Crime in California

It is not denied that we lead the world for crime, in the direction of fraud, defalcation, robbery, homicide, suicide and family disruption. We are less than a million of people and scarcely a day passes that does not record a murder, a suicide and a maniac; with a due proportion of lesser crimes. We have three lunatic asylums, with 3,000 inmates. We have 5,000 persons in jail. Among these are at least 50 murderers. In this city alone we have now 15 for trial. No other land in Christendom can show such a record.

There are good reasons for it, all of which should be removed as fast as possible. Our good name, our well-being, the interest of our children, and our future depend upon the removal of these causes, and the production of a more healthy moral atmosphere. These causes may be summed up thus:—

Our leading and richest men have set an example of almost total depravity. They have made their wealth by means no better than burglary, swindling, perjury, bribery and treason. The sight of these successful moral monsters, is an incentive to crime in all lesser minds, and to murder and madness when that crime cannot succeed.

Another is the presence of the Chinese slave. Thirty years ago, for an ambitious young man without a trade to be bankrupt in some new venture was nothing. He could go to work in any part of the United States, as President Lincoln did, plow, split rails, or gather the harvest, and rise again in a few years for another effort. Here it is death, despair, madness, suicide, murder, anything but that. It is to descend into the slough of Chinese cheap labor, in which there is no hope, no wife, family, friend or future. Crime, suicide and murder are the natural fruits, and we have a rich harvest.

Our origin, the hopes with which most of us came here, and the utter prostration of those hopes have much to do with it. We are poor, a disappointed people. We came for fortune and we find ourselves wrecked on the shores of this Chinese Dead Sea of cheap labor. It is horrible! It is intolerable! Ordinary human nature cannot bear the strain. American human nature will not. It will take any steps but that. Americans prefer the penitentiary, to labor with this slave. If you doubt it, go and count them there!

Our laws have much to do with this deplorable state of things. The leading men did not will that crime should be punished with rigor and promptness. Alas! it would have reached them, and crumbled or prevented their great fortunes. They insisted that only bootblacks and newsboys should be convicted by our Courts. They have so framed the law, and framed their counsel, that all higher crimes, when money comes to the trial, are put off forever, or result in a mere perversion of justice.

The command of the Constitution of the United States that all laws shall be just and equal to all persons, is set at defiance and of none effect. All great criminals escape or are never brought to trial. We do need a revised and much abbreviated Criminal Law, that will reach straight to its purpose. Let us have it.—San Francisco paper.

Postal Service in the United States.

The clauses of the President's message dealing with the postal service are most interesting, as showing that lower rates of postage and increased facilities to the public do not necessitate a permanent reduction in the revenue of the department. The lowering of the rate of letter postage in 1883 from 3 to 2 cents was followed in July, 1885, by an increase in the allowable weight of letters from one-half to one ounce, and a diminution in the postage payable on newspapers by one-half. All these, as well as the necessary extension of the service to the new and developing territory of the West, tended to enlarge the difference between revenue and expenditure, and the former fell off some two millions a year. The recovery, however, soon began, and in the twelve months ending June last the receipts had risen from the lowest point to the extent of eight a million and a half, with the prospect that in a year or two the effects of the reduction will have entirely disappeared. As is the case in Canada, the postal service in the United States fails to pay for itself, and has to receive an annual grant from the treasury of eight and a quarter millions.

A Refractory Bridegroom.

A singular event occurred at a church, at Willimott, Staffordshire, a few days ago. A couple presented themselves to be married, and upon the clergyman putting the question, "Wilt thou have this woman for thy wedded wife?" the bridegroom answered with an emphatic "No," and left the church. His explanation was that a year ago when he wanted to be married, his intended bride refused, and he thought the present occasion afforded him the opportunity of "returning the compliment."

Mary Harper, a Cleveland servant girl, has inherited $250,000 from a relative in Philadelphia.

Lord Salisbury never uses tobacco and seldom drinks any alcoholic liquor. Lord Randolph Churchill smokes cigars, but is almost a teetotaler.

The traffic receipts of the Grand Trunk Railway for the week ending December 4th, were $335,410, an increase of $16,363 compared with the corresponding week last year.

The ex-Empress Eugenie, who is in wretched health and suffering from rheumatism, has gone to Rome, where she will probably remain till after Christmas, and then go to Naples and Palermo.

If you have catarrh, use the surest remedy—Dr. Sage's.

Boston Markets.

DECEMBER 11.

POTATOES—There has not been much change in the Potato market the past few days. Eastern and Northern stock in fair demand and firm. Provincial receipts continue liberal and prices rule low, owing to the poor condition of the stock.

Eggs—Trade has been moderate, and strictly fresh lots sell readily at 27 to 28c. per dozen. Other kinds are slow. Best P. E. Island rule at 25 to 26c., and Canada at 24c.

FISH TRADE—This continues to be a light trade in Fish and prices are without material change. Mackerel are in small supply, but dealers are cautious about buying at present rates. The bulk of the receipts the past week were from the Provinces, with sales of Nova Scotia extra 1s at $20 to $25; ordinary No. 1 at $16 to $18; large No. 2 at $13; and large and medium No. 3 at $9 per bbl. Bays are mostly in dealers hands and are held at previous prices. Total receipts of Mackerel at Boston for the week 992 lbs., including 855 lbs. from foreign and 107 from domestic ports.

The Situation in France.

The defeat of Mr. de Freycinet's ministry must be very discouraging to the friends of the French Republic. It seems impossible for even the strongest Government to secure anything like a certain tenure of office. A few days ago it looked as if M. de Freycinet was master of the situation; now he is out of power, and not likely to accept office again. The cause of the constant changes in the Government is the existence of more than two parties, there being always three or four. The Moderate Republicans are the strongest, and number 230; the Reactionaries, including Legitimists, Bonapartists and others, number about 200; and there are about 150 Radicals. The Government is therefore constantly in danger from a combination of two parties against it. In the present instance the Reactionists and Radicals united to defeat it, although they have nothing whatever in common. There seems very little chance of any Administration being formed with any prospect of stability.

St. Petersburg Threatened.

St. Petersburg is threatened by the sea. During a great hurricane lately, the Neva left its banks and inundated all the low lying portions of the city, while the gorged canals and river branches overflowed into the thoroughfares. The wind, meanwhile, tore the roofs from wooden houses, and, lifting from their supports some of the great bridges, sent these heavy masses to mingle with the debris already afloat. The incident has a grave significance. There are few, even among the travelled, who are aware that one of the finest of European capitals is in perpetual danger of disappearing beneath the waves. An unusual flow of water from Lake Ladoga, taking place simultaneously with strong winds from the west and southwest, would cause St. Petersburg to be flooded throughout its whole extent.

Judge Not.

Little Nell—I am afraid your papa will go to the bad place.
Little Joe—Why, he's a deacon in one of the gooddest churches in Omaha.
"No matter if he is, he cheats people awful and that's wicked, you know."
"My papa never cheated anybody."
"Oh, you big story-teller!" Sister Edith got a big scrap-book at his store yesterday and paid an awful lot of money for it, too, and there isn't a scrap in it; not a scrap."
—Omaha Bee.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain; and the little shrewdly awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gurgles, allays all pain, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, and take no other kind.
