

The True Object in Life.

Do you ever wonder why there are so many damaged looking men and women? Every day you meet dozens of elderly people in whose face there is no clear intelligence—their features wooden or animalish, their eyes muddy false. Yet they were once bright and young as you are; they were visited as you are, by rays of the true light; they heard, as you do, the soft call of truth and duty; they dreamed, as you dream, of great and good things to come. And they had moments of serious thought and high resolve. Their friends thought them promising; they stepped forth into life with careless confidence. All these damaged old people are so many once young people who have failed. What are the causes of failure? Possibly some of them are victims of blighting misfortune or injustice; possibly some of them passed through their early years with adequate guidance, wise instruction, or kindly encouragement. But multitudes have failed from unfaithfulness to themselves; from an indolent moral habit—a habit of not heeding the gentle admonitions of reason and conscience; from a neglect of every day advantages—always from some inward defect.

Nothing is secure until we are established in right habits, rooted and grounded in heavenly principles. We want to become fixed and unchangeably good. This comes from making the love of God, which is identical with the love of God, the supreme and controlling law, the central interest and the fountain of motives. We shall do better than keep ourselves decent; we shall be purer and truer than the world asks us to be; we shall require of ourselves a higher standard than our best friend expect. We shall be continually transformed by the renewing of our minds. You may have read the legend of Basile, the good monk, who was sent to hell, but no fire could burn him and no evil spirit could torment him, because he carried heaven with him.

This story hints the true object of his life; the secret of peace and mind amid all trials and losses; the secret also of moral safety amid all temptations and exposures. The main question is not "What is to become of us?" but "What are we to become?" Nor is the answer difficult. We need not wrestle painfully with questions of doctrine, nor wait to construct creed. If we are simply faithful—if we follow the light that God gives, if we are humble enough to learn from all sources, and yet firmly true to reason and conscience—we cannot miss the road; we shall move toward our true place in the universe. We shall be safe and sound wherever we are, "in this world, that one, and this vast forever."

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral.

No other complaints are so insidious in their attack as those affecting the throat and lungs; none so trifled with by the majority of sufferers. The ordinary cough or cold, resulting perhaps from a trifling or unseasonable exposure, is often but the beginning of a fatal sickness. AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has well proven its efficacy in a forty years' fight with throat and lung diseases, and should be taken in all cases without delay.

A Terrible Cough Cured. "In 1851 I took a severe cold, which affected my lungs. I had a terrible cough, and passed night after night without sleep. The doctors gave me up. I tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, which relieved my lungs, induced sleep, and afforded me the rest necessary for the recovery of my strength. By the continued use of the PECTORAL, a permanent cure was effected. I am now 62 years old, hale and hearty, and am satisfied your CHERRY PECTORAL saved me. HORACE FAIRBROTHER, Rockingham, N. H., July 15, 1882.

Croup.—A Mother's Tribute. "While in the country last winter my little boy, three years old, was taken ill with croup. It seemed as if he would die from strangulation. One of the family suggested the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, a bottle of which was always kept in the house. This was tried in small and frequent doses, and to our delight in less than half an hour the little patient was breathing easily. The doctor said that the CHERRY PECTORAL had saved my darling's life. Can you wonder at our gratitude? Sincerely yours, MRS. EMMA GENDRY, 159 West 128th St., New York, May 16, 1882.

"I have used AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL in my family for several years, and do not hesitate to pronounce it the most effective remedy for coughs and colds we have ever tried. A. J. CRANE, Lake Crystal, Minn., March 13, 1882.

"I suffered for many years from Bronchitis, and after trying many remedies with no success, I was cured by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. JOSEPH WALDEN, Byhalia, Miss., April 5, 1882.

"I cannot say enough in praise of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, believing as I do that but for its use I should long since have died from lung troubles. E. BRADON, Palestine, Texas, April 22, 1882.

No case of an affection of the throat or lungs exists which cannot be greatly relieved by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, and it will always cure when the disease is not already beyond the control of medicine.
