

Strasser Says Fight Wonderful

By GERALD FREEMAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

PARADISE, N.S. (CP) — Stocky, bald Otto Strasser—who fled Hitler in 1932—says "fight is wonderful. Tension is wonderful."

The "tonic effect" of tension is one of the pet theories of the man who helped Hitler and Nazism to power in Europe's troubled 1920s.

Strasser is awaiting the passport that will take him back to Germany. His citizenship, revoked by Hitler in 1932, has been restored and the German consulate in Montreal is awaiting documents from Bonn before issuing the passport.

"God made us different," said Strasser in the interview.

hard it is to grow up. I say, for God's sake, laugh!"

OBEDY OWN ADVISE

Strasser has a deep booming guffaw himself and obeys his own advice. He never stays serious long. Even when he is expounding his deeper philosophical principles he does it with a good natured grin.

Except, that is, when the subject is that passport.

"Red tape, red tape, red tape!" he roars, leaping from his comfortable easy chair, storming in the paper-strewn office-living room that the telephone made consulates obsolete. "Now consuls are nothing but office boys."

HARMONIZE TENSION

"There is tension between us. Don't eliminate that tension—harmonize it. We want different tunes. Be a real man, a real woman, a scientist, a doctor, German, Jew, Canadian—but be real. This is the new idea!"

He criticizes the recent appeal for peace by President Eisenhower. "Peace is nothing. If Eisenhower wants peace let him shoot himself. Peace is in Heaven—no—even there complete peace would be terrible."

"I bet Ike fights with Maimé."

FUTURE IS AFRICA

But there's one fight Strasser says he wants to dodge. "My idea is to keep Europe out of a war between the United States and Russia. Our future is Africa."

Standing before a big map of the world he says each heavily-populated industrial area of the world has a vast area rich in raw materials to develop.

"Russia has Siberia; Europe, Africa; the United States, South America; Britain, Canada and Australia."

He'd like to see Japan's millions emigrate to sparsely-settled islands like New Guinea.

"The tension would then be coordinated."

LOVES TO TALK

Strasser loves to talk. The English he picked up during his stay here pours out in a cascade of vividly-expressed thoughts.

He's a hefty, vigorous 50-year-old exuding energy and enthusiasm. Ideas swim about his head like fish in an aquarium.

The biggest one is his goal of becoming West Germany's new leader.

Strasser drives himself all day, naps after dinner until 10 p.m. Then he sees visitors or works until 3 a.m. He's a fairly late morning riser. His hours contrast with the early-to-bed routine of the rest of Paradise.

OBSESSED BY FEAR

His brother Bernard, a Roman Catholic Benedictine monk now teaching in Primrose, Neb., and some followers, contribute to his upkeep.

"We're on the eve of a very joyous world," the joyous German predicts. "But now, people are obsessed by fear. They have no joy. They do not laugh, love, pray, swear, drink, sing enough. All grave seriousness—everybody's afraid of the atom bomb. It is idiotic. Death by an atom bomb would be an ideal one."

"People should eat and drink and kiss, not worry. Even literature is all doom—so many books about mental sickness, hospitals, how move failed to pay off.

The Senators joined the Quebec Senior Hockey League in 1934-35 after dropping out of the NHL. The QSHL last year became the QHL and took on full professional status.

BLAME TELEVISION

The Senators have a working agreement with Toronto Maple Leafs but it is television of the Leafs' games that Gorman blames for taking away fans from QHL games.

Ottawa was the only club in the QHL from outside Quebec province. Other teams are Chicoutimi, Montreal, Valleyfield, Shawinigan Falls and Quebec. The Senators were tied for fourth place with Chicoutimi in the standings when they dropped out.

Gorman gave league officials figures to back up his argument that television is cutting into gate receipts. In 1952-53, he said, the Senators grossed $44,300 for their first 10 games. Last season, when television made its debut in Ottawa, attendance dropped to $27,982 for the first 10 games.

LOW GATE

This year the team has drawn only $15,621 for its first 10 games on home ice, Gorman said.

All Toronto Saturday night games are televised into the Ottawa area, Gorman said, and about 20 miles outside the city viewers can also pick up the Montreal Canadiens home games.

Warm Weather On Prairies

WINNIPEG (CP)—Two record-high temperatures were broken and others threatened as western Canada and holiday shoppers Monday continued to jostle their way in Chinook-like weather through crowded downtown streets in various cities.

The unseasonal banana-belt weather is forecast to continue indefinitely.

Calgary last week recorded a high of 54, topping the old mark of 53 set in 1910. Sunday at Regina it hit 44, breaking the old mark of 40 registered in 1936. A huge air mass from the Pacific continues to raise temperatures across the Prairies.

While the Tuesday forecast for Ottawa, Montreal and Quebec City is 10 below, temperatures in the west will continue to hold in the high 30s and 40s.

Mystery Woman Out of Prison

FRANCE (Reuters)—Magda Fontange, 37-year-old mystery woman who claimed to have been a girl friend of Benito Mussolini, was released from prison here Monday after serving seven years of a 15-year sentence for aiding the Nazi secret police.

The dark-haired woman, whose real name is Madeleine Caraboeuf, was sentenced in 1947 for working for the Gestapo during the Nazi occupation of France under the code name of "Helen, Number 8006 I.C."

Magda first gained notoriety in 1937 when she shot and seriously wounded the Count of Chambrun, then French ambassador to Italy, claiming that the count "made me lose the love of a man who is so famous that I dare not mention his name." A search of her apartment turned up 300 photographs of Mussolini.

Later the same year, she was deported from the United States.

close to blotting it out at the 2-minute mark as he raced in on Shirley on a pass from centre Sherman White. It didn't take long for Schmidt to even matters as he fed a scoring pass from the corner to coach Lou Kiley at the blue line. Kiley beat Shirley on a low screened shot.

The Islanders continued to press and banged two behind Tremblay within 37 seconds. The first, Wimpy Jones scored on a nice passing play with Wally Kullman and Ray Leduc. The second, Copper Leyte counted as he bounced the puck in from behind the net, off Tremblay's stick.

The Islanders play their last regular game of the week in Amherst tonight. Wednesday night they play in the Dartmouth Arena against an All-Star team from that vicinity. Both Palladino and Hinchberger will play in that game.

Relief Drive Short of Goal

OTTAWA (CP)—The Unitarian service committee's campaign for $110,000 is $40,000 short of its objective, Dr. Lotta Hitechmanova, executive director of the committee, said Monday.

The committee, a voluntary relief organization, launched the appeal in September, expecting to have the money by Christmas. A special Christmas appeal for Operation Codfish, its main project for the coming year, is now under way, she said.

Operation Codfish is expected to provide $50,000 worth of Canadian codfish for Korean orphans, beginning next May. A dollar's worth of codfish will feed one Korean child for two months.

The remaining $60,000 will be used for powdered milk for Korean babies, sewing machines for the rehabilitation of Korean war widows, jeep ambulances for India, relief of last year's Greek earthquake victims, and the committee's European orphanages.

The appeal will continue until the objective is reached, Dr. Hitechmanova said.

Toronto Has Chilly Weather

TORONTO (CP)—Toronto, the heart of southern Ontario's so-called banana belt, had the pre-Christmas shivers Monday when the temperature fell to 10 degrees. Florida, too, was in the chilly zone with Tampa recording a 35-degree reading.

Eastern Canada generally—unlike the west where balmy breezes sent the temperature as high as 60 at Lethbridge—was under winter's grasp.

Earlier in northwestern Ontario hit 10 below zero. Toronto, Hamilton and London read 10 above. Montreal was the same.

In Ottawa, digging itself out from under a 10-inch weekend snowfall, the temperature was one degree below zero.

Tucson, Arizona, incidentally, had a high of 72 Monday.

Search For Girl's Parents Fruitless

EDMUNDSTON, N. B. (CP)—Widespread search for the parents of a young girl, abandoned here more than two months ago, has been fruitless.

The child, about four years old, calls herself Nancy. A woman, believed the mother, left the girl with a local housewife in mid-October. She said she intended to get work picking potatoes and promised to pay for Nancy's board. The woman disappeared after covering her trail with a bogus New Glasgow, N.S., address.

Nancy has been made a ward of the Children's Aid Society and appears happy in her foster home.

Search for someone who knows her was not confined to eastern Canada. As she speaks with a trace of English accent, Police Chief Raymond Duguay also sought the aid of Scotland Yard but all efforts have been unsuccessful.

Hope To Double Fish Catch

GRINDSTONE, Magdalen Islands (CP)—The American fishing company which does most of the in-shore cod fishing off these Gulf of St. Lawrence islands will try to double its catch next year.

Late estimates place the 1954 cod catch at about 7,000,000 pounds which were shipped to the Gorton Pew Co., of Gloucester, Mass. The company expects to have six or seven draggers operating next year and aims at a season catch of more than 12,000,000 pounds.

Judge Dismisses Manslaughter Case

WELLINGTON, N. Z. (Reuters)—A judge today dismissed a charge of manslaughter against Mrs. Muriel Beattie Fullerton-Smith, whose parked car rolled down a hill here Nov. 5 and dragged a woman bystander into a huge bonfire.

Mrs. Fullerton-Smith said she and friends sat in the car on a hillside overlooking the fire for half an hour, then got out, leaving it in neutral gear with the brake on. Judge S. S. Preston said she appeared to have taken all reasonable precautions.

A witness who saw the car begin to move said she tried to stop it but it was moving too quickly. She shouted a warning but the car struck a boy, then hit Mrs. Joan Ellis, a school teacher, and carried her into the fire to her death.
