When Stevenson arrived here to begin talks with State Sec- retary Dulles on U.S. planning for next month's NATO summit meeting he was described by state department officials as being well motivated and well in- formed.

In a speech in Chicago Wed- nesday night, however, Dulles said Stevenson would be on the government payroll for a long, long time and went on to explain that an important consultant — such as Dulles himself was under the Truman Democratic adminis- tration — draws about $50 a day.

It was this remark by Dulles which led to the state depart- ment disclosure that Stevenson actually had taken the oath Wed- nesday as a consultant to Pres- ident Eisenhower although he technically is on the payroll of the state department.

Advocates U.K. Change View Of Canadian Goods

By FORBES RHUDE

Canadian Press Business Editor TORONTO (CP)—Some British attitudes towards Canadian manufactured goods create an "intolerable situation," R. B. Spiro of Toronto said Thursday in an address to the Canadian Exporters' Association.

Mr. Spiro, director of the international division of Coleman Lamp and Stove Co. Ltd., referred to Britain's "taken import quota" as a major obstacle.

Under this scheme started in 1961, Canadian manufacturers export to Britain percent of the amount sold there in the years 1956-1958—percentages which have ranged from 20 per cent to 40 and a current 30 per cent.

The scheme, supposed to allow in about $100,000 worth of Canadian goods in 50 categories, allowed in about half that, Mr. Spiro said.

SEES SALES PARADOX

Mr. Spiro said it was paradoxical that Canadian enterprises should have to go to Britain in order to induce British exporting manufacturers to sell more in Canada.

Nevertheless, because it was vital to Canada to reduce imports from the United States and increase imports from Commonwealth countries, the current Canadian trade delegation to Britain should be supported.
