AN APOLOGY
To People Who Complained of Noisy Laughter in the Vicinity of the Prince Edward Theatre.
We wish to apologize for the roars of laughter coming from the Prince Edward Theatre—blasts of hilarity which may have disturbed you at sleep or work. Our audiences find it impossible to restrain their mirth when watching Bud Abbott and Lou Costello in "Comin' Round The Mountain". And we, for our part, cannot bring ourselves to lessen their enjoyment by asking them to laugh less loudly.
Come down tonight. You'll know what we mean!

Fine Year Book of P.W.C. Students
"The Welshman", 1951-52 year book of Prince of Wales College, contains a fund of information which is well worth acquiring, and vividly portrays the aims and accomplishments of the students.
The Graduating Class of 1952 has respectfully dedicated this year book to Miss Eleanor Lowe, teacher of Art, at P. W. C. Principal Dr. Frank MacKinnon, in a foreword, expresses his appreciation on behalf of the faculty and adds: "We on the faculty have thoroughly enjoyed our association with you this year, and wish you the best of luck in the future." Hon. J. Walter Jones, as Minister of Education says: "The Government through the Department of Education is proud of P.W.C. throughout the years, and pleased with its recent advancement." Mr. A. Walthen Gaudet, President of the P. W. C. Alumni, extends congratulations and good wishes to the graduates, and makes fitting reference to those who received honorary Life Membership in 1951, namely Dr. Cyrus MacMillan, Sir William MacMillan, Mrs. Annie McGrath Robertson, Dr. G. D. Steele, Dr. H. H.
Shaw, Dr. Lemuel Robertson, Miss Alexandra Scott, Miss Agnes Ramsay, Dr. Roderick J. MacDonald, and Dr. Terrance Campbell.
Profusely illustrated, the year book will prove a cherished memorito not only to the Class of '52, but their friends who will follow their activities in the years which lie before them.
The editor, Mr. Roy Campbell, and his competent staff appear to have done a splendid job in producing the "Welshman" 1952 edition.
