WEDNESDAY

WINS HIGH HONORS.—Mr. Craswell Portrait Photographer of this city has received word recently that he had three portraits of his own work hung in Kansas City, two at Rochester, N. Y., and four in London, England. The Kansas City Convention was that of the Professional Photographers' Association of America International; and portraits from America and Europe were submitted for the Jury of Selection. All portraits had to be A. 1, and had to be passed before a Jury of Selection, and only the portraits that were of the highest standard were accepted and hung. Craswell sent four portraits and three were selected. This convention is the largest in America, and to have portraits hung is the highest honor that can be conferred on a photographer. His work in Rochester and London are also big exhibitors, and to have portraits at these hung is an honor. We heartily congratulate Mr. Craswell not only upon the exceptional excellence of his art, but also upon the high recognition he has won from notable judges in the world's great cities.

There passed peacefully away at his home in North Charlton on the 17th of April, 1922, an aged and respected resident in the person of William Crockett, at the age of 77 years and 4 months. Although not in robust health for the past few years, nothing serious was anticipated until the last two weeks of his life, when he rapidly sank until the end came. During his last convalescent hours he was able to repeat the old familiar hymns, "The word of my departure's home," and perfectly resigned to the will of his Heavenly Father, his spirit went home to God who gave it. He leaves to mourn one daughter, Mrs. Alder Wright, who always resided with him, and three sisters, Mrs. Ellen Platts, Alma, Mrs. Alexander Howatt, Cape Traverse, Mrs. Matilda Alton, Sussex, N.B., and one brother, John Crockett, Charlton, besides a large circle of friends and acquaintances. The funeral was held on the 19th, and was very largely attended, the service being conducted by Rev. D. M. Lamont. Interment took place at the Church of Scotland cemetery, Cape Traverse.

By the death of Mr. Patrick McCordel, at the advanced age of 88 years, on March 17, 1922, at his home in Emyvale, another link was broken in the associations and doings of the early pioneers of that district. Born in Quebec on the 12th day of July, 1834, where his parents landed from County Monaghan, Ireland. After remaining a short time in Quebec, the family moved to Miramichi, N.B., which at that time was the centre of a great lumbering business, where they remained until the year 1850, the deceased being then about 16 years of age, when he with his parents and other members of the family, moved to P. E. Island, and took up land in Emyvale, which at that time was an almost unbroken forest, without church or school or roads, and there by industry and hard work cleared the forest and made a comfortable home. In the year 1855 he married Miss Rose Duffy, niece of the late Rev. James Duffy of Plover memory. To the union was born one son, James D., who died only one year ago in the prime of manhood, which was a severe blow to the aged father. Mr. McCordel always enjoyed excellent health up to within one week of his death, when he was attacked with pneumonia, although attended by a skillful physician and gently nursed by a dutiful daughter-in-law, death had marked him, and after being fortified by the last rites of the Catholic church, he yielded his soul into the hands of his Creator. On the afternoon of Sunday, March 19, interment took place in St. Ann's cemetery, followed by a large funeral procession. May his soul rest in peace. The following were the pall-bearers:—Peter McQuaid, Jas. P. McClokey, William Costlow, Mich. Coudey, John McQuaid, Peter Callaghan.

Good Blood
Is essential to health, happiness, energy, willingness to work and good appetite. Lack of it means disease, rheumatism, catarrh, hemorrhoids, headache, wandering pains, cold hands and feet, decline of health-tone. Hood's Sarsaparilla is recommended for all these and other symptoms, because it is made from the best ingredients, physicians prescribe, combined by pharmacologists who have made a life-long study of medicines.

Died, at her home at Bear River, on April 17, after a brief illness, Mrs. Peter Deagle, aged 83 years. She had always enjoyed good health until six weeks previous to her death, when her health began to fail, and despite all that medical skill and tender nursing could do, God willed otherwise. Her spirit passed to its eternal reward, fortified by the last rites of the Holy Catholic church. The deceased lady, whose maiden name was Helen McMillan, was a daughter of the late Donald and Buphonia McCormack McMillan, of St. Peter's Bay, and was the last surviving member of a large family. She was married fifty-two years ago and came to Bear River, where she resided until her death. The late Christian woman, of a cheerful disposition, kind and charitable to all. Her foremost thoughts were to be able to help someone. As a neighbor she will be remembered, and her death will be mourned. She was noted for her fidelity in attending all church duties and left to her children a lasting example of faith and purity. Her funeral took place on Wednesday morning, at St. Alex's Church, and was largely attended. Requiem mass was celebrated by the Rev. Dr. Walker. P.P., thence to the beautiful cemetery, where all that was mortal of a kind and loving mother was laid to rest. Besides her aged husband, there are left to mourn three sons and two daughters,—S. Basil and Jimmie, Mrs. John F. Chiasson at Bear River, Augustine, Seattle, Wash., Joseph P. and Miss Georgie at home. Her oldest son, Daniel, died in Nelson, B.C., 23 years ago. The pall-bearers were Joseph McIsaac, John McMillan, James McCormack, John McKinnon, Charles McKinnon, Andrew McDonald, Blessed are the dead, who die in the Lord. May her soul rest in peace.

Melvin was a general favorite with young and old alike. The children loved to be with him, because he entered into their amusements; among the older people he had a wide circle of friends and no enemies. The many who visited him during his illness were received with a pleasant smile and a hearty welcome. His keen mind, bright wit, and withal kinder consideration unassuming manner endeared him to everyone as evidenced by the vast concourse of people to pay a last tribute of respect. The services were conducted by the Rev. J. S. Bennell, who gave a most impressive address from a passage quoted by the departed. The Rev. John Shirling, a former pastor, and a close friend of the family, offered touching and inspiring prayers. The hymns chosen were among those that Melvin so often sang vigorously and with fervor. Melvin made no pretence, and he did not need to. Men took him as he was, and they found in him through and through, the word was the equivalent of his bond, honesty was his watchword, and anything mean or small was foreign in his nature. We do miss you, Melvin; you made life so much the brighter for all of us. You made us love you for yourself alone, and now we must struggle along the weary way without you. Your vacant chair can never be filled and we feel our loss so deeply that affections tear must flow. But we weep only because we miss you during this earthly pilgrimage. Our grief is softened as we look forward to that happy reunion when partings will be over, and the circle will be complete: He leaves to mourn a kind husband, and affectionate son and brother, his wife Cora, daughter of George and Mrs. White, York Pt., his parents, John T. and Mrs. MacLeod, still living at New Glasgow, one brother, Wilfred J., who resides

E. Hughes and Messrs. Reddin, Foster, Dalton, Hennessey, Brown and Enman. It was decided that every member who could possibly do so would attend the convention. President Dalton, was an exceptionally good one, showing that he had given much time and thought to matters pertaining to the Association. The report of Secretary Registrar Brown was also highly satisfactory to every member of the Association. Owing to the unavoidable absence of Treasurer H. L. Bethune, who is at present on military duty at Petawawa, his report was made by Mr. Brown showing the financial standing of the Association to be in an equally satisfactory condition. It was moved by Mr. D. O'M. Reddin, seconded by Hon. Mr. Hughes and unanimously carried that a letter be drafted and sent to Mrs. (Dr.) Darrach, of Kensington, expressing the sympathy of the Association in the recent death of Dr. Darrach, who was a member of the first executive and held various positions of trust in the Association; also to Mr. P. N. Enman, expressing sympathy in the death of his mother. The election of officers then took place and resulted as follows:— President—F. P. Hennessey. Vice-President—J. E. Gallant. Treasurer—Hon. Geo. E. Hughes. Sec. Registrar—W. J. Brown. Executive, Messrs. J. E. Dalton, D. O.M. Reddin, and E. A. Foster. At the close of the meeting a vote of thanks, moved by Mr. Foster, seconded by Mr. Victor Coyle was tendered Messrs. Reddin Bros. for the use of the tea rooms. Mr. Reddin fittingly responded, thanking the members for their kind words.

In the afternoon the visitors were taken in automobiles to the Experimental Farm and other places of interest in the vicinity of the city. In the evening the members, their wives and lady friends enjoyed an excellent dinner at the Beach Grove Inn, served in Mr. Sterns' best style. The next annual meeting of the Association will be held at Summerside.

"Gold! Gold!"

BACK in the '40's it took months for the thrilling news of California's gold strike to cross the continent. Today, a few hours after so important a discovery, the entire story would be known to newspaper readers throughout the country.

In the early days, news spread by word of mouth. Today, the telegraph and telephone speed the message into the newspaper office, it is rushed into type, the paper is printed and shortly the news becomes public property.

There are two kinds of news in the paper. One consists of the affairs of other people; their sayings, doings and what they're going to do; things that have happened, may rappen and didn't happen.

The other kind of news is about your affairs. That's the part you'll find in the advertisements. There's a lot of valuable news there about things you want or will want; things that have to do with your own personal comfort, convenience and every-day efficiency.

Every advertisement carries a personal message to some one. Many advertisements carry messages of vital interest or value to you.

That's why you can't afford to miss the advertisements.

Read them. The advertisements are decidedly valuable to you.
