Brampton's main street was covered with more than a foot of water as Ontario's Etobicoke creek went on its annual rampage. Sign on theatre marquee instead of "Canyon Passage" could well have been "Canal Passage" for the evening. During the flood scores of children floated rafts and played in its waters. Barricades were set up and provincial police rerouted traffic on highway 1 which runs through the town. By 7 p.m. water was 15 feet above normal and lapping at barricades set up in front of the stores. Hundreds of people waded about in rubbers. Brampton situation, which returned to normal later in the night, was repeated in other sections of southern Ontario.

An inquiry has been launched by C.P.R. officials to determine cause of train collision between two freights which killed two men and injured two others in snowstorm at Ashton, Ont., five miles north of Carleton Place. Aerial view of wreckage scene shows part of the station moved. The two dead men were in charge of a westbound freight.

Eastbound freight was entering a siding when the other train smashed into its rear box cars.

There's nothing small about this cheque, which is to be presented to the National Cancer Institute of Canada at forthcoming annual meeting in Ottawa of the Canadian Cancer society, by the Alberta division. The $50,000 comprises the largest single donation ever made towards cancer research in Canada. Some of the delegates are shown here after they approved the donation. The cheque is of ample dimensions — 10 feet by three feet.
