Dionne Quintuplets In "Country Doctor" At Prince Edward

In "The Country Doctor," the picture now at the Prince Edward Theatre, the world's five most famous baby girls are making their starring debut in a picture chock-full of drama, suspense, comedy and romance.

They are the Dionne Quintuplets, selected to head an all-star Hollywood cast in a warmly human and gripping story of a doctor in the Canadian wilds, a man who sacrifices career and ambition to soothe the ills of helpless people.

Jean Hersholt, ace of Hollywood character stars, is the doctor. After years of unstinting devotion to his people, he finds himself with a desolate old age. The enemy of the company manager, his own insistence on a hospital for his post, had cost him his position.

Called on one last errand of mercy, he helps to bring a straggling brood of quintuplets to the earth. And, in short time, the circumstances are reversed with the doctor the recipient of highest honors, the hero of an excited world.

June Lang and Michael Whalen are prominent in the supporting cast, coupled in romantic roles.

Slim Summersville and John Quaken carry the comedy, while Dorothy Peterson is the nurse.

WRESTLING IN SOCCER

MANCHESTER—One player on of the Manchester City football club would make a good wrestler. In a recent English league match against Arsenal he became so indignant at an outbreak of petty fouls that he seized a Gunner by the scruff of the neck and the stick of his shorts, bringing him to earth with a typical wrestler's throw. The referee treated the outbreak as a mere technicality and the crowd got a good laugh.

Suitable Eyewear Improves Appearance

You will occasionally hear a person complain that she objects to wearing a correction because of the effect on her "looks." That argument no longer applies. The modern eye service considers appearance as well as vision.

Weak eyes, blurred vision, eye strain, and other conditions can be corrected with the right glasses.

Peter B. Kyne's Western At The Capitol

Riding hell-bent for adventure and romance, stalwart Charles Starrett, new western star, scores another decisive hit in his latest Peter B. Kyne romantic adventure film, "The Mysterious Avenger," which opened at the Capitol Theatre yesterday. It's a grand new story from the danger-dipped pen of America's all adventure writer—thrill-filled tale of brave men and reckless romance.

Seen as a Texas Ranger, Starrett comes to Medicine Springs on a double mission—to solve a cattle-rustling mystery and to clear his father, unjustly accused of the theft. He arrives too late to save his father's life but he avenges the personal issues and adhering death, but clears other innocent men wrongly accused, rounds up the entire gang of rustlers, and wins the hand of Joan Perry, his leading lady.

Miss Perry is attractive in her trim riding togs and dainty party frocks. She not only looks charming, but acts very well. Wheeler Oakman's brand of villainy is even deadlier than usual, while Charles Locher, in a supporting role, is a screen newcomer who evidences outstanding promise.

David Selman doesn't miss a trick with his direction. It is sure-fire all the way, full of speed and zest. Performances by supporting members of the cast are generally capable. Those who come through in especially fine fashion are George Chesbrough, Dick Bottler, Hal Price, Jack Rockwell and Eddie Cobb.

If you still care for entertainment with a kick, don't miss "The Mysterious Avenger."

YOU lose vital nerve force if you allow stomach to distress you. When nervous and rundown and in need of a tonic—when your weight is below normal, and you feel tired-out and listless—follow the advice of Mrs. Rose Cook.

"My daughter, Doris, (picture on her face) was in a badly run-down condition when she was six years old. She was quite thin, had big, watery eyes, and pimples on her face, caused by faulty digestion. SERIOUSLY ILL—Word was received yesterday from Sydney, C.B., of the serious illness of Mrs. William Macdonald, formerly of Charlottetown. She is a sister of Messrs. James and Daniel Miller and an aunt of Cecil Miller of Frenchfort, P. E. I.

MANY HAPPY RETURNS—Today, April 24th, Mr. Crisp Moore, widely known and respected farmer of Westmoreland will celebrate his 80th birthday quietly at his home, with his wife and family. Mr. Moore who has lived during the reigns of four sovereigns, Queen Victoria, Edward VII, George V, and Edward VIII, was born at Westmoreland, P. E. I. on April 24, 1856.

"HILLSBORO" SOLD—The old side wheeler "Hillsboro" which for over forty years played the part of a chariot in the hands of Mrs. Charlottetown and Rocky Point has been sold to Messrs. Les. Simmons, Freetown and Frank B. Clarke, City. They in turn have sold the craft to the Pictou Foundry and Machine Co., where she will be broken up for "junk." The boat will be towed to Pictou within the next few days.

EASTER COMMUNION HELD—The Easter Communion service of St. James United Church was held on Sunday morning. There was a full attendance of communicants present and a splendid sermon on "Broken Things" was delivered by Rev. D. M. Sinclair, of Valleyfield, P.E.I. Easter lilies and other flowers made a pleasing appearance around the pulpit. The large congregation enjoyed the thought-provoking address by Rev. Mr. Sinclair very much.—Sydney Post Record.

A SPLENDID EXAMPLE—The Charlottetown Laborer's Protective Union set a good example to the rest of Canada when on Monday they forwarded a cheque to the Nova Scotia Department of Mines to help defray the expenses of the miners engaged in the rescue work of the trapped men in the Pass River mine. This action on the part of the union men, who are themselves all in poor financial circumstances, was highly commended by the officials at the mine and was perhaps the first move inaugurated whereby a fund has been established under Red Cross auspices which has run into thousands of dollars.—Summerside Agriculturist.

CORNWALL—The Easter Thanksgiving service at the Cornwall W. M. S. was held at the parsonage on Monday evening, April 13th. In the absence of the President, through sickness, Mrs. Ross presided. The meeting opened with soft music. An Easter service of worship prepared by the literature department of the W. M. S. of the United Church of Canada was fittingly and effectively carried out. A trio "Work for the Night is Coming," was pleasingly rendered by Eileen Shaw, Hilda Crosby and Etta Ross. The following readings were given: "Easter Thoughts," by Mrs. Jack McPhail; "Love Never Fails," by Mrs. Harry Crosby; "How a Mother of the East helped an unknown mother of the West," by Mrs. Muriel Godfrey, and "Meditation," by Mrs. W. R. Shaw. Enumerating the contents of a parcel sent to a poor woman in the West was interesting. The Treasurer reported fifty dollars raised for the first quarter. The Mission Band had sent away twenty-five dollars and little hands "at the impulse of their love" were busy at an autograph quilt. Dr. Florence Murray was the missionary selected for special prayer. A solo, "The Ninety and Nine" was followed by the Mispah benediction. Lunch was then served and a sing song of Easter hymns enjoyed by everyone.

Yet OXYDOL is so safe and mild that every washable color comes out sparkling, fresh. Even sheer cotton prints have come through 100 consecutive OXYDOL washes without any perceptible sign of fading.

OXYDOL is economical, too. Tests show that OXYDOL will go 1/2 to 1/3 again as far as even the latest soap chips on the market.

Interesting Art Exhibit

Art lovers in the city and province have a special treat in store for them on Friday when Premier Campbell opens a special exhibition The exhibition which is the last one for this year, is of unusual interest in that, at one end of the room are some thirty paintings in oil and water colors by artists in Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island. The paintings were chosen from the art societies of the three provinces, and the thirty now on exhibition were selected by three judges named by the Maritime Art Society at Halifax some time ago.

This exhibition is especially interesting in that it is the first time that a collection of Maritime Art has gone travelling together, and that it marks the first year which the paintings have been in existence. The paintings are decidedly varied both in subject matter and execution. They are well worth the attention of local connoisseurs, and should also prove helpful to amateurs by local artists. They are the work of Mrs. D. M. Gass and Mrs. F. A. Creelman, and these ladies are to be congratulated on having their work chosen by the judges making the selection.

There are also some twenty-seven paintings, done by other members of the local Society, and it too is the first exhibition of its kind. It comprises paintings in oils, water colors, pastels and a few samples of crayon work from life, done in the past few weeks in sketching classes. There is also some craft work, linoleum cuts, wood carving, hooked mat designs and metal work.

The joint exhibition, which will be open to the public every afternoon and evening, including Saturday, till Wednesday, should serve to create added enthusiasm to the local society, which has already shown such enthusiasm in its work during its first year of existence.

WOMEN REFUSE TO WEAR SPLIT SKIRTS IN CITY

PARIS, April 23—Couturiers were wrong a couple of months ago when they predicted that women would adopt the divided skirts for street wear. Not only that, they went so far as to venture that there might be a number of spring suits worn with trousers instead of skirts. Style experts were wrong, much to everyone's relief except the unfortunate couturiers who had tried to launch this style. The suits with divided skirts looked well in dress salons, where they were displayed by tall, slender mannikins. The trouble is that there are few women with mannikin figures, and the average woman looks short and square when she wears a divided skirt. Mannikins take hesitating, minding steps or pivot slowly with their feet together. Split skirts displayed thus, retain their shape and look very wearable. They twist, pull and wrinkle ridiculously, however, when women take long or quick steps.

To retain this season's slim, straight line, a divided skirt necessarily must be cut rather scantily. The split can be disguised as a pleat when displayed in a salon, but when strides are taken on the street the division is apparent. Admittedly, they are practical for country wear, but they are decidedly out of place in the city.

Ch'town Planes To Return From U. S. Today

The fast Stearman biplane, owned by the Canadian Airways and piloted by Burton Trice, which proceeded to Halifax Monday to await orders to fly in connection with the Moose River mining disaster flew to St. John, N. B., yesterday morning under charter by an American film company. Pilot Trice's instructions were that an American plane was to meet him there and take delivery of the films. The U. S. plane, however, did not get through and the film company instructed pilot Trice to proceed to Boston. He reported a safe arrival there to the Canadian Airways headquarters in Charlottetown. At present two Canadian Airways planes with headquarters in Charlottetown are in the United States in connection with the Moose River mining disaster. Pilot Walter Fowler, flew the twin engine nine passenger "Dragon" to Newark, N. J., on Wednesday. Both planes are expected to return to Charlottetown today.

The films that were flown to Boston yesterday were taken at the scene of the disaster when the two entombed men were brought to the surface early yesterday morning.

C.W.L. Study Group Meeting

Mrs. W. O. Davey entertained the C. W. L. Study Group on Tuesday evening, April 21st, at her home, Weymouth Street.

Mrs. A. J. Howatt, convenor, who presided, opened the meeting with prayer. She then presented Dr. J. T. Croteau, the guest speaker of the evening.

Dr. Croteau gave a very interesting informal talk on Adult Education, stressing mainly the advantages and clear manner with which the learned speaker dealt with the many questions asked by the members enabled them to get a good grasp of the excellent scheme of thrift which is proving of such benefit in other parts of Canada and the United States.

As this was the closing meeting of the series for the season, a short recreational program was carried out. A hearty note of thanks was presented to Dr. Croteau for his interesting talk. A dainty lunch was then served by the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Corrigan.

Grateful thanks were extended by the group to Mrs. Davey for her gracious hospitality, and the meeting adjourned.

Returned Missionary Carleton Talks About Japan

LONDON, Ont. April 23—Painting a vivid picture of Japan, Mrs. MacQueen Baldwin, of Toronto, a missionary home on furlough, told in particular of the diversity and strangeness of the religions of that country.

In an interview Mrs. Baldwin said: "In Japan there are temples in every corner, temples with gorgeous rituals and ornate robes for the officiating priests."

In speaking of her evangelical work, she said that in Japan strangers must make the calls first; that is the accepted social procedure. In one case to which she referred, the woman said: "I have been sitting waiting for you to come and see me."

Children are almost worshipped. Anything in the form of beauty or youth is adored. "Even the cobble working on the streets will have before him a vase of flowers or a potted plant, at which he will gaze fondly." In the schools, flower arranging is one of the elementary subjects.

The factories of Japan are not as poorly managed as many suppose, Mrs. Baldwin pointed out. The larger ones are under government supervision but in the privately-owned corporations, "sweat shop" labor is used. Formerly the country was ridden with tuberculosis because of the inferior food and lack of exercise, but in more recent years conditions are being improved. An extensive athletic program has been introduced.

Although retired, Mrs. Baldwin will return at the end of August with her daughter, Cloely, to the country she knows so well.

SIGHT CONSERVATION

"Of all sad words of tongue or pen, the saddest are these 'It might have been'." These words can be suitably quoted to express our feelings with regard to the sightless eyes which might now see if only certain things had been done at the right time.

Sight conservation begins before the birth of the child. Concomitant in the mother may result in the infection of the child's eyes with the same disease during birth. This means opthalmia neonatorum, a disease of the eyes of the new-born that causes blindness unless prompt and effective treatment is given.

Fortunately, the simple procedure of placing a few drops of silver nitrate solution in the eyes of the child destroys any disease-producing bacteria which may have gained entrance as the child passed through the birth canal. This procedure is required as a routine practice in many places. As a result, blindness from this cause has been greatly reduced during the past decade.

The eyes are so placed that the bony structure of the brow and cheek saves them from many injuries. The eyelids act as shields and protectors. The kinds of accidents which may lead to eye injuries are almost infinite in their variety. Sight may be so damaged through accident that there is no hope of saving it, but more often is sight lost through failure to secure skilled care than as a direct result of the injury.

Thus it will be seen that partial or complete loss of sight could be avoided, in many cases, either through preventive measures for the eyes of the new-born, or through the prompt securing of skilled care for the treatment of all eye injuries.

His many friends will be glad to learn that Mr. Don McEwen of Augustine Cove whose condition has been causing much anxiety, is reported considerably improved.

Mrs. James Mulligan of Cape Traverse has entered the Sacred Heart Home in Charlottetown.

Messrs. Reg. Muttart, Thos. Carruthers and Jack Carruthers, and Miss Miriam Carruthers all of Summerside, visited friends in Cape Traverse and Augustine Cove on Sunday.

Mr. Montague Campbell spent Sunday in Cape Traverse, the guest of his nephews, Messrs. Arthur and Frank Campbell.

The Cape Traverse Young People's Union met at the home of Mrs. Nathan Bell on Tuesday night, with the president, Miss Eva Stevenson in the chair. Rev. Arthur Organ gave a most interesting address on superstition and Miss Esther Guignon was in charge of the Bible Questions. Following the devotional and business period the monthly paper, edited by Miss Mary Muttart, Eleanor Bell and Dorothy McDonald, was read and was much appreciated. A committee was appointed to arrange for a softball team and it was decided that the next meeting should take the form of a social evening. Miss Grace Howatt was appointed secretary in place of Kenneth Bell who has gone to Charlottetown. After a period spent in games and music a most enjoyable meeting was brought to a close with the Mispah Benediction.

The "Little Jewels" branch of the Primary Department, held their regular meeting on Friday afternoon with the President, Claude Bell, presiding. The meeting opened with the singing of O'Canada, followed by the minutes of the previous meeting which were read and adopted.

A report was given by the Health and Cleanliness committee. The following program was then carried: "Riddles by the school;" "The Old Spinning Wheel," by Gordon MacDonald; reading of health rules by Frances Smith; irritability, headaches, etc. Early correction of defective vision obviates all such unpleasant results.

Questions concerning health addressed to the Canadian Medical Association, 184 College St., Toronto, will be answered personally by letter.
