WINTER HOME FOR DUCKS

More than 3,000 ducks of various breeds are currently getting haven for the winter months at Moore's Sanctuary at Miltown. Many of the ducks will be banded during their stay at the sanctuary. Here Constable Ronald Lawford of the R.C.M.P. right, and Harvey Moore, owner of the sanctuary, look over a vast blanket of birds before starting banding proceedings.

Public Works Department Has A Responsible Task

The maintenance of some 90 buildings and the accommodation and care of about 2,500 patients and staff fall under the jurisdiction of the department of public works which for many years was linked with the larger spending Department of Highways both of which are under the administration of Hon. J. George MacKay.

In addition to its regular maintenance work, the public works department during 1958 constructed three new buildings. The largest of these is the new wing of the Vocational School which will be used for the training of diesel mechanics and expansion of other classes.

Work on this building is proceeding satisfactorily in spite of the extremely cold weather and it is expected that it will be completed early in the summer. At the present time the new wing is closed in thus providing considerable winter employment.

A herdsman's house was constructed at Riverside and a tourist bureau at the junction of the Trans-Canada Highway near Albany. Landscaping on the tourist building will be completed before the bureau goes into operation in 1959.

RENOVATIONS

Extensive renovations were carried out at the laboratory division, department of health. Cafeterias were completed at Riverside in both the men's and women's divisions and meals cooked in the central kitchen are now served and eaten in their respective cafeterias. Dishes are washed in each division by mechanical dishwashers.

At Riverside new quarters were fitted up for patients suffering from tuberculosis. In the old nurse's home, the building was divided into two independent sections. The stage at the auditorium was extended six feet. Landscaping was carried out and a shore road constructed.

Other extensive renovations were carried out at the old Post Office building, the Provincial Building annex, the Rehabilitation Centre and the old Customs Building on Great George Street.

GENERAL MAINTENANCE

At the Provincial Infirmary the roof of the building was renewed and the walls shingled with asbestos shingles. The eaves and gutters of the main building and staff house were repaired and all the trim painted.

Roof, gutters and down spouts were renewed at Riverside and the old ventilators removed. Repair were made to the front entrance and interior painting was carried out in both male and female divisions.

All the exterior woodwork at Beach Grove has been repainted and decorating done to a large number of rooms. Considerable repair work was done at both Prince and Kings County courthouses.

STAFF

The staff of the public works department is under the supervision of Mr. R. G. White, deputy minister and chief engineer. Maintenance engineer is John Gilmore. Supervisor of stores is Phillip MacNeill. A plumbing crew consisting of two plumbers and two helpers look after all repair jobs from the engineer's office in the highway's building. There is also an electrical crew working on a similar basis.

The problem of fire protection in buildings where there is a large number of patients is a serious one and in all of these except the Sanatorium, a sprinkler system is installed. The water pressure at the present time is not sufficient to operate a sprinkler system at the Sanatorium.

INSURANCE

The government carries insurance all on its buildings. This amounts $2,699,000 coverage. A few years ago it was decided that with such a widely spread out risk, it would be cheaper to have the Government carry its own risk.

Accordingly a fund was set up which is accumulating at the rate of $25,000 per year. As the fund increases the government cuts down on bought insurance, thus causing the fund to build up more rapidly. The annual vote for insurance is $25,000, one half of which is paid on the premium.

In a few more years it is expected that fire insurance will be dropped altogether and the risk carried entirely by the government. This is the practice followed by the federal government.

Montague Prayer Service Held In The Baptist Church

MONTAGUE — Mr. K. T. Norris was guest preacher at the second night of the Week of Prayer services, Montague, held last night in the well filled United Baptist Church.

Mr. Norris chose as his theme "When God hears not", taking htis text from Isaiah 1:15 "and when ye spread forth your hands, I will hide mine eyes from you: yea, when ye make many prayers, I will not hear: your hands are full of blood".

Mr. Norris made an exposition of the first twenty verses of Isaiah and developed the theme that there are prayers that God will not hear. The four main points were: God hears not the prayers of the rebellious; God calls for a turning from sin; God provides the cleansing from sin through the blood of Christ, "though your sins be as scarlet they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson they shall be as wool"; and finally, God warns against continued rebellion.

The church pastor, Rev. A.G. J. Steeves, conducted the service and was assisted by Rev. D.A. Campbell who read the scripture and Rev. J.M. Fraser who offered the prayer.

A joint choir from the four congregations led in a hymn sing prior to the service and also during the service of praise. Mrs. Douglas Coffin and Mrs. Arnold Wightman sang as a duet "The Hem of His Garment".

Congregational hymns were "My Hope is Built on Nothing Less", "Onward Christian Soldiers", "Will Your Anchor Hold", "I Will Sing The Wondrous Story", and "Trust And Obey".

Organist for the service was Miss Clemmie MacLen.

This evening's service will be held in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, and the guest speaker will be Rev. J.M. Fraser.

ARRIVES IN FRANCE—Mrs. Stephen Landry of Georgetown has received word that her son-in-law and daughter LAC and Mrs. James Caldwell and son Jimmy have arrived in France where LAC Caldwell is stationed at Longivelle with the RCAF. The couple travelled from Halifax to Ireland by ship and from there motored to their new home at Longivelle. LAC Caldwell and Mrs. Caldwell spent the Christmas holidays with LAC and Mrs. Ronald Hughes of Longiville.

LITTLE SANDS

Mr. Stanley White, Wood Islands East, has been laid up with a sore back for some time. Stanley spent some time in the P.E.Island Hospital and has since been in bed at his home. Reports on New Years Day stated that he was easier and not suffering much pain. His many friends here hope he'll soon be up and active again.

Miss Patricia Richards and her two brothers Graham and Raymond of the Protestant Orphanage, Charlottetown, are spending about a week at their home in Little Sands. They are the Children of Mr. Peter Richards. The neighbors here were glad to see the children and have them visit them.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Keenan, Deep Brook, N.S. have been visiting friends and relatives in Wood Islands, Little Sands and Murray River during the Christmas and New Year Holidays. They planned to stay about two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Muller, Halifax were visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Addie McCannell, Wood Islands East at Christmas time. They also visited other friends in Wood Islands.

The lights at Caribou and Pictol Island were still lit up to December 31. Since then we have not been able to see the lights there.

Friends in Little Sands and surrounding districts regret to hear of the passing of Mr. Joseph Bell of Murray Harbour. Mr. Bell's wife was a daughter of the late Mr. Norman Stewart, High Bank.

Residents here regret to hear some time ago of the passing of Mrs. Donald Livingstone's father Mrs. Livingstone is a resident of Hopefield. Her father Mr. Clark of the Magdalene Islands was 96 years old and passed away in the Magdalen Islands. Due to bad weather conditions Mrs. Livingstone didn't get to go to the funeral. She visited her father this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Rowan Sincabaugh, Oak Valley were visitors to their relatives in Little Sands on Dec. 27.

Blue's road has had lots of loads of clay dumped on it recently. This road was impossible for a long while, but now it has been repaired.

Miss Saundra Stewart, Charlottetown was visiting her grandmother, Mrs. A. D. MacNeill, Little Sands during the holidays.

PRIVATE AUDIENCE

VATICAN CITY (Reuters)—The Pope Monday received in private audience French Finance Minister Antoine Pinay, who arrived in Rome two days ago.

BRISTOL

Christmas is all over again and Santa has come and gone, but the glowing mass of lights and decorations in the homes here will keep Christmas with us for another week at least. The beautiful Nativity picturing that first Christmas erected in the new park near the Memorial Hall, in the village, has attracted hundreds of travellers. Many have come from far away to admire the work of those young people who erected the beautiful lifelike forms, to put Christ back in Christmas. This work is a masterpiece and a credit to those who thought about it months ago and also to those who gave their time to the work. Its splendor will linger in the minds of many young and old from near and far away.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Prior arrived here last week from Massel, Ontario to spend the holiday season with Mrs. Prior's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lester L. McEwen. Mrs. Prior, was Louise McEwen, and a very popular young lady. Her many friends are pleased to see her again, also extending a very hearty welcome to her husband, very fine young business man. Mr. and Mrs. Prior will visit other relatives, at Mount Stewart and in the city, before returning to Ontario.

Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Sinnott, had most of their large family along with many grandchildren with them for Christmas. One son P. R. Jr., who is with the Department of Transport, and stationed with the weather bureau in the frozen Northland, sent his greetings over the air waves. Mr. Sinnott spent two years at Mould Bay, N.W.T. where the mercury hovers around seventy below, but he says it's a good place just the same. Another son, Dr. J. C. Sinnott, was unable to come home due to pressing duties in Montreal.

Miss Joan Kenny, has returned home from the Charlottetown hospital, after being a patient there for two weeks. She will be unable to attend school this winter, but with the evening help of the teacher, will keep up her studies at home. All hope Miss Kenny will soon be restored to better health.

Travellers on the highway in this vicinity are reminded that the trains are operating again and the double crossing in the village is very dangerous, so let us all take a stop, look and listen before crossing especially when its slippery and visibility is not good.

Mr. John O'Brien, who has been in Camp Hill Hospital staff for many years in Halifax, N.S., will come hame on his final leave next week. Mr. O'Brien will go on pension at the end of the year. He plans to go back to the sea he left many years ago as a fisherman, for a time at least, as he enjoys prime health and is still young in life. His wife and family remained in Bristol, through the years and they will be happy to see daddy home to stay.

Christmas was a dreary time for Mrs. Reginald MacDonald, and her six children as Mr. MacDonald, was buried here a week ago, following his death in a fall while at work on the Royal Bank building in the city. Mrs. MacDonald, said all their cards had been mailed with both their names on them, and gifts prepared before that fatal day when she had to tell the children Daddy won't be home.

Miss Agatha MacDonald, arrived home Christmas Eve by air, leaving Montreal in the afternoon she was home at supper-time.

Mr. John R. O'Brien arrived here from Halifax, N.S. on Wednesday evening, December 31st. from his duties at Camp Hill Hospital. Mr. O'Brien has, retired on pension after many years of service. He is also a veteran of World War One, and says he will not thaf around, but will turn his thoughts to some other work, and no doubt have a crack at the fishing he always loved so well. All wish him good health and happiness in his retirement years.

Miss Agatha MacDonald, left on Saturday by air for her duties in Montreal, after spending the holidays with her parents in the city and a visit to her old home here, with friends of yesterday years.

Mr. Joseph MacDonald, who spent considerable time in hospital at Halifax, where he underwent an operation at Camp Hill some months ago, has joined the pension class. Mr. MacDonald, is not in very good health. All hope he will regain better health.

Mrs. Henry Trainor was in the city on Wednesday on business, as was Mr. Russell Webster and G. McEwen.

Mr. Osborn Anderson, was in the city last week on business along with Gordon McEwen, and Ted McEwen.

Despite the severe weather during December, quite a few from this vicinity who are employed in the city, made the round trip daily and some plan to make the daily trip all winter, if at all possible.

Mr. Eph. Malone and Harry McEwen, who have been in poor health for some time are reported as improved.

Washington Young, Ontario, arrived recently to spend some time with his brother, Major and family at Red Point. Mr. Young is a former resident of Kingsboro.

Seemingly the old adage "If the first snow comes in from the water we will have a real winter" still holds true. Such was the case this year and so far we are led to believe that we have the beginning of an old-fashioned winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Massey, Charlottetown, spent Christmas with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B.J. Massoy, Bothwell.

Much credit is due our local snowplough operator, Peter Stewart, Kingsboro, and his assistant, Gus Bailey, Elmira, for a wonderful job of keeping the roads of this area open. Clear highways and heated cars make winter travelling very pleasant but what could give more enjoyment than a lively horse and sleigh drive with bells chiming and echoing through the frosty air!

Miss Marquerite Mossey, nurse-in-training at the City Hospital, Charlottetown, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B.J. Mossey, Bothwell.

Miss Marie Cheverie, Ontario, is spending the Christmas holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cheverie, East Point.
