

Ice Making At Montague Curling Rink

Ice making operations began yesterday at the Montague Curling Rink. The new artificial ice plant has been completed and was used yesterday. The plant consists of a diesel compressor, condenser and refrigerant tank. Freon fluid is used to cool the brine which flows through 14,000 feet of pipe in the main rink and which freezes the water which is being sprayed over the sand covering the pipes.

Seven Mau Mau Terrorists Quilt

NAIROBI, Kenya (Reuters)—The Mau Mau terrorist organization's "chief justice" and its "prosecuting attorney" in the Mau Mau area have given themselves up under government's new surrender terms, it was announced Friday.

An official communique said Alphonse Njanga, who described himself as "Chief Justice Karimul" and Kirani Njau, who described himself as "prosecuting attorney," gave themselves up to loyal tribesmen.

Karimul confessed that he had ordered the hanging of about 100 Mau Mau for offences against the organization and the flogging of many more for "lesser" crimes.

He said he had been in the forest for 22 months and surrendered because of severe hardships and lack of food, water and clothing. He had heard of the new surrender offer from leaflets and "sky-shouting" aircraft.

Six other terrorists have surrendered in the last 24 hours, the communique added.

Montague Camera Club Meeting

Montague Camera Club held its regular meeting at the home of Dr. Bud Ings, on Wednesday, with nine members and four visitors present. The president, Vic Popler, opened the business meeting.

The next meeting is the entry date of January "Snow Scenes" also the evening would be spent learning how to color. Miss Vera Beck was asked to choose a sound film for showing at this meeting.

Following the business meeting the guest speaker for the balance of the evening was Mr. Roland Taylor of Charlottetown. Mr. Taylor conveyed the best wishes of the Charlottetown Camera Club to the Montague club. He then announced that the P. E. I. salon of amateur photography would be held in June this year, to tie in with the centennial celebrations.

The closing date for entries is to be the 16th of May. More information would be available at a later date.

Mr. Taylor then gave an interesting showing of color slides including Christmas scenes, snow scenes, and natural life, etc., which were much appreciated by all present.

Lunch was then served by the hostess and several of the members, bringing an enjoyable evening to a close. The next meeting to be at Miss Charlotte Gordon's, lunch committee Miss MacDonald and Miss Vera Beck.

CBC Strike Threat Heard

MONTREAL, (CP)—The possibility of a strike in CBC radio and television stations raised Friday when it was announced a strike vote will be taken Feb. 2 among the corporation's technical employees.

The vote will be taken among 783 employees, members of the National Association of Broadcast Employees and Technicians (C.I.O.), union officials said.

Union officials said an affirmative vote would empower them to call a strike unless a "satisfactory" agreement is concluded with the CBC on or before Feb. 16.

The dispute involves wages, overtime pay and job classification.

It is understood the CBC has made plans to continue broadcasting services in the event a strike does occur. Reports of such plans have not been denied or confirmed by the CBC.

11 Seized During London Demonstration

LONDON (Reuters)—British justice dealt lightly Wednesday with 11 men seized during a clash outside Parliament Tuesday night between police and a crowd of 4,000 demonstrating against German rearmament.

Seven defendants were dismissed, seven placed on bail, and two received small fines. Carpenter John Holland, 25, of Taunton, was fined £1 4s for assaulting a policeman and London clerk George Beveridge, 25, was fined £1 on a similar charge.

For weeks, the Communist Daily Worker had urged Britons to lobby their members of Parliament against German rearmament.

"This is the nearest thing London has had to a riot," one police officer said.

One policeman said the square outside Parliament was "absolutely blocked" with demonstrators and traffic was paralyzed.

Acquitted In Children's Death

BROCKVILLE, Ont. (CP)—Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Elliott were acquitted Wednesday on charges of failing to provide the necessities of life in connection with the Christmas time death of their two young children.

The children, Donna Marie, 11 months, and David, 2½, died in hospital from pneumonia. There are six other children in the family.

Magistrate Gordon H. Jernyn handed down the acquittal verdict at court opening Wednesday.

Although pneumonia was the "terminal" cause of death, medical witnesses testified last week that "malnutrition due to an inadequate diet—mainly a vitamin C deficiency" was the contributing factor in the deaths of Donna Marie and David.

Mrs. Elliott, 30, testified that Donna and David were the only children of five not breast fed. She was aware that they were "thin, pale and bony," but did not think their condition warranted medical attention.

Earlier a neighbor and social worker had testified that the Elliotts' six other children were well clothed and fed.

DUTCH LIKE JEEPS

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Willys Motors Inc. said Friday the Dutch government has ordered 4,000 Jeeps the largest single foreign order ever placed for Jeeps.

J. C. Delaplaine, general manager of Willys-Overland Export Corp., said Dutch labor will be used to assemble the vehicles and Dutch parts will be used wherever possible.

In Memoriam

WILLIAM G. GELDERT The sudden death on Friday, January 21, of William G. Geldert, son of the late Capt. George Geldert and Sophia Jennings of Lunenburg, N.S., came as a shock to the community of Montague.

Estimates Indicate

Construction program on some destroyers and building of minesweepers, and the navy's 14 new destroyers will be a little higher.

ARMY Construction costs are up nearly $20,000,000 to $87,500,000, reflecting higher spending for new camps such as Gagetown, N. B., and housing for soldiers and their dependents in Europe.

The heaviest slash is in the amount appropriated for tanks and armored fighting vehicles, indicating completion of conversion to British Centurion tanks. The appropriation for this purpose is $9,769,000 compared with $28,064,000 in the current fiscal year.

Appropriations for armament equipment, ammunition and bombs and signal and wireless equipment all are down.

Signal and wireless equipment costs are up nearly $5,000,000 to $34,773,000, indicating the continued heavy spending for electronic gear.

By far the largest amount is needed for acquisition and construction of new equipment being designed for the three armed forces. The total is $28,628,000 compared with $23,285,000 in the current fiscal year.

Montague Rink Has First Skate

The Montague skating rink opened its doors for the first public skate last night and a very large crowd attended the initial skate of the year. The ice was in excellent condition despite only two days of flooding weather, and Mr. Wilfred Waterworth, the rink manager, expects that with another two days there will be over four inches of ice.

The first hockey game is scheduled for tonight between Montague Primroses and Milton Hornets, and this promises to be a first class exhibition since the two teams have been playing in Charlottetown for some time with very "close" competition.

Skating schedules will be drawn up this week for adults and school children. Mr. Waterworth has also expressed great interest in the pre-school children up to six years of age, and he has set aside two half-hour periods each week for these little beginners. Wednesdays at 2:30 p.m. and Saturdays at 1:00 p.m. all pre-school children will have access to the ice space, and no other children will be permitted on the ice during this half hour. This, Mr. Waterworth said, is to assure the little kiddies of freedom of the ice without having to be careful of older children who might accidentally skate into them.

Besides this program for the pre-school kiddies, Mr. Waterworth plans an extensive program of hockey for the school children who will be given every opportunity, under supervision, to use the rink. This, together with the program of the senior hockey team, the Primroses, gives promise of being a very interesting season to skaters, hockey players and spectators alike, and we may only hope that the season will be a long one.

The Week at S. D. U.

Tonight, the students of St. Dunstan's will exhibit their talents in three events—a hockey game, a basketball game and a play. The hockey game is the second this year played by S. D. U. in the Maritime Intercollegiate series. The first took place at Mount Allison University, Sackville, and Mount A won by a score of 4-1. When we consider the 9-0 defeat we received at the hands of the Mount A squad in the first game we played with them last year, we can regard the 4-1 defeat with pride. Tonight S. D. U. plays against the highly rated St. Thomas team from St. Thomas University, Chatham, New Brunswick. In a recent hockey game with U.N.B., St. Thomas tied them 3-3, so everything points to a hard battle for our steel-shod boys tonight.

The second event in which the college takes part this evening is a basketball game. The University of New Brunswick team visits our gym tonight to endeavour to defeat our highly rated basketball team. In contrast to hockey, the basketball picture looks very bright, the Saints looking forward to winning this one tonight and in the future weeks of the basketball season of winning the Maritime Intercollegiate basketball championship. The students of St. Dunstan's are behind you, team, and wish with all their hearts that you will do as you did last year—defeat U.N.B.

The third event tonight is the presentation of the play "Antigone" at the Queen Charlotte High School auditorium by the St. Dunstan's Dramatic Society. The play, under the capable direction of Rev. Adrian Arsenault, is St. Dunstan's entry in the P. E. I. Regional Festival of the Dominion Drama Festival. The other play in the Regional Festival, the comedy, "The White Headed Boy", presented by the Little Theatre Guild of Charlottetown, was given last evening. Adjudicator for both plays is British-born Andre Van Gysegheam. "The White Headed Boy" defeated "Antigone" in the Provincial Drama Festival, but now under a different adjudicator the decision may be reversed.

On Monday evening the students of S. D. U. had the great pleasure of hearing a speech, "The Menace Of Communism" by Lewis Perimbam, the national secretary of the World University Service. The speech, given in the college auditorium by the Malayan-born secretary was received with a great deal of enthusiasm by the students who thronged to hear him. Following the speech Mr. Perimbam

Designer Has Relatives Here

A revolutionary machine developed for the purpose of grinding crankshaft pins has been put into operation at a Worcester, Mass., industrial plant. The machine, which is capable of doing the work of four to six automatic grinders is fully automatic and can execute the whole process of crankshaft grinding without the touch of a human hand.

Chiefly responsible for the designing of the machine was Mr. Stewart Madar, a nephew of Mrs. C. W. Patterson of this City. His mother, Mrs. Madar, was the former Evelyn Grace Stewart of Brackley Point Road, who died quite recently.

The Norton Company for which Mr. Madar works has received orders for the installation of the machine in the Studebaker-Packard factory and in the General Motors plant in West Germany.

Two years of development, with Mr. Madar in charge, went into the machine. Working with Mr. Madar were 21 other engineers and 800 production workers.

The conventional work of grinding a crank shaft is carried out in several operations but with the Norton machine everything is automatic even to its oiling. The machines shift the shaft to the various grinders, grinds them to tolerance limits and places the finished crankshaft in another conveyor. It is capable of grinding 45 to 60 complete crankshafts in one hour.

Research workers in the automotive industry have termed the new machine "a step toward the dream of a fully automatic factory."

MOBILE BLOOD CLINIC

MONTREAL (CP)—Eskimos, Indians and United States Air Force personnel are expected to contribute 1,500 pints of blood next week when the Canadian Red Cross mobile clinic visits Goose Bay, Labrador. The clinic will be flown to Goose Bay by the RCAF. The Eskimos and Indians are residents of Happy Valley, a settlement five miles from Goose Bay. There are some 700 USAF personnel in the area.
