Robert Lennox, M.A., Ph.D., D.D., principal of the Presbyterian College, McGill University, Montreal.

He talks of raising the living standards of the poor without taking away from the rich. The Communists stood behind him when other groups plotted against him. After the unsuccessful Mosul rebellion of pro-Nasser army officers in March, the Communists demanded their price—elimination of the forces opposed to them, arming of the people and creating of a national front government with themselves in key positions.
