

United Baptists Ass'n Meets At N. Milton

Leading the opening devotional period at yesterday's meeting of the P.E.I. United Baptist Association, held in the Fairview Baptist Church, North Milton, Rev. Carl Farmer, interim minister at the Fairview Baptist Church, Charlottetown, stated, "It is easier to be a Christian in church, than it is at home or at work."

In the afternoon sessions, the men met at the home of Preston Neil, North Milton, and the women met at the church, Charles Westford, Saint John, N.B. The evening session consisted of a song service, conducted by Rev. Ross A. Howard, P.E.I. Hospital chaplain and the scriptures were read by Donald Holmes, Kingston. The prayers were led by Charles S. Scramon, while the solist was Mrs. H. L. Estabrooks.

A missionary address was given by Rev. Perry Allaby, who took as his text "We must never lose sight of the centrality of the Cross." Special music was rendered by the Fairview Baptist choir.

Police Chief Donald Wainmaker who made the arrest, leaving the police jacket of the chief in the struggle.

Local Artist To Have Show

A one-man show of paintings by H. Barry Bugden is scheduled to open next Monday at Montgomery Hall in Charlottetown.

More than 50 oil paintings will be included in the exhibition, which is the second one in a show of Mr. Bugden's work to be seen in the city.

The first exhibition was shown two years ago, when the artist received a Canada Council grant to study abroad. This new show is representative of Mr. Bugden's work since that time, and includes many paintings done in London, Paris and Madrid.

The public is invited to attend the showing which will be open afternoons and evenings, the first four days of next week.
