THE Clan Campbell are rallying at Montreal for a grand reception to the Marquis of Lorne.

FOR the benefit of our city sportsmen we may state that "Morell River is actually black with wild geese and ducks."

MR. GEORGE PERLEY has filed a petition at Fredericton against the return of Charles Burpee, for Sunbury, New Brunswick.

IT is authoritatively contradicted that Senator Campbell refused the Receiver-Generalship. He is recovering and will accept a seat in the Cabinet.

THE Supreme Court will complete the Michaelmas sitting in this city to-morrow. All the cases on the docket will, we learn, be finally disposed of.

A SEDUCTION case was disposed of by Theoph. DesBrisay, Esq., at noon to-day. The plaintiff and defendant at present reside in the city. The latter was fined the amount specified in the Act.

THE prize shooting match between Matthew Allan and James Dover, at Kensington, yesterday, resulted as follows:—
 200 yd. 400 yd. 500 yd. 600 yd. Total
 Dover, 28 29 26 19 102
 Allan, 31 30 20 23 104
 Highest possible score, 140 points.

A YOUNG LAD named Joseph Gillis, of Pisquid, was, on Wednesday, wounded—it is believed fatally—by the accidental discharge of a revolver in the hands of his uncle. The ball entered the abdomen and is supposed to be lodged in the spine. He is suffering very much, and the doctors can do nothing to relieve him.

THERE was a decline of attendance in the upper department of the Market to-day. Prices, however, remain unchanged. There was also a falling off in the sale of potatoes, prices being: Blues, 36 cents per bushel; Whites, 42 cents; and Roses very scarce at from 50 to 52 cents. Oats are selling at 30 cents for 34 lbs, and hay from 45 to 50 cts per 100 lbs.

"HALLOWEEN" was generally observed in this city by private parties. On the streets crowds of gamins marched to and fro seeking places to vent their villainy. It is needless to say that the plucked kail stocks were by them misused. Beating doors, displacing doorsteps, removing gates were general—and every part of the city suffered more or less. Mr. J. G. Eckstadt, surgeon chiropodist, lost a valuable office sign, information of which he would be glad to receive.

IT is nothing uncommon to hear of children being born on shipboard, and instances have been known of infants coming into the world within the walls of a theatre, in a church, in a railway car, a cab, or even an omnibus; but a child was recently actually and literally born "up in a balloon." A young married woman made an ascent in the captive balloon at the Paris Exhibition, and while in the air was taken ill. With the assistance of a doctor who happened to be a passenger in the balloon, the lady, whose husband is the son of a leading Manchester manufacturer, was safely delivered of a fine boy before the air ship touched the ground. The happy father presented the doctor with 500 francs.

IT is rumored that Miss Esther Cox, the principal actor in the Amherst mystery, has removed from Amherst and is now in Sackville. It is also said that she is not now troubled in any way, and that the "spirit," or whatever it is that has been kicking up all the rumpus, has informed her that as long as she remains away from Amherst she will not be troubled further. The "Times" says whether the latter statement be true or not, we do not say, but is certain that Miss Cox is now, or was lately in Sackville, as a Moncton gentleman has asserted that he seen her there. The interest in this matter is quite general, and further developments will be awaited with some interest.

A diver was engaged on Tuesday last to search for the bodies of the women who were drowned by the sinking of the coal laden boat off Cape Bear on the Thursday previous. The King's County Advertiser says:—"He went under and searched the cabin, but neither of the bodies could be found. A few bundles of clothing were the only traces of them that remained. The exaggerated statements of the two men have elicited a good deal of adverse criticism, which is not lessened by the fact that they came ashore in a medium-sized dory that would conveniently carry six or eight persons. We learn that a number of men are at work to-day grappling for the bodies of the missing women."

A TELEGRAM to the morning papers announces that "a large quantity of American obscene literature was confiscated on Saturday by the authorities in Ottawa." Would it not be well if the authorities took equal pains to confiscate the home article, says the Halifax Reporter: "There's the Mayflower, for instance, the organ of Free Love and Free Smut; which Messrs. Jones, Boak, Hill, and others, circulated so freely through this county and Province during the last election—an obscene production which has done more harm to the morals of this city than all the religious journals have done good during the last five years; familiarizing, as it has, the young with subjects, the study of which may very well be postponed till a more advanced period in life; supplying brothel-house gossip and dirty innuendo for girls who cannot but be contaminated by the perusal; and shaking faith in good old institutions like marriage, advocating in its stead that miserable spawn of the devil called Free Love. Ought not the authorities to confiscate the home article as well as the foreign?"

Stipendiary Magistrate's Court.

John McFayden appeared at the Stipendiary Magistrate's Court this forenoon, having been arrested for sitting on a doorstep on King Street, in a state of advanced intoxication; he was fined $2 and costs or eight days.

Joseph McDonald appeared on a warrant. He was one of a gang of rough fellows who violently assaulted Mr. A. Simms, on Prince Street, on Wednesday night. Mr. Simms states that a few nights ago he ejected a number of those fellows from the Reform Club Rooms for being intoxicated and creating a disturbance; leaving they threatened him with violence. On Wednesday he was attacked by five fellows at the door of Mr. R. Wright, on Prince Street. He fought desperately to get clear, but at length received a blow on the side of the head which felled him to the ground. Mr. Simms then shouted lustily for help, and the rascals fled. The names of the others who were engaged in the attack were handed in, and the case stands over till they be arrested. McDonald was admitted to bail.

The assault case of Gillis vs. McDonald was brought to a close—the witness McDonald appearing. He stated that, at the corner of Queen and Richmond Streets, at 12 o'clock on Thursday night, he saw the plaintiff and defendant, each holding an arm of the young lady, and wrangling as to who should see her home. She, in his opinion, did not wish to go with either. He stepped up and said he would see her home, and she, arousing her previously trampled gracefulness, complied. He did not see any blows, but saw Gillis' nose bleeding. Another unimportant witness was examined. The Magistrate said it was the most important assault case he had for a long time. Both appeared to be in fault; however, he thought McMahon went too far, and he fined him fifty cents and costs.
