

Mixed Reception Is Given Church Defence Proposals

TORONTO (CP)—A resolution by a United Church board that Canada's defence expenditures be channelled into building a United Nations police force has met with a mixed reaction within the church and from other Protestant denominations.

Declaring that present world conditions require "a bold venture of Christian faith in action," the United Church's board of evangelism and social service called upon the Canadian government "to convert proposed expenditures for national defence into a greatly increased appropriation for men and materials essential to a world police force operation under . . . the United Nations."

The resolution, approved Friday by a vote of 7 to 4, also urged greatly increased amounts for research into peaceful uses of nuclear power, technical aid and mutual assistance among "peoples rising with a new sense of their significance" and the opportunity of continuing education for all who seek it.

NOT RECONCILABLE

Said Rev. Milbert Cunningham of Vancouver, one of those who voted for the measure: "Capitalism and communism will never be reconciled. But you cannot kill an idea with bombs and bullets. Only a better idea will do it. I believe this is it."

Rev. J. R. Mutchmor, board secretary, said he voted against Friday's declaration because it would have the Canadian government "contract out" of North American defence.

The measure was introduced by another Toronto minister, Rev. James M. Finley, who said "the Canadian public cannot stand indefinitely by the hazards of economic imbalance reflected in the risk investment of unpredictable military equipment."

APPROVES STAND

Approval of the board's stand came from the moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, Rt. Rev. John McNab. He said the "vast sums the government is spending for new weapons of war . . . are impoverishing education, culture and . . . crippling our provision for the world's starving millions."

Other comment:

Rev. T. B. McDorman, general secretary-treasurer of the Baptist Federation of Canada: "It is not the job of the churches to spell out what governments should do."

Rt. Rev. R. H. Waterman, Anglican Bishop of Nova Scotia: "If any great power is a potential menace to our well-being, we should be prepared to defend ourselves."

8 Killed When Rink Roof Falls

LIETOWEL, Ont. (CP) — One moment 12 carter boys were swirling about the ice in a hockey game. Seconds later the roof of the rink came crashing down.

Seven of the players and Lietowel's recreation director were killed.

Seventeen other boys — members of a pee-wee league for boys 12 and under — and a 32-year-old coach were injured.

It happened Saturday morning. It was tragedy enough for this western Ontario town of 3,500. But it could have been worse.

The dead:

Kenneth McLeod, 37, the recreation director, father of four sons ranging from seven months to 17 years.

Jimmy Hastings, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Hastings;

Kenneth Hymers, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hymers;

Ricky Kaufman, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kaufman;

Jackie Rheubottom, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Rheubottom;

Brian Seehaver, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Seehaver;

Barry Smith, 11, son of Mrs. Beatrice Smith;

Keith Wright, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wright.

Harbour is waiting to play winners of the semi-final in a best-of-three series for the Provincial "C" crown, weather permitting, the semi-final is to be completed by midnight, Tuesday, March 10th.

IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY HELD

An impressive ceremony was conducted in front of the South African War Monument in Queen Square Sunday afternoon as local survivors and members of the Canadian Legion gathered to honor the memory of Roland Taylor and Alfred Riggs, who gave their lives in the South African War Campaign. The service was conducted by the Rev. E.C. Evans "Last Post" and "Reveille" was sounded by Frank Smith. February 27 was the 50th anniversary of the battle of Paardeberg which virtually ended the South African War. From left to right: The Rev. Mr. Evans, Stanley Ward and

APEC Chairman Urges Promotion Of Fish Cookery

"Many people think of the fishing industry in terms of catching fish and then selling them. It is not as simple as that, for two other processes are essential to the welfare of the industry — marketing and cooking," says Dr. Frank MacKinnon, president of APEC.

"We have excellent fish in our waters from the famous lobsters and oysters to the cod and smelts. But in this day of elaborate merchandizing we must process and package them properly. The housewife will no longer go into a store and buy a big piece of fish, take it home, and prepare it herself. Rather, she wants it cut to convenient size, and wrapped in cellophane with appropriate brand name and design.

EASY-TO-LOOK

So many consumers live in apartments with small refrigerators to keep fish and confined space where the odours of cooking fish may be objectionable.

B. Graham Rogers, director of transportation, was in Souris most of yesterday, and said last night that he felt it was almost impossible to adequately thank the captains and crews of both boats for what they had achieved in spite of almost insurmountable difficulties.

Mr. Rogers said that from what he could see along the shore and from the ice reports he had heard he felt the boats were going to have a very tough time getting to Borden.

Mr. Edgar of the Canadian National Railways Marine Department, Montreal, was in Souris yesterday and after the ferry sailed he left for Borden to make arrangements for work to be done there on the S.S. Prince Edward Island. Captain Douglas MacLean of the CNR Marine Department, Moncton, was in Souris on Saturday.

The crew of the Prince Edward Island are very loud in their praise of how the boat handled in the heavy ice and one of them remarked that "she is built like a battleship and the old girl has a tremendous kick in her yet."

While the damage to the steering gear equipment undoubtedly is bad the officials feel it can be repaired at Borden. One advantage is the good divers and diving equipment available there. The boat can only be steered now by proper and quick use of the two stern propellers.

Late last night both boats were stuck fast in very heavy ice slightly west of Rollo Bay. It is reported that the ice there is about 30 feet thick and grounded.

Someone on the wharf yesterday said to Captain Kean, that Prince Edward Island as a province and Prince Edward Island as a boat were both in heavy ice now. Well, the Captain replied, the old boat was sure "a prince" the way she acted in the ice and she had the reputation of the Island for coming through a tough time.

Don MacPherson, chief engineer of the P.E.I. has been with his ship for 35 years. His father Robert MacPherson was also chief engineer and retired a few years ago. Yesterday he visited his son on the ship at Souris and was greatly pleased at the way the engines were working in spite of difficulties.

During the trip from Port-aux-Basques, Newfoundland, to Souris no seals were sighted. Captain Kean remarked yesterday that with no floating ice in the Gulf and no open water spaces it was impossible for seals to get down from up north. In his earlier years of sea Captain Kean sailed on sealing ships in the Gulf and in the North Atlantic.

Many cameras were clicking around Souris yesterday. A crowd estimated at around 500 people were on the piers and many more at strategic spots on the high ground surrounding the harbour.

The Railway siding on the wharf at Souris certainly was of vital importance yesterday.

Baptist Men's Groups Hold Week-end Meeting At S'ide

SUMMERSIDE — The second get together of what is known as the Workshop of the Maritime United Baptist Men's Association was held in the Summerside United Baptist Church on February 28, with an attendance of 100 men. The Maritime president B. D. Stevens, was the general chairman. The session got under way at 3:00 p.m. with a song led by the pastor of the Summerside Church, Rev. Keith Hobson.

The chairman then introduced Elmer Newson, who welcomed the men on behalf of the Summerside Men's Association, to the Summerside Church. He was followed by C.S. Scranton, Island president, who also extended words of welcome to the group.

The devotional periods were led in the afternoon session by the Tryon Association, and in the evening, under the leadership of the Hazelbrook Association.

A very interesting panel discussion was conducted in the afternoon by the men of the O'Leary Association on the subject of "Why the Home Mission Board" and in the evening another panel was presented on "Opportunities of Overseas Missions" by the Charlottetown men's group. Both panels were presented to acquaint men with the responsibilities, opportunities, plans, purposes and future hopes for this great undertaking in the Master's service of spreading the gospel and to winning men and women to Jesus Christ.

Rev. R.E. Whitney, superintendent of the Home Mission Board was present and answered the men's questions on home mission work, during the discussion period.

A period of the meeting was given over to testimonies led by Steven Steeves of Moncton, at which time many of the men told of what wonderful blessings were to be had in the Master's service.

The Baptist Jubilee "Advance" was explained to the men by E.D. MacPhail, Charlottetown, as a movement in which the major expressions of appreciation from the men present were tendered by Earl Jelly, O'Leary, to the Summerside Church for their fine fellowship and hospitality, which they received. Appreciation was also extended to the ladies for the fine supper that they prepared and was so thoroughly enjoyed by the men.

During the course of the meeting singing many favorite hymns was enjoyed. Two solo's were rendered by Sterling Inman, Charlottetown, to an appreciative audience. At the evening meeting a group of men from the Bedouque Church referred that fine old hymn "Peace Be Still".

The meeting was brought to its conclusion with prayer by president B.D. Stevens.

Crapaud Creamery Reports Record Volume Of Business

The annual meeting of Crapaud Creamery Company was held on Feb. 17th, 1959 in the Crapaud Hall with a good attendance. After the minutes of the last annual meeting were read, the President, John Simmons, so reported to the meeting.

Crapaud Creamery Company has experienced the biggest year in its history as far as volume of business was concerned.

During the year the Company manufactured 488,615 lbs. of butter, being 13,788 lbs. greater than the record year of 1956.

FEED SALES

Another record was established in the sales of feeds, the amount being $85,113. This amount is approximately $3,000 over any previous year. He also reported the earnings of the Company were quite satisfactory, and the notes payable had been reduced by $2,000, making the total debt of only $5,000 left on the books.

He felt the Company must be ready to make any changes necessary to keep our plant modern and up-to-date. He thanked the patrons for their support, and his fellow directors and management for their co-operation extended to him during his term as their President.

The secretary-treasurer then gave his report as follows: sales of butter amounted to $375,701. Sales of feeds $85,113. Receipts from cold storage rent $3,577. The net profit realized on these operations after providing for income tax amounted to $3,852.

Henry MacDonald, Dairy Superintendent for the Province, addressed the meeting. He told the farmers that the butter surplus was not alarming, and we of the Maritimes were not producing enough butter to meet our own requirements. He said the average production of butterfat per cow on this Island was only around 200 lbs. and with reasonable management it could be raised to 300 lbs. which would bring a substantial increase in revenue to the farmers.

Producing butterfat put 77 cent of the consumer's dollar in the producer's pocket, whereas growing potatoes only put 41 per cent of the dollar in the farmer's pocket. He therefore felt there was good reason to stay in the dairy business, and produce a product of the highest quality possible. Mr. MacDonald was tendered a hearty vote of thanks.

Max Thompson spoke briefly on his trip as a delegate to farmers' meetings held in the western provinces, and said he saw and learned a great deal from this very pleasant experience.

LARGEST PRODUCER

A cup, donated by the Crapaud Branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia, was presented to Harrison Green of Kingston by the manager, Ralph DeGrasse, for the patron producing the largest amount of butterfat in 1958.

The Creamery also presented the following prizes to the ten highest producers: Harrison Green, Kingston, $30.00. Allison tankers that had been brought from Charlottetown early last week, and 15,000 gallons of fresh water.

It was thought for a time that the Prince Edward Island would be fighting the ice in the strait alone in her bid to get to Borden. The Labrador apparently had received orders to proceed to Sydney and this she did Saturday afternoon after her helicopter had made several trips to shore apparently to receive orders and changes in orders from authorities.

FAREWELL SALUTE

At 2 p.m. the Labrador sailed in close to the P.E.I. which was anchored some 400 yards off Souris breakwater. After a 15-minute get-together, the two ships blew farewell salutes and the Labrador departed for Sydney.

However, shortly after the P.E.I. docked at Souris wharf after plowing through board ice 18-31 inches thick in Souris harbour, the Labrador received orders to return to Souris.

Awaiting about two miles off Souris the Labrador picked up the P.E.I. at 4:00 Sunday afternoon and the rugged trip to Borden was underway.

The two ships were nine days out of Port aux Basques and it was 24 days since the carferry first attempted to get home to Borden.

Skipper of the Labrador is Captain Colberston.
