PROVINCIAL LEGISLATURE.

THURSDAY, May 4.

House met at 12.20.

Hon. Mr. Rogers presented a petition from James Warburton, Mayor, Simon Crabbe, George Wheatley, and other Councilors of the City of Charlottetown, praying for an act to amend the City of Charlottetown Incorporation Act by providing for an inspection of cattle from which the milk supply of the city is obtained. A bill in accordance with the petition was submitted and set down for second reading tomorrow.

Mr. Gordon asked the Leader of the Government to table all papers and correspondence between the Government of this Province and the Federal Government, relative to the claims of this Province against the Dominion Government.

Hon. Mr. Farquharson said the information would be brought down during the week.

Mr. Shaw asked the Commissioner of Public Works to table a statement showing in detail how the sum of $348.81 charged to the steamer Southport as shown in the Report of the Commissioner of Public Works for the year 1898 is made up, also how the sum of $4,906.64 as shown in the same Report and charged to steamer Eldon is made up, and also how the sum of $6,546.56 as shown in the same report and charged to steamer Hillsborough is made up, the nature of the work done and the material supplied and the price of material so supplied, the number of persons employed, the names of the persons so employed, the wages paid per day or month as the case may be to persons so employed and the number of days or months (as the case may be) that each person was so employed respectively, the names of the persons who furnished supplies, the supplies furnished by each person, and the amount paid for supplies to each person respectively, the requisitions issued for obtaining said supplies, the names of the persons to whom said requisitions were issued and all vouchers for the payment of said sums.

Hon. Mr. McLean said the information would be tabled as soon as it could be prepared.

Mr. Shaw asked the Attorney-General to table a statement showing in detail how the sum of $800.87, as shown by the Auditor's Report of 1898 and charged to Crown Prosecutions in Magistrates' Courts is made up, the nature of the services rendered, the amount paid to each person and the name of each person receiving such amount respectively.

Hon. Mr. Farquharson, in the absence of the Attorney-General, promised the information as soon as it could be made ready.

Mr. Birch asked the Leader of the Government to table a detailed statement of how the sum of seven hundred and fifty dollars is made up marked in the Public Accounts, delegation to Ottawa, the nature of the services rendered, the amount paid each member of the delegation and vouchers in full showing how the said amount is made up.

Hon. Mr. Farquharson said he had no information except what was contained in the Public Accounts. He was now a member of the Government at the time.

Mr. Birch asked the Commissioner of Public Works to lay on the table of this House a copy of the tenders for the Albert Wharf for the years 1892, 1893, 1894, 1895, 1896, 1897, 1898, the amounts of each tender, and a detailed statement showing the amount or amounts paid by each lease for said wharf for each year respectively.

Hon. Mr. McLean said the information asked for would be brought down as soon as possible.

Mr. Wise tabled his report as Commissioner to Great Britain.

Mr. DesRoches asked the Leader of the Government to table a detailed statement in reference to seven calves sold at Summerside on October 29th, 1898, realising $257, the names of the party who purchased each calf, the price paid for said calf, and how paid, and how the expenditure of $22.40 is made up.

Hon. Mr. Farquharson tabled the statement asked for.

House then resumed committee on the bill incorporating the Dairy Association, Mr. Reid taking the chair.

Hon. Mr. Farquharson said that in connection with one of the clauses in the bill—that relating to the duties of the inspector—he had received the following telegram from the Dairy Commissioner:—

OTTAWA, May 3
Have consulted Minister. We don't think inspector should attempt preventing exportation of any goods. His chief duty and service is to prevent manufacture of inferior goods.

Mr. Shaw believed that unless the inspector could prohibit the exportation of inferior products the effects of the bill would be lost.

Hon. Mr. Farquharson suggested a conference regarding the measure, previous to the afternoon session.

Mr. Campbell thought that the conference should be prolonged, as there was much in the bill that required careful attention.

At 1 o'clock progress was reported.

AN OLD AND WELL TRIED REMEDY.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over fifty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething, with perfect success. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Its value is incalculable. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.

FLOTSAM AND JETTAM

From Point Prim and Mount Buchanan.

SIR,—I enclose herewith my usual subscription to the Weekly Examiner for the ensuing year, from 1st inst. I do not resist the idea of having the printer or his devil fumbling about my pockets looking for what is justly his own and without which he probably cannot live. The printer's revenue is hard-earned, and should be promptly paid, without murmuring. Better do this than hurl the inkpot at his head.

Point Prim is an old-established settlement. It is no vaster than it has been. Yet it is not passing into innocuous desuetude, but on the contrary is very much alive. It is in the van of progress in agricultural and other pursuits. Dwelling houses show comfort; barns, granaries and cellars are respectively replete, indicating prosperity.

The place is made famous, according to the reminiscences of some of the oldest inhabitants, by being the birth-place of more sea captains (deep sea) to the square mile, than any other section of the Dominion, if not this side of the Atlantic; and as for coast-wise skippers and seafaring men, generally, their name is legion.

We are not sorry that the ice has at last left our shores,—no one is. The change is welcome; it is delightful in fact. But a few weeks hence and old Sol will chip in with his refulgent scorching rays, with such intensity sufficient to cremate an infuriated Chinaman. All now is blue clear water. The farmers and fishermen are all agog—the former is waiting for his lands to dry up a little, the latter is buckling on his armour for his summer's piscatorial battles. The point is girdled about with lobster factories and canneries, some of which however are in a dilapidated condition, and not long for this world.

Engaged in this crustacean industry are the McKinnons, McDonalds, McLeans, McRaes, Murchisons and many others. Their Christian names are, or may be, Jack, Johnny, John or Alec. Captain John McKinnon leads off for the fishing grounds, with a godly sized and well-equipped fleet, including the "Western Belle," (flag) himself in charge. Then comes the "Dunraven," under the skillful handling of the youthful Daniel Martin, with the hardy Archie Murchison before the mast. Other boats of this fleet are being gotten ready. Capt McKinnon has made the lobster industry a study and remunerative as well. He is as well up as an Attorney General on all fishing matters. The production of his canneries invariably command the highest prices.

The next flotilla in the order of size may be or is that of Capt John Murchison. He has a reputation to lose, is careful in his canning work, and is running neck and neck with the best, sparing neither time nor pains to maintain his good standing. There are others also engaged extensively, and running the business in well defined runs with profitable results.

That weather-beaten lighthouse of yesteryear is still in good repairs, towering above all else, and is in charge of Captain Donald Gillis, who knows his job, and what is better—does it.

The school in this section is well attended and intelligently presided over by Miss M. A. McDonald who is indefatigable and painstaking with her charge. Miss McDonald stands at the top notch of her profession, and is popular with all.

Mount Buchanan, or as it should be called Buchanan's Mount—for all the students bear that name and are as numerous as leaves in Valparaiso—is for all nothing but a show cut off Point Prim to shorten the distance to the lighthouse (Utopian idea). From the summit of the Mount (which is neither sky high or snow flat) in the summer time may be seen the beautiful clear and placid water of Orsvel Bay upon whose horizon glide along smoothly and gracefully like the white knot liner S. S. Jacques Cartier, under the command of the courteous and obliging Capt. McLean, making regular tri-weekly trips to Charlottetown and Orwell ports.

Here also is a seat of learning. Mr. A. McWilliams sways the birchen rod of authority over a well-attended school. In these days of go-ahead, when so much perfection is required of teachers, Mr. McWilliams is not at all behind the times. He is a good sound and practical education are not instilled into the minds of his classes. He is liked.

It is to be noticed that windmills are in order, and are, I am told, as indispensable to a farmer as any part of his farming gear. It is labor-saving. Sawing wood of all kinds, for all purposes. Cracking corn for horses and cattle. John Campbell and Alex. McKae have erected one each. More to follow.

The dairy business is absorbing a good deal of attention. An active interest is taken in all that belongs to this industry in all its branches. Professor Robertson has evidently made quite an impression on the farmers. When here last he gave them some all-round good and wholesome advice.

Good ground exists for saying and believing that 1899 will go down in the annals of history as one of the fat years. As a convincing proof of this one has only to step into John J. McLeod's stables, where about half a dozen stall well-fed steers may be seen, which, if they continue to improve as they are now doing, will put some of the exhibition heavy-weights to the wall. John knows how to feed to fatten up his porter-house steaks that would make the teeth of a Soudanese Sheikh titter.

Wheatley River Items

About fourteen miles distant from Charlottetown by way of the Glasgow Road is situated the thriving settlement known as Wheatley River. A few miles back the stream from which the place is named has its start. In beautiful curves and windings it finds its way to where its waters meet old ocean, Rustico Bay. On either bank the well tilled farms slope away till they seem to meet the blue above. There in peace and contentment reside as prosperous a class of farmers as may be found anywhere. On the South side we find such men as John and James McDonald, worthy sons of a worthy sire, and Matheson not a few David, Joseph, Benjamin, Charles William and Kenneth, all occupying first-class farms, and whose words are as good as their bonds.

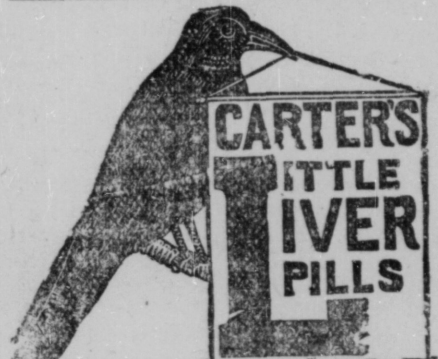

On the northern bank are located Thomas Chantler, John Ross and John McK. Esquires the latter a brother of the late and much lamented D. McKay who so long and well represented the second district in the Local Legislature. Situated in the village is the fine farm residence of Mr. Long and sons; and back of it almost as far as the eye can see stretch their immense farms some 300 acres or more monument of honest industry and unremitting toil. On the outskirts of the village stands the McMullan property undoubtedly one of the best appointed residences to be found in the country, at present it is occupied by the Rev. Henry A. Pierce, Methodist minister in charge of the Stanley and Wheatley River circuits.

Before leaving the village we cannot refrain from mentioning the worthy merchant, the genial Ewen, who, by the way is a native of West River, a place noted for the number of shrewd business men it has cradled by strict attention and square business methods. "Mac" has built up a good business in the coast trade place in the village in "River-side Villa" where, surrounded by all that wealth can procure reside Albert McKay Esq. and his amiable partner. Other prominent villagers are Mr. Herbert Andrews and Mr. James Powrie. The former as blacksmith and woodworker does an extensive business; the latter handles Mr. McKay's mails and has done so for forty years or more.

A little way towards New Glasgow, on an eminence stands the district school, where in earlier days such men as John McDonald, Elisha Roberts and the late Donald McKay labored. Immediately adjoining the school is the Methodist meeting house. In the cemetery hard by many of the pioneers of the place sleep their last long sleep. A look at the monument's discloses such names as Hickox, Barrett, Smith, Rackham, Sellar, Green, and many other men and women who have done their duty, and their works do follow them.

A half mile further along, the old McMullan property, now owned by John Rackham, J. P., comes in view. Here the Hon. Angus McMullan, grew to manhood. Close by is also the birthplace of one of P. E. Island's most brilliant sons, H. S. Grace, C. O'Brien, Archbishop of Halifax.

Before closing this sketch it may not be out of place to mention that in politics the inhabitants of Wheatley River are largely Conservative, and that THE EXAMINER circulates freely in the region round about. J. L. S.
