Kings M.P. Returns After Observing U.N. In Action

In his dual capacity as County Federal Member, and Island representative on the Dominion Council of the Canadian Legion, John A. Macdonald, Conservative M.P. for Kings has been particularly busy during the past two weeks. On October 6, 7, and 8 Mr. Macdonald attended a regular meeting of the Legion's top executive in Ottawa, following which he spent a day at the International Plowing Match held this year at Chrysler, Ontario, and four days sitting in on various proceedings at the United Nations Headquarters in New York City. Mr. Macdonald returned to his home in Cardigan Thursday night.

The Kings M.P. declared that he was particularly pleased to have the opportunity to observe some of the operations of the United Nations. VALUABLE EXPERIENCE "A visit to this great gathering representing nations of all parts of the earth is especially valuable to anyone in public life, particularly as a demonstration of how world government is carried out," he said.

"It is evident that Canada ranks very highly as an important member of the United Nations, due to our position geographically and also as a larger and richer member of the small nations group." While sitting in with the Canadian delegation on one of the regular sessions, Mr. Macdonald heard the senior American representative make an important statement on world disarmament. Senator Lodge declared that disarmament proposals should extend to all weapons and not be confined solely to the nuclear field.

CHALLENGE EVADED In his reply Mr. Macdonald noted that the Russian spokesman, Mr. Zorin, who followed Mr. Lodge in the debate, had evaded this direct challenge by the American delegate, and would agree only to a "conditional disarmament." At a later session Mr. Macdonald heard his parliamentary colleague, Mr. Heath Macquarrie, (PC—Queens), present Canada's views on South West Africa's "apartheid" policy. This entire debate appeared "rather acrimonious" to the Island observer.

MET BY MINISTER On his arrival in New York, Mr. Macdonald was met by the leader of Canada's delegation, Hon. Sidney Smith, minister for External Affairs. The next morning he was invited to sit in on a briefing session presided over by Mr. Smith, with Hon. William Browne (PC—St. John's West) as vice-chairman.

LEGION DEMANDS An across-the-board increase of 13 and one-third per cent in payments to disability pensioners, and an increase to married recipients of War Veterans Allowance comparable to the $10 per month extra granted to single recipients earlier this year, were two of the major requests sought in a brief presented to the Cabinet by the Legion's Dominion Council, Mr. Macdonald said. The Council also urged that the

Conductor 'Fault' Causes Additional 2-Hour Blackout

A "fault" which developed in a conductor on one of the 500 line poles near the Southport end of Hillsboro Bridge yesterday evening initiated an added two-hour break in electrical power to customers living in a large area of Kings and Queens Counties. Mr. D.A. Cameron, superintendent of the Maritime Electric Company said last night. Linemen had been busy working on the final stages of the new line to Montague from nine in the morning, Mr. Cameron said, adding that the accident occurred shortly after the line was energized following the advertised eight-hour interruption. Passers-by were startled by the bright, blue flash that accompanied the development of the fault. Power was restored to the area at 7:20 p.m.

Quick Action Saves Life Of 8-year-old Souris Girl

SOURIS — Quick action by two men saved an eight-year-old Souris girl from a plunge to possible death or at least serious injury here Saturday. The youngster, Esther Gillam, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Gillam, was rescued by Warren Cheverie and his son-in-law Art MacKinnon, when she was hanging precariously to a log hanging over the edge of a 40-foot cliff on Breakwater Street near the home of Reginald Macdonald. The screams of the young girl, attracted the two men, both employees of Eastpack, while they were at work on the Eastpack wharf. They had to run the length of the wharf and then some 1,000 feet to get to the spot where she was hanging with a drop of 40 feet to rocks below. MacKinnon ran along the top edge of the cliff and Cheverie ran along the shoreline in case she should fall. MacKinnon pulled her to safety. It could not be learned how the girl came to fall off the edge. The spot is about 30 to 40 feet from the highway leading eastward into Souris.

Outline Reforms Expected To Clean Up 'Mess' In Pakistan

KARACHI, Pakistan (Reuters) Gen. Ayub Khan, chief martial law administrator, Sunday outlined the sweeping reforms he hopes will clean up the "mess" left in Pakistan after 11 years of a shaky democracy. Pakistan's legal system, based on the British code, must be drastically altered to give the people "quicker justice," he said. Pakistanis are breeding too fast and birth control must be introduced, he said. The piece meal distribution of farms must be abolished in favor of more practical development on a larger scale. AUSTERITY PLAN He said the country must be put back on a sound economic footing even at the price of enforced austerity. The 51-year-old army boss described control of his country as "a benign martial law to assist the civil power to clean up this mess."

Khan was appointed martial law chief when President Iskander Mirza abolished the constitution and cancelled the approaching general elections—Pakistan's first nationwide ballot. Khan, a tall, burly professional soldier who was trained at Sandhurst, outlined the new regime's policy in an interview at the premier's official residence, where he now lives. Khan emphasized the take over by Mirza had been bloodless and denied a report that army officers had been shot for opposing the new regime. He said not a single bullet had been fired anywhere in Pakistan and no one had even been hit on the head. IRRESPONSIBLE MEN Khan said the "utter irresponsibility" of some politicians who had been "hobnobbing with the country's enemies" had aggravated the internal situation. Meanwhile, the new regime has made drastic changes in the government's administration structure. Four ministries were abolished—parliamentary affairs, labor, states and frontier regions and economic affairs. Their duties have been merged with other government departments.
