Hon. Mr. Dickey's Visit.

The Hon. Mr. Dickey, Minister of Justice, will arrive in Charlottetown on Monday evening next, accompanying Sir Charles Tupper. On Tuesday evening Mr. Dickey will address a meeting of electors at Kensington.

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

MAY 30, 1896. THE PREMIER'S VISIT.

SIR CHARLES TUPPER and Hon. Mr. Dickey, Minister of Justice, will arrive via Pictou on Monday afternoon about five o'clock, and at eight o'clock the Premier, and possibly Mr. Dickey, will address the electors in the Skating Rink, Fitzroy Street. Every arrangement has been made to accommodate the large number of electors who will attend.

The Hon. Mr. Dickey will not return to Pictou with Sir Charles Tupper, but will remain over and proceed to Prince County and address public meetings there in the interests of the Liberal-Conservatives.

GOOD NEWS FROM THE WEST

The Hon. Mr. Ferguson arrived in town by the morning train from Summerside, having driven from Arlington. Lot 14, after the close of the meeting held there last evening. The hon. gentleman seems as fresh as when he began his meetings over three weeks ago, and is in excellent spirits over the prospects of Messrs. Hunt and Hackett in the West. He reports that the Liberal-Conservatives are gaining ground every day in both Ridings. To use a common expression, poor Perry's "goose is cooked" in West Prince. His attempts to explain on the Manitoba School Question have only put him deeper in the mire. In one breath he says that he voted against the bill because it did not go far enough, and in the next gives as his excuse that if he voted for the bill he would expel the French books from the schools of this Island.

THE FARMER AND THE DUTY

The Examiner, May 29. "All the articles," the farmer never stated that he required to buy for ordinary use or from duty under the present system."

It may, in charity, be assumed that it was simple ignorance of the essential difference between "duties imposed upon articles" and articles being "free from duty" that caused the Guardian to charge the Examiner with "falsehood" in this regard. But we fail, even in charity, to find an excuse for the Guardian's failure to withdraw the charge and apologize after the difference has been pointed out and the real meaning of the passage upon which the charge is based fully explained. It is to be noted that the Guardian does not attempt to deny the reasonableness of the explanation. It is, indeed, as clear as anything can be that if a man does not use or consume articles upon which duties are paid, he does not pay duties. The duties or charges imposed in respect to those articles may be 50 per cent, or 500 per cent,—he laughs at the tariff; he pays no duties. So in respect to any particular article which he may raise or purchase from his neighbor for his own use or consumption, he is free from duty in respect to it though a heavy duty may be imposed under the tariff. Our farmers either raise for themselves, or can purchase directly or indirectly from their neighbors, the manufacturers of Canada, (who work upon free raw materials) all the articles that they require, except tea, coffee and a few other articles which are free of duty under the tariff. We have, therefore, stated with perfect truth, even though duties are imposed by the tariff, that "all the articles, that the farmer requires are free from duty under the present system."

The Guardian calls this "an astounding statement." It is, at all events, a statement containing a truth which may well be weighed by every farmer. Destroy the present system—as the Grits propose to do—and what will follow? "Direct Taxation"? Not to be thought of. But a revenue must be made up. Then there must follow heavy taxes on tea, and all other articles of foreign production, while the duties on articles made in Canada will, in all probability, be so much abated as to destroy the protection of the home market which is now afforded, ruin a large proportion of our manufacturers, and greatly reduce the keen wholesome-home competition which results in such low prices for goods as we pay to-day. When this has been accomplished the stronger foreign manufacturers will have Canada at their mercy, and will ere long be sure to see to it that they do not pay the duties which must be levied to make up the revenue; and our farmers will not be able to escape them. Thus while the Canadian farmer will have the United States farmer competing with him in the markets of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, he will lose the inestimable advantage which he now possesses of being able to obtain all the articles that he requires to buy for ordinary use, free from duty, as under the present system.

We do not say—we have never said—that the farmers do not, under the present system, pay taxes. Farmers who live as well as the farmers of Prince Edward Island, pay their fair share of tax. In respect to the purchase of articles which they do not absolutely need. Among the articles referred to by the Guardian as being subject to taxation was "china-ware." Surely the farmer who can afford a "set of china"—is well able to pay the duty that is charged. In the same way, the farmer who can afford to buy his wife a silk dress or a fine fur overcoat is not a subject for pity when required to contribute to the revenue of the country a certain fair proportion of the payment. But what we desire to impress is the fact that articles of necessity to the farmer are, under the present system, practically free from duty—that is to say, he pays no duty in respect to them. If the Guardian's rudeness shall result in a clearer perception of this fact by our farmers we shall not complain.

CAMPAIGN NOTES.

—Where Mr. Laurier stands—on both sides of every question. —The London Post thinks that for Canadians to make a change in the parties in control of the Government at the present time "would seem to be the ordinary business man a mistake in commercial as well as political tactics. The English and Canadian ideas are alike on this point. —The Grits have withdrawn their candidates against a David Easton Assiniboia, and against Rufus Pope in Compton, leaving the fight to the McCarthyites and Parsons. This is a case in all some 20 constituencies from which the Grits have withdrawn their candidates. Add still the excise continues. —Sir Charles Tupper's conduct in becoming personally responsible for the money to run the Government printing bureau at Ottawa strongly indicates his confidence in the good sense and judgment of the people of Canada. Sir Charles evidently has no misgivings as to the result of the election. —Halifax Herald: The Grit papers are publishing the names of half a dozen or so alleged manufacturers in Ontario who are favoring their cause; but they omit any mention of the thousands of Canadian manufacturers all over the country who are opposing their policy; and, accordingly, they mention that all the Yankee manufacturers, without exception, are wildly in favor of the Grit policy of giving them the Canadian market. —In our telephone message to the Ferguson meeting at Alberton we said, "Grits are giving in the end for the Queen, Sir Charles Tupper, Hon. Mr. Ferguson and Mr. Rogers." Mr. Hackett's name, and not Mr. Rogers, should have been mentioned, as will readily be seen. No Conservative meeting ever indulged over Mr. Rogers' name, and indeed, if the reports are true, a cheer could not be raised for him in any meeting from Sleep River to Horse Head. The name of Hackett is everywhere warmly acclaimed in the west. —The Truro Sun says: The following touching story somewhat illustrates what is going on to-day. In February the Grit committee of Cape Breton wrote to a prominent Cumberland worker for a subscription, saying that they were bent on beating Sir Charles this time and were going to do it. Immediately on receipt of the letter the following reply was sent: "Glad to hear that you can beat Sir Charles, and you have my best wishes to that end—we tried it on here very earnestly for over thirty years, but never succeeded. As soon as you can deliver goods you may draw on me for ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS."

—The Conservative ministers in Quebec province are all running in strong liberal constitutions. Mr. Angers is giving up his seat in the Senate to contest Quebec Centre, which was represented in the last parliament by C. F. Langelier, a Liberal. Mr. Desjardins also gives up a senatorship to fight for the representation of Richelieu, held last session by Mr. Brunson, a Liberal. Mr. Tallin gives up the provincial premiership to struggle with Mr. Geoffroy for his seat for Chambly and Vercheres, counties represented in the last parliament by Messrs. Geoffroy and Prefontaine, both Liberals. Men who admire courage will appreciate this conduct.

—Sir Charles Tupper spoke at Antigonish on Thursday, and humorously alluded to the fact that all the Opposition charges against him had now simmered down to the allegation that he was distributing seed oats, in Cape Breton supposed to be in the interest of his (the Premier's) election. Hon. Daniel McNeil, a recent member of the Liberal Government of Nova Scotia, and one of the Nova Scotia delegates to the Liberal Convention at Ottawa, also spoke at the meeting. Mr. McNeil has abandoned the Liberals, and is now an enthusiastic supporter of the party of progress led by Sir Charles Tupper.

—It has always been one of the first principles of the advocates of the national policy to remove the taxation as much as possible from all articles that cannot be produced in Canada. Accordingly, in 1887 the Liberal-Conservative government struck off entirely the duties on tea, coffee and tin; and from that period to the present time there has thus been saved to the people on these articles alone the following amounts:— On tea.....$11,624,639 On coffee..... 332,538 On tin..... 1,465,103 $13,331,670 Every dollar of this amount has gone into the pockets of the great mass of the consumers of this country.

ABOUT THE SIZE OF IT.

"We say that if the Liberals of this County are going to win, and we believe they are, the Liberals are going to win all over."—Truro Times-Gazette. "We say that if the chances of the Liberals 'all over' are no better than their chances in this County, the Conservatives may be jubilant."—Truro Sun.

ALLEGED WONDERFUL RESULTS IN THE TREATMENT OF TUBERCULOSIS

Alleged wonderful results in the treatment of tuberculosis are reported from Germany through the use of Dr. Langheld's "anti-microbion." The remedy is taken internally. As indicating the deadliness of the Mauthausen rife, it is stated that at a recent riot in Austria, a shot fired killed two men and wounded another; three shots together brought down seven people. Kaiser Wilhelm's latest exploit has been to assist in putting out fire in a barn at Aix-Christiane. He personally directed the firemen, both in extinguishing the flames and removing the contents. It is reported that Mr. Aseroff, the rich Greek merchant who financed the recent international athletic games at Athens, and the first grand old man of the nation, is in Penthe marble, at an estimated expense of about $600,000. The cost of various English sports has just been estimated at thirty-eight million pounds a year. It is a big figure, but the high, plain, and enduring character of the nation gains by its devotion to outdoor games are beyond all estimate. A despatch to the London Daily Telegraph from Berlin says that there are great rejoicings at Friedrich-rulle over the birth of the first grandson of Prince Bismarck, a son having been born to the wife of Bismarck's son, Count William Bismarck. Bishop McDonnell, of Alexandria, Oct., and other prominent citizens, have presented a petition to the town council, protesting against the indulgence in the sale of tobacco and cigars, and asking that all dealers be compelled to pay a license fee of $50.00 per annum. An unknown United States gold hunter who located near Durango, Mexico, 20 years ago, and lived the life of a recluse in the Sierra Madre Mountains, was found in his cabin the other day by prospectors. In the building was found gold dust aggregating $75,000 in value. Mayor Waters, of Hot Springs, Ark., became embroiled with H. H. Martin, a "drummer," whom he had fined for infringing a by-law. In the scuffle the mayor cut Martin's jugular vein with a knife, the latter dying at once. The mayor is under arrest. Two Boston youths, aged respectively 18 and 20, after being arrested last week, confessed to setting 60 fires that destroyed property valued at $2,000,000. Their motives were sometimes desire for excitement and sometimes robbery. Ten times they sounded alarms for fires they had started. The funeral of the Christians massacred at Cana, in the island of Crete, was conducted under the protection of the British warship Hood. The relatives of the victims did not dare to follow their dead to the grave. Three thousand Christians have arrived in the town to protect the Christians there. The car has sent a cordial telegram to President Faure in reply to the latter's congratulations upon the occasion of his Majesty's coronation. "You may be sure that the lively sympathy of France has been especially agreeable to me. I feel she is one with us in those solemn moments."

—The last three months have not given an excess of births over deaths of $2,197. News has just come of a brutal lynching outrage which took place on Wednesday night in the township of Wilnot, about ten miles from Waterloo. A married woman was dragged from her home by a false message, seized by four disguised men, stripped, beaten, tarred and ridden on a rail. Two arrests have been made in connection with the affair. A despatch to the London Standard from Moscow says that the Czar and Czarina drove through the streets with a carriage and four white horses on Wednesday, and were cheered vociferously by vast multitudes of spectators. The imperial pair again drove out at night in a plain carriage to see the illuminations. The visitors are now rapidly leaving Moscow. In the United States House of Representatives on Friday a resolution was introduced providing that no invitation be received by the United States within six months to send representatives to an international congress to consider bi-nationalism, then President Cleveland is to extend to other nations an invitation to a congress to be held in Washington next year. Western papers are telling a good story of the publisher of an Oklahoma paper issued in a town where the women recently carried the day at a local election. The publisher sent the following letter to a typographical supply house in Chicago: "Please send us one small out of a hen. Women carried the election here, and I suppose we shall have to swing out a hen into the market."

—Peter Kalky, one of the oldest and wealthiest citizens of Parnell, N. S., was robbed at that place last Tuesday night of $10,000 in deposit receipts and $500 in cash. He had just taken rooms at the Queen Hotel and had the receipts and money in a valise which was unlocked. He is making every effort to find the robber, but is faring has been unsuccessful. The death of Archduke Charles Louis of Austria, which occurred a few days ago, was ascribed by his physicians to the drinking of the waters of the River Jordan, which he did as a matter of religious devotion upon the occasion of his recent pilgrimage to Palestine. The water of the Jordan is by no means pure, and in the case of the Archduke it had a tendency to bring on intestine weakness, which could not be overcome. Mr. Gladstone was asked for his opinion of the effect of the split between the Irish and the Liberals would have upon the prospects of Home Rule, and he telegraphed that he could not appear in the matter; but agreed with his inquirer that the argument for Home Rule was based on Great Britain's honor, and that Imperial interests were absolutely unaffected. He added: "I blame the Irish a little, the Nonconformists more, and the Parnellites, by far, the most."

NEWS FROM NEW BRUNSWICK. Mr. Foster Has No Fear for York. The Grits Will Probably Lose the Two Seats They Now Have. St. John, May 30. The political campaign goes on well in this province. The Grits have accepted Ungar, Independent-Conservative, as their candidate in Gloucester, and they are obliged to do the same with LeBlanc in Kent, and now Dr. Lewis, who is accepted as an opponent of Weldon in Albert, declares that he proposes, if elected, to support the government. The Liberal Conservatives in St. John are disregarding the new independent party, and propose to beat all opposites. Hon. Mr. Foster, who is in St. John on his way to Kentville, says that he has no fear for York. It seems certain that the Government will capture Charlotte, and there is little doubt that Carleton will fall into the Liberal-Conservative column. The Grits have only two seats in the province, and they will probably lose them.

Joe Martin Will Be Defeated.
