that if the Liberal leaders had at any time since 1878 succeeded in resuming power they would have turned their backs on the measures they advocated when in opposition. The contention would be an absolute admission that the leaders were insincere and that Liberal policies were only electioneering devices. We are therefore bound to accept the conclusion that the Liberals have been in power since 1878, Canada would today have no Pacific Railway, and we would be included in a commercial union with the United States. The country would be entirely destroyed our political and commercial independence and involved us in the disastrous financial complications which have during the last year spread ruin and distress over the southern half of this continent. I dismiss as unworthy of all respect the denial by Mr. L. H. Davies, both in parliament and on the stump, that he or any leading man of the Liberal party ever advocated Commercial Union between Canada and the United States. Mr. Davies' denials on this point are far from creditable, and the time will surely come when the world will know the earnest and thoughtful men will oppose any suggestion of a man in public life, whose regard for the truth is so slight as to make it possible for him to deny the plainest fact in order to cover up his own and his party's errors.

I started this letter by a quotation from Mr. McPherson's speech at the Agricultural Conference on the 19th inst. I will conclude by giving another short extract from the same speech. After complimenting so highly Sir John Thompson's Government for their action on agriculture he turned to the Provincial Government and said: "Let me give a word of advice to your Provincial Government. They should be liberal enough to supply a sufficient amount of working capital, purchase a poor farm, that has been run out, and place it in charge of a skilled farmer and show the people what can be done under such circumstances. An object lesson of that kind would do more to teach the people what can be done than anything else."

What would Mr. McPherson say if he were told that three years ago when Mr. P. Peters (who sat beside him while he was speaking) assumed power in Provincial affairs, he found the Government in possession of one of the best farms in the Island, which had admittedly done a vast amount of good under previous management, in distributing animals of good breed amongst the farmers, but which now, as a result of unskillful management, has become an "object lesson" but, very different from what Mr. McPherson desired. I understand that nearly $2,000,000 a year have been lost in the working of this farm since 1891, besides interest on the original outlay; that the stock, now upon it, are reduced in number, and inferior in quality; and that the men employed are far behind the ordinary farmer of the Province in intelligence. An object lesson, truly! The people of Prince Edward Island would do well to ponder on Mr. McPherson's words, and weigh well the record of the Conservative Government at Ottawa and the Liberal Government at Charlottetown in agricultural affairs. Surely after the experience we now have of Grit rule in Provincial matters and the notorious collapse of Grit policies in Federal affairs, the people of Prince Edward Island will not at the next election repeat their blunders of 1887, and 1891 by sending Grit representatives to Ottawa.

THE DOCTORS' DIFFERENCE. Sir,—For the past week you have been publishing letters of a personal nature regarding whether or not a young man of the city, born and bred of respectable parents, is entitled to add the prefix "Dr." to his name. His right to do so has been challenged, in my opinion, in a very unbecoming manner by a person who claims the right to use the prefix to the exclusion of the decent and respectable young man referred to. Dr. Dorsey, in effect, says: "I am registered as such in the Medical Association of P. E. I., and am therefore a Dr., full fledged, with full license to practice and to give medical services to the public. Dr. Brown, are not registered, and are therefore no doctor and cannot practice as such." Dr. Dorsey is unquestionably wrong in his charges and in his conclusions. The fact of a man being registered does not constitute him a doctor. It does not even guarantee the public that the man knows the first principles of medical treatment or surgery. A man may be registered, and still not know as much as the ordinary midwife in a country district. Registration merely signifies that the person registered holds a diploma from some college authorized to issue them. Whether that diploma was granted through real merit or in some mysterious manner is not known. Present your diploma, pay your fees, and you are not made a physician, but are simply licensed to practice and afterwards send in your bill and it need be seen for it. Therefore Dr. Dorsey when he wishes to convey the impression that registration makes a medical change, is endeavoring to create a false impression. Dr. Dorsey has made a big mistake in attacking Dr. Brown. The latter gentleman is well known in the city and does not come within the mischief of the Medical Act as framed to prevent quackery. He has been known from boyhood by all classes in the city, and from that time to the present not one act of his life can be pointed at which would reflect on his good name, although had health he was unable to finish his college course and for that reason at that time did not stay as long at college as he intended. But it is quite possible that he learned as much in the time he was there as some other people who now claim to be Dr. by registration. If Dr. Dorsey's object in making the attack was to obtain cheap advertising and publicity, he has succeeded, but the general public think that he would have shown better judgment if he had kept quiet and allowed some of the elder physicians who have some standing in the community, more in the matter. The fact that they have not done so shows, to my mind, that, like the shearing of the pig, there is "more noise than wool."

A GRIEVANCE. Sir,—I supported the Scott Act last election, but being very unwell and wishing to go to the country, I procured a medical certificate from the Grits, and whiskey and went to the drugists for it. To my amazement I was asked $1.25 for it, which added to the 25c for the doctor's examination, meant $1.50 for what used to be had for 50c. This is not a case of force. Why this increase of 25 per cent? What has caused the rise?

GENERAL TELEGRAPHIC NEWS. WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—Monsignor Sattoli, the Papal legate, has decided to maintain silence as to the statement regarding him that the Pope will soon make the alleged authority absolute and sovereign, and answerable only to the Pope. Mgr. Sattoli has given instructions to those at his residence not to admit reporters or to permit any cards of newspaper men to be taken to him or to Mr. Payne. Referring to the statement that the Pope will give his sanction to the action of the legate, Mgr. Sattoli has given instructions to those at his residence not to admit reporters or to permit any cards of newspaper men to be taken to him or to Mr. Payne. WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—The Japanese legation has received a telegram announcing that the Government of Japan has determined to issue a domestic loan of fifty million dollars. The dispatch states that a strong outburst of patriotic feeling has been evoked by this proposition, and the people in all parts of the country are eagerly subscribing to the loan.

TANGIER, Aug. 19.—The revolt among the Kabyles spreading and is now general in all the southern provinces of Morocco. A body of the Sultan's troops recently attacked the rebels outside of Mazagan, a seaport 120 miles southeast of Cape Spartel. A desperate conflict ensued, in which the rebels were defeated, and the Sultan's troops were finally put to flight after they had sustained very heavy losses. The troops retreated inside the walls of Mazagan, and the rebels are now besieging the city. The situation is considered to be grave.

The sum of 100,000 marks is included in the German army estimates for the present year for the supply of bicycles to the infantry. Two bicycles are assigned to each battalion. An instruction has been issued dealing with the bicycle service. Bicycles are to be used for communications between advanced guards. When troops are in quarters, bicycles are to fulfill the functions of orilleries, especially were mounted orderlies are wanting. They will also relieve the cavalry from relay and intelligence duties. In great fortresses, the whole of the duties now developing upon cavalry as message bearers will be transferred to bicyclists.
