

THE DAILY EXAMINER

JUNE 16, 1898.

WILLIAM DODD, ESQUIRE.

We have to announce, to-day, the sudden death of an aged, and prominent, and highly esteemed citizen—William Dodd, Esquire. Mr. Dodd went to bed last evening in his usual health. It appears that he arose in the night and, taking his lamp, proceeded towards an adjoining chamber. While in the passage-way between the two, his lamp dropped out of his hand. There are marks showing that the carpet was scorched, and that Mr Dodd's night-dress had caught fire. After quenching the flame, Mr Dodd seems to have turned in the dark to go back to his bedroom, near the entrance of which his body was found, face downward, this morning. His alarm, caused by the fire, had probably been followed by a nervous collapse. The sad event gave a shock to the community, and following so closely upon the unexpected death of his niece, Mrs. Frederick Ings, adds a double sorrow to the members of one of our most respected families. Mr. Dodd was a native of England, and a son of the late Captain Simon Dodd, of this city. In early manhood, he was for several years a clerk in the office of Sir Samuel Cunard, at Halifax. Afterwards, he returned to Prince Edward Island and began a mercantile business in Bedeque, which he subsequently relinquished to come to Charlottetown. He was an upright citizen, a man of strong character and decided opinions.

THE DRUMMOND ENQUIRY.

COMMITTEES of the Senate and House of Commons were engaged, from time to time, throughout a large part of the late session in hearing evidence with reference to the arrangements arrived at by the Drummond County Railway and the Grand Trunk Railway on the one hand and the Dominion Government on the other for the purpose of securing an extension of the Intercolonial Railway to Montreal. Towards the end of the session three reports were submitted, viz., a majority report of House of Commons Committee, prepared by Mr. Lister, a minority report of the same committee prepared by Mr. Powell, and a report of the Senate committee prepared by Hon. D. Ferguson. The latter is the shortest and most succinct of the three, and from it we quote the following conclusions drawn from the evidence and exhibiting clearly, to those who care to note them, the modifications in the bargains and the saving to the country resulting from the action of the Senate last year:

1. That the action taken by the Senate on the 23rd June, 1897, in deferring for three months the second reading of the Bill from the House of Commons, then before the Senate (No. 145) instituted: "An Act to confirm certain agreements entered into by Her Majesty with the Grand Trunk Railway Company and the Drummond County Railway Company, for the purpose of securing the extension of the Intercolonial Railway system to the City of Montreal," has been fully justified.
2. That in consequence of the modifications effected by the terms of the agreement now laid on the Table of Parliament, as compared with the terms of the agreement which the said Bill proposed to confirm, a large and unwarrantable expenditure of public funds has been averted.
3. That in respect of the contract now proposed to be made with the Drummond County Railway Company for the acquisition of their road by the Government, and also in respect of the latter agreement with the Grand Trunk Railway Company for access by the Intercolonial Railway to Montreal, important changes are made in the public interest.
4. That in the case of the Drummond County Railway, the evidence shows that the recent agreement enables the Government to acquire the said railway fully completed, and with its general standard improved, for the sum of $1,600,000; while under the terms of the agreement in the Bill of 1897, the consideration was $64,000 annually in semi-annual payments for ninety nine years, which from the evidence is shown to be equal, at 2½ per cent (the rate on the last Canadian loan) to $2,091,541.
5. That in respect of the before mentioned agreement with the Grand Trunk Railway Company, the evidence shows that the following modifications have been effected for the purpose of making the proposed rental of the company's lines and terminals acceptable to the Parliament of Canada:
 - (a) The cost of improvements of the leased lines and terminals is to be borne proportionately to the actual wheelage use of the same by the Government and the company, instead of the cost of such improvements being borne in equal parts as by the agreement of 1897.
 - (b) The Government may defray its proportion of the cost of such improvements by paying interest thereon at the rate of 4 per cent instead of 6 per cent as provided by the agreement of 1897, or, what is still more favorable, by cash payment of the principal amount.
 - (c) The company is required by the later agreement, to deliver to the Intercolonial Railway at Montreal all traffic from the west, bound for points on the Intercolonial Railway, instead of at Levis, as by the agreement of 1897.
 - (d) The Government is to have the right to run local trains on the leased line from Montreal to Ste. Rosalie instead of through trains only as by the agreement of 1897.

6. That the order of reference does not call for any opinion as to whether the considerations expressed in the agreements of the present year are just and reasonable, or whether it is in the general interest of Canada that the Intercolonial Railway should be extended from Levis to Montreal.

It will thus be seen that the changes effected are materially favorable to the country, and that the thanks of the country are due the Senate. Whether or not the country or the government will gain by the extension of the Intercolonial into Montreal, even under the improved conditions, remains to be seen.

THOSE $300,000.

The Senate has prevented the grant of $300,000 to the Liberal Government of Manitoba on the eve of the Provincial elections; and great is the wrath of the Liberal journals. These declare that the Senate has nothing to do with money grants, and that the Senate ought to let the Government and the majority in the House of Commons "run the country" at their own sweet will. They forget that this is not an ordinary money grant, but the breaking-in upon a fund held in trust by the Dominion of Canada for the benefit of the schools of Manitoba. Has there been a demand on the part of the people of Manitoba for the distribution of this fund among the politicians of the Greenway administration? Was the matter discussed or decided at any election? If not, the Senate brake was properly applied at the right time. The Senate is the constitutional means appointed for preventing hasty legislation and enabling the people to decide upon questions that affect themselves. It is possible that the people of Manitoba would rather receive annually the interest of these $300,000 than the lump sum in an election year. They ought to have an opportunity to consider the matter; and the Senate has given them one. The Senate has an important duty to fulfil; and we are pleased to note that the Senators are, like the Auditor-General, fulfilling it. The pity is that a reckless, extravagant and most unscrupulous Government, intent on party triumph at the expense of the country, has made it necessary for the Auditor-General and the Senate to exert their powers so frequently.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

—The bishop of Hereford, speaking at a meeting, against gambling and betting, said there were three evils in the English life which worked untold ruin, and one was drunkenness, another was greed by betting and gambling, and the third immortality. Those were sister evils, and often went together. The vice of betting and gambling pervaded society from the highest ranks to the lowest, and they wanted to change all this. That was one reason why they were met together. Another reason was that they wished to preserve their English sports from the demoralization and debasement caused by this vice. He challenged anyone to point out any good element in the spirit of betting and gambling. Having referred to recent law actions, he asked them not to think that the law on the point was settled. There were many things Parliament might do on the subject that would be to their credit. They might make it illegal for betting odds to be published in newspapers. Then, again, magistrates could do a great deal by using the power in their hands. He held that municipalities might do much by having nothing to do in the present state of things with race courses. They should all do their best to divorce legitimate sport from gambling. Cock-fighting, bull-bating, etc., were once countenanced, yet those things had gone out of decent society through the influence of such people as his hearers, and he thence asked: "Why should they not cherish the hope of living to see the same thing happened with regard to betting and gambling and sport?" Gambling he describes as a morbid form of selfishness.

ESTEEMED EXCHANGES.

Mail and Empire: Sir W. Laurier's "sunny ways, turn out to be closely associated with shady transactions.

Montreal Gazette: It was one of the longest sessions on record and the work done was about the least worthy of note on record. The expenditure authorized was the highest on record, and the prospective good about the smallest on record. The Liberal incapacity to govern will stand out right through it.

Mail and Empire: Sir Louis Davies has dismissed a lighthouse-keeper—salary $80 a year—because his brother was a Conservative. Sir Louis will permit no partisanship in the lighthouses, not even partisanship by a brother. On the other hand, Mr. Sifton—beg pardon, St. Sifton—has appointed Sir Louis's brother, an American citizen, immigration agent at St. Paul—salary $1,500. So that while the $80 brother of one partisan has been thrown out, the $1,500 brother of another has been brought in.

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS AGAIN.

Conductor Hogg tells The Story of His Rescue from Diabetes.

TORONTO, June 13—(Special) Mr. H. Hogg, the well known and popular street railway conductor (No. 107) who has been cured of a very severe case of Diabetes, by Dodd's Kidney Pills, has written as follows to Dodd's Medicine Co., Limited.

"My sufferings extended over a period of three years, and grew worse every day. I could get nothing to cure Diabetes, nor to purify my blood. Finally, the dizziness so overpowered me, and I grew so emaciated and weak, that I had to quit work.

"A friend advised me to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. I laughed at him, for I had tried so many remedies, only to be disappointed that I had lost hope. However I did try Dodd's Kidney Pills. Thank God, six boxes cured me entirely."

Every new experience of trial to the Christian believer brings a new experience of grace. If he were without the special trial, he would have to be without the special grace to meet it. As "God does not give dying grace to live by," so God does not give the richest proofs of His sustaining love until there is uttermost need of it. His strength is made complete in weakness. Without the weakness there could never be the Divine ministry to the weak one.

REMARKABLE SHOOTING.

Killing Four Caribous Out of Five at Long Distances.

A party of four of us left Bath for the upper part of Maine for a four days' hunting trip. There was one man among us, Orderly Sergeant Richardson, U. S. A., at Port Popham, Me., still in the service. On the third morning three of us—the sergeant, another and myself—left camp together in search of game, the snow falling thick, but calm; no wind. We had not gone more than a mile from camp when we saw on the next ridge (a hillside) five caribous standing in such an open place that it was almost impossible to get nearer to them without being seen. After a wait of some time for them to change their position, that we might advance and get a shot of more certainty, our silence was broken by the sergeant's remark that he had killed deer as far away as that, and thought he could kill one of these.

We all agreed to let him take a shot and estimated the distance at 600 yards. When he got in his position, which he calls the Texas grip, and selecting the one on the right told us to look out for him, at the crack of his rifle, to my great surprise, down came the animal with his back broken. The others, being bewildered, ran in a circle like, coming to a standstill somewhat nearer to us—all hands estimated 450 yards. Again he selected the one on the right, and at the crack of the gun again the animal dropped, shot through the heart. The other three leaped off in another direction, as we estimated, 600 yards. Then the sergeant adjusted his sights to that distance, and to my great surprise he killed the third one. The other two separated and one of them came back near to the first one that was shot, when he stood broadside to us, and the sergeant fired, but shot low and broke both front legs just above the knee. After a little skirmishing about in the brush we found him, and one more shot from the old Springfield rifle, with the sergeant behind it, gave us four out of five caribous and only five shots fired, and by only one man at that. We went into camp with flying colors and were the center of attraction that evening.

One of the party inquired of the sergeant where he had obtained such proficiency in marksmanship, when he pulled his coat open and exhibited a splendid gold badge from the army, a distinguished marksman's medal, won by him in 1889 in the division competition of the army, department of the east. Our party were on this hunt for several days and killed six deer, two elks and four caribous, of which Sergeant Richardson killed four caribous, three deer and one elk, and he killed them all over 800 yards, except one deer, which he shot on the run and about 150 yards' distance, breaking its neck.—J. S. Jones, U. S. A., Retired, in Army and Navy Journal.

I have been frequently told that "Dry Goodmen" try to persuade buyers from inspecting my goods.

It is easy to guess why they do this—and I sincerely hope they will continue in that course, for it only tends to make the shrewd buyer so much eager to know what I am selling at low prices.

I employ no salesmen, sell only to gilt edge buyers, and my only terms are cash. Housekeepers will find it to their advantage to inspect my wrappers and skirts. See the widely known "King Diamond Skirts" at such a low figure.

Buyers will save shoe walking and money by trading with me.
