He later resumed the position of president which he retained until his death in April of this year.

Baseball, Other Team Sports Banned On City Squares

Teenagers who have been using the City Squares to play baseball, football, or other team sports, in future will have to look elsewhere for a playing field.

At Monday night's regular meeting of the City Council, Chief McArthur was instructed to have the police force put a stop to such illegal practices.

In bringing the matter to the attention of the civic administrative body, Councillor Gaudet noted that the practice had destroyed the grass on parts of certain squares and turned them into red sandy areas that churned up dust storms at the slightest provocation.

Older citizens accustomed to use these public areas as places to rest and enjoy the air could no longer do so, he said, due to the noise and constant danger posed by the teams at play.

LARGE SUMS EXPECTED

The Deputy-Mayor called that large sums had been expended to construct playing areas in Victoria Park and other sections of the City.

"It's time we declared ball 'taboo' on our City Squares," he added.

City Recorder K. M. Martin stated that, if his recollection of the matter was correct, one part of Connaught Square had been allowed to the Playground Commission, and only "very young children" were permitted to play on the other squares.

Councillor Foster remarked that the former Council had issued instructions prohibiting older children from using the squares for games.

New City Council Members Are Welcomed At Meeting

Members of Charlottetown's City Council welcomed to their regular monthly meeting Monday evening Councillors J. Edmond Arsenault and Elmer MacRae, the recently elected representatives of Ward Six, the former village of Spring Park, citizens of which voted earlier this year in favor of amalgamation with the City.

In maiden speeches in the Council chamber each expressed his appreciation for the confidence reposed in him by the electors of Ward Six.

Councillor Arsenault stated that he was proud to have been so closely associated with the municipal growth of the Spring Park district and expressed the view that the citizens of that area would "never regret" their decision to amalgamate.

In addition to being appointed chairman of the newly-constituted Water and Sewerage committee, the former Chief Commissioner of the Village of Spring Park was named a member of the Finance Light and Welfare Committees.

Councillor MacRae was appointed a member of the Streets, Public Property, Tender and Public Relations Committees, and at the request of Councillor A.J. Haslam, was named second City representative on the Town Planning Committee.

Mr. Arsenault is Island distributor for a well-known Ontario farm implement and insecticide manufacturer, while Mr. MacRae operates a popular downtown automotive repair and accessory shop.

Winnipeg Prelate Will Open Rally

The Community Centre, Charlottetown, will be the scene of a Vocation Tridium this Friday, Saturday and Sunday, June 13, 14 and 15.

Honouring the rally by his presence and delivering the opening address on Friday night at 7 o'clock will be Most Reverend P. F. Pooock, D.D., S.T.D. Archbishop of Winnipeg.

Other speakers during these special three days will be Right Reverend G.J. McLellan, V. G. Summerside, Rev. Leo J. Rolls C.S.R., Saint John, N.B., and Rev. Michael MacIsaac, C. Ss. Fleet, R.C. (rid). Prior to the opening on Friday evening at the Community Centre, Mass will be celebrated at the Church of the Most Holy Redeemer at 6.30 p.m.

In addition to the guest speakers each evening those who attend this outstanding religious activity will have the opportunity of hearing a panel discussion, seeing vocation movies and visiting a wide assortment of vocational booths.

Each panel discussion will have as its theme, "The home is the nursery of vocations" and should prove most enlightening and educational.

A large portion of the Catholic population of the province has been contacted and will send representatives to the Community Centre for these three days of religious activity.

Those responsible for the rally point out that the world has been thrilled by the deeds of a Florence Nightingale on the battle fields of suffering and by the heroism of a Winston Churchill urging the release of the captive cities of Europe. They will endeavour in this vocation rally to inspire young men and women to follow such examples. Every effort will be made to instill in them the high ideals of Christ, in relieving physical suffering at home and on the foreign mission fields; to retain the Christian principles of life at home and to cause it to flourish in pagan countries; to inspire them for such a great cause to leave home, give up secular careers in the world and give their all for love of others.

The promoters of the Vocation Rally want the young men and women to dedicate their lives to the spiritual upbringing of their neighbor, to consecrate themselves to the healing of physical and moral illnesses; to bring the lessons of Christianity to the foreign missions, and while helping the soul to minister to the body also.

For this purpose boys and girls will be dressed in the garb of various religious groups who perform these services and bind themselves by the vows of poverty, chastity and obedience to help them carry them out. Literature about the various corporal and spiritual works of mercy may be obtained at each booth and religious movies depicting these works of mercy in action will be shown.

On Sunday evening these boys and girls will march in procession from The Community Centre to the Church of the Most Holy Redeemer where the work of the groups they represent will be explained. Many of these boys and girls helped to make their individual garb. In addition they painted large 6-4 pictures and all the signs and posters used in the rally.

City Council Names Police Officer For Tax Collection

City Council Monday evening approved the release of Constable Bishop from Police duties for the next three months in order to assist with the collection of non-resident taxes and licences, but only following a sharp exchange between the two committee chairmen involved—Councillor Gaudet, finance; and Councillor Gormley, police.

Councillor Gormley declared that he failed to see the need for such a move, in view of the fact that the City had appointed a man to collect taxes whose salary in the first year had been increased by $1,000.

The chairman of the Police Committee stated that he had been told that in former years while on this job Constable Bishop had performed the duty alone "ninety per cent of the time."

PONDERS REASON

"I can't understand why we employ a man to collect taxes at $2,300 raise him to $3,300, and still must use a City policeman to do the dirty work," he said.

Councillor Gormley also stated that he had been told that other parties had interfered with the constable in carrying out his instructions in respect to the collection of these arrears.

"A good policeman wants no interference from anyone when carrying out his duty," he remarked.

Asked by the Mayor to name his source of information, the chairman of the police committee stated that it was Constable Bishop himself.

The police constable, who was present in the visitors section of the chamber, declared that he had labored under some such difficulty at one time but that these difficulties had been later adjusted.

NO OBJECTION

He asserted that he had no objection to resuming the collection chore this summer but added that with the enlarged City area he could not promise 100 per cent efficiency.

Councillor Gaudet denied hotly that the City Tax Collector's duties included this tax collection field.

"He was not hired for that purpose at all," the Deputy Mayor asserted, adding that the collector had plenty of work to keep him busy in collecting arrears of educational, personal and real estate taxes.

ASKS OPINION

In regard to these latter arrears, Councillor Gaudet asked the Council's attitude as to further actions to be taken against those property owners still appearing on the arrears list.

"Last fall we told the public, 'This is it! You must pay up or we will sell you out!' Now what are we going to do about it?" he queried.

Councillor Foster reminded the chairman of Finance and the other members of the Council that they were still bound by decisions of the former Council and these included the authorization of legal action to collect
