Continued.

"Well, what do you think of it all?" "It doesn't matter what I think, until I obeyed, feeling more serious and miserable than I had ever done in my life before. However, I might try to tell you my story. I felt sure that he would pierce to the truth. By a direct and unexpected question he ferreted out every incident, excepting that of the gloves. When I had finished he remained silent, making no comment, until Mr. Jones spoke to him. "I think I know what occurred is at the bottom of it all," answered Mr. Fenchurch, quietly.

"Do you mean to take any steps?" "Yes, of course, if one of us must go down and stay in the house, and as you are so busy, I suppose it must be I."

Mr. Jones looked disturbed and glanced at Harry. "You had better let me go now, and I'll be in a desperate tone of voice. 'There's a woman to be done and questioned and you'd come off badly in that part of the business.' "Perhaps I should," said the other. "But can you go at once?" The girl's a fool, but that's no reason why a knave should profit by her folly. The matter must be looked into immediately."

conditions

In some conditions the gain from the use of Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil is rapid. For this reason we put up a 50c. size, which is enough for an ordinary cough or cold or useful as a trial for babies and children.

In other conditions gain must be slow, sometimes almost imperceptible, health can't be built up in a day. For this Scott's Emulsion must be taken as nourishment, food rather than medicine, food prepared for tired and weak digestions.

A HEAVY MORTGAGE.

Now a prominent farmer quickly lifted it.

A mortgage was being described as an incentive to industry, a heavy mortgage, as a sign of ruin. The last is particularly true, for if a mortgage is allowed to run it will put the farm in this connection. Mr. Henry Fowler, Huron, writes: "From my boyhood scrofula had marked me for a victim and it seemed as if it had a life mortgage on my blood. I suffered fearfully with sores, and knew my condition I had remained a single man. Doctor after doctor prescribed for me, and finally a Toronto specialist told me bluntly that my complaint was a form of scrofula, pimple, running sores, rheumatism and all diseases generated by poisonous humors in the blood are cured by Scott's Sarsaparilla. The kind that cures. Sold only in concentrated form at $1 per bottle by your druggist. Dose from half to one teaspoonful.

Comparisons Dreaded.

Comparisons and tests establish certain truths, and bring to light facts that benefit a vast number of people.

Comparisons are odious and hateful to a certain class of people. The manufacturers and concoctors of the many common advertised patent medicines and pills of the present day dread and fear a fair comparison of their wanted remedies with the world's popular Pain's Celery Compound.

CHAPTER XV.

As was to be expected, it was Mr. Jones who recovered first from the shock of the woman's sudden appearance before us. I saw at once that he, a lawyer, jumped to the conclusion that the lady's errand was the high reputation of her husband. He addressed her firmly, but with the utmost courtesy.

CHAPTER XVI.

"If it is justice you are in search of, madam, you could not come to a better person than myself to get it for you. I am, as this lady will tell you, a lawyer."

"I don't want to know that," said the woman, sullenly. She seemed rather taken aback at finding herself treated with so much courtesy. I thought, and after staring intently at Mr. Jones a few moments, she dropped her eyes unseeingly, and said in a tone of subdued anger: "I don't want any fine words at all. I've been promised money, and it's money I want and must have; and will have too!" she added with an access of ferocity, as she raised her eyes, and glared first at Mr. Jones and then at me.

CHAPTER XVII.

"Mr. Jones looked at me and then cast his eyes down, as if hesitating whether she would submit to this interrogatory after all. Apparently she then made up her mind that she would not, for she crossed her arms doggedly and threw back her head. I think she was going to burst out into a passionate tirade, when Mr. Jones hastily stemmed the rising torrent.

CHAPTER XVIII.

"Remember," he said in a clear, cold voice, like the falling of water drop by drop upon a stone, "that whether or no you do your best to satisfy me now depends on the explanation you give this young lady." If passion gleamed in one of this woman's eyes, calculation certainly peeped out of the other. After a few moments' thought—

CHAPTER XIX.

"I was so much shocked at the old lawyer's words, that I hardly returned to say he was ready to stammer out an excuse as coolly as I could, and turning left him standing in the hall. He did not follow me, as I had hoped he would do. I should have thought myself incapable of feeling any more shocks that day, but as I was entering Alice's gates I started and almost fell. For there stood Egbert Lloyd. He too was implacable. I felt sure, for he knew the woman.

CHAPTER XX.

"I must speak to you, I must. I am almost mad."

Indeed he looked it. I turned back into the road with him to hear what he had to say for himself.

CHAPTER XXI.

"You must tell Alice that I insist on seeing her," he said, with a savagery which almost frightened me.

"She is bound by every tie of common honor to marry me. She does not understand that I am a desperate man. She has ruined me; she is bound to compensate me. She will listen to you, and you can tell her that, if she returns the letter I am going to write her to-night. I will not be put off again; I will see her, if I have to force my way into her house."

CHAPTER XXII.

"She has ruined you! What do you mean?" I exclaimed.

But Egbert did not answer, so I turned and dashed through the gates, and went up to the house in a passion of distress.

CHAPTER XXIII.

Mr. Jones had said he would not arrive till late in the evening. It was half past nine when he drove up in a cab. He greeted both Alice and myself in his usual genial manner, but he had lost his accustomed brightness. "Dear Mr. Jones," I said, when I got him alone, "do you know, there is some one at least as much to blame as—poor Harry."

AMATEUR CYCLIST.

Wants Bicycle Riders and the Public to Know that he was Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

TORONTO (Special), Oct. 5.—People generally, who take an interest in cycling, as well as amateurs as professional everywhere, will remember, name familiar in sporting events—Mr. Louis H. Bounell, who resides at 73 King Street East, this city. Bicycle riders will be especially pleased to learn that his recuperation this season in good form is due to his entire recovery from serious kidney trouble which had for a long time been interfering with his work. He desires all his friends as well as the public to know that his recovery is due to using three boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

The Canadian Pacific railway earnings for the week ending Sept. 30 were $542,000; for the same period last year, $588,000; decrease, $79,000.

It Saved Our Child.

"My little daughter, three and a half year old, suffered three years with Eczema. Her little body was covered with the itching rash, and doctors did no good. Four boxes of Chase's Ointment entirely cured and saved our child. Her skin is clear and not a trace of rash to be seen." Andrew Aitken, Hartland, N. B. Mr. Aitken is one of thousands benefited by this unailing cure for piles and skin diseases.

Among the suggestions for the celebration of the Queen's long reign is one that will be a review in Hyde Park of the colonial and other forces.

Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Chase's Pills have gained popularity because they are a specific for the uric acid condition, prevent Bright's disease, cure Rheumatism and all Catarrhal conditions of the Kidney and Bladder. They do this because they possess remarkable alterative, tonic and diuretic properties, exerting a wonderfully soothing influence on irritated or inflamed mucous membrane of the kidney and bladder. One or two boxes, 25¢ a box. The cheapest medicine in the world.

The Rosebank Farm

Containing 180 Acres of Land.

THE above Farm has 120 acres clear and in a good state of cultivation, the remainder covered with wood. It is situated opposite the City of Charlottetown on the Southport side of the Hillsborough River, convenient to Schools, etc.; one mile from Southport Ferry in Summer, and one mile from the city in the winter by the ice.

On the Farm is a good two story Dwelling House and a fine first-class barn and other outside buildings. It is all fenced with cedar posts and barbed wire, with several cross fences of the same material.

The shore front extends for the distance of one mile, giving an abundance of sea manure, also a mussel bed within half mile of the shore.

It would make an excellent Dairy Farm or would make a fine site for a summer hotel, having superior bathing facilities and a perfect view of the city. The general surrounding are very picturesque, making it one of the most desirable health resorts in the Maritime Provinces.

Any purchaser wishing to buy the Stock and Farming Implements in conjunction with the Farm can do so if required. All questions asked will be promptly answered by the undersigned.

Half of the purchase money can remain on mortgage at 5 per cent.

WEDDING RINGS

"WELL, SAM, since the engagement ring was so well these long eight years you bought from G. G. JURY, I accept your proposal if you promise to buy me a Wedding Ring from him also. My friend Nell was married a few days ago, and you should see the beautiful ring she has, and oh, so cheap. She says Mr. G. G. CASTORIA for infants and Children.

MOTHERS, Do You Know that Purge, Bismuth's Drops, Godfrey's Candy, many so-called Soothing Syrups, and most remedies for children are composed of opium or morphine?

Do You Know that opium and morphine are stupifying narcotic poisons?

Do You Know that in most countries druggists are not permitted to sell narcotics without labeling them poisons?

Do You Know that you should not permit any medicine to be given your child unless you or your physician know of what it is composed?

Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that a list of its ingredients is published with every bottle?

Do You Know that Castoria is the prescription of the famous Dr. Samuel Pierce. That it has been in use for nearly thirty years, and that more Castoria is now sold than of all other remedies for children combined?

Do You Know that the Patent Office Department of the United States, and of other countries, have issued exclusive right to Dr. Pierce and his assigns to use the word "Castoria" and its formula, and that to imitate them is a state law offense?

Do You Know that one of the reasons for granting this government protection was because Castoria had been proven to be absolutely harmless?

Do You Know that 35 average doses of Castoria are furnished for 95 cents, or one cent a dose?

Do You Know that when possessed of this perfect preparation, your children may be kept well, and that you may have unbroken rest?

Well, these things are worth knowing. They are facts.

The fac-simile signature of Dr. J. C. Peck is on every wrapper.
