Regular meeting of St. Laurence Lodge tonight at eight o'clock. Third degree.

CAFTRE FOR ENGLAND.—A train load of beef cattle passed through the city yesterday from Manitoba for Halifax. They will be shipped to England. There were twenty-one or two cars in the train.—St. John Sun.

POLICE COURT.—This forenoon Frank McAtee, Donald Macpherson and Edward Flanagan were again arraigned on a charge of breaking and entering the premises of Herbert Stanway. At one o'clock the hearing of the case was adjourned for one hour.

CONCERT.—Arrangements are being made for a concert in St. Patrick's hall on about the middle of May, the money realized at which will be donated to a most praiseworthy object. A good programme will be presented. The exact date will be announced later on.

VALUABLE BUILDING LOTS.—The auction sale on Wednesday next, May 1st, at 12 o'clock, noon, on the premises of those choice building lots adjoining the residence of C. D. Rankin, Esq., offers a grand chance to secure at special bargains the most desirable plots for private residences now in the market.

PIXAFORE.—This opera will be repeated in the Opera House on Thursday evening next, and will be as attractively staged and performed as it was last week. All should attend, if possible, as the proceeds are to be given for the purpose of providing a land stand for Queen Square Gardens. Plans of hall and tickets at Johnson's and Rankin's.

OUT ON STRIKE.—The entire working force of the Cascade Woollen Mills, Okland, Me., went out on strike on Friday morning for a restoration of wages. In October, 1894, a reduction of ten per cent was made in all departments of the mill, and the operatives claim that the company promised to restore the cut as soon as business would permit. Of it. Two hundred hands are involved.

SAD ACCIDENT.—A very sad accident happened at Murray Harbor North on Friday last. While Mr. Thomas Millar, son of the late Andrew Millar, was assisting some other men in turning over a large boat, it fell over on him and crushed him severely. It is said that his internal injuries are of a nature that do not give him any chance of his recovery. Mr. Millar is about 40 years of age and is one of the most respected inhabitants of Murray Harbor.

THE HERSTLER HAS ARRIVED.—By telegram this morning from Amherst Harbor, Magdalen Islands, to Geo. D. Loonworth, the ship, Ethel Aggie, Capt. M. Phalen, arrived yesterday, first vessel of the season to arrive—passed around large quantities of ice, only 24 hours from West Point. We understand the steamer St. Olaf, carrying H. M. S. mail, with a subsidy of $10,000 a year, is lying in Saurie waiting for the ice to clear. This is the second season Captain Phalen arrived there before the St. Olaf. We would suggest that the first mail to Magdalen Islands in future be given to Captain Phalen. No doubt Captain Phalen will be the first schooner to arrive back with a cargo of herring to supply early bait to lobster factories.

TEACHER'S INSTITUTE.—The regular meeting of the teachers' institute was held on Saturday evening. Mr. Stewart and Mr. McSwain gave lessons as usual. When the lessons were over a short discussion took place on the new course of studies for the city schools, when it was decided that a committee consisting of the principals and vice-principals of the three schools, together with one lady from each school—Miss Scott, Miss Madman and Miss Payne—have charge of the matter, and submit their report to the trustees of the schools in June. This being done the president vacated the chair, and L. Miller was appointed chairman for a few minutes. A vote of thanks was then moved and carried, and presented to Mr. Stewart and Mr. McSwain for their valuable services to the institute in conducting the lessons given in music and drawing during the past winter. These votes of thanks were suitably acknowledged by the two gentlemen, and the meeting of the institute was brought to a close for the present term.

ABOUT THE NEW JACKETS

It might have been expected that owing to the size of dress sleeves now worn it would be impossible to get jackets that would be comfortable and in every way desirable.

The IMMENSE SLEEVES we are showing in our new Jackets entirely overcome the possible difficulties. But not only are the new sleeves large, they are beyond a doubt extremely handsome, the new draping at the shoulder being artistic and becoming.

AS OPEN LETTER.
To Hon. F. Peters, Attorney-General, Commissioner of Crown Lands and Public Works; Provincial Secretary, Treasurer; Czar of P. E. Island, etc., etc.

The dealers in Prince County in liquid groceries and other exhilarating fluids desire to extend to you their heartiest thanks and to express the deep obligation under which you have placed us in reappointing Mr. Saunders vendor. The fact of your doing so in the face of such opposition as we understand you had to overcome marks you as a leader whom those in our business are in duty bound to support, and such support, influence and vote we hereby pledge you.

Had the appointment been withheld much longer, it was our intention to have organized township clubs under the protection and on equal terms as the one run so successfully by you and Mr. Davies in Charlotteville. (Please send us a few copies of your buy-laws; they would be a great help to us.)

Permit us to say that we have carefully watched your course as a politician for the past three sessions, and the many useful acts passed under your able leadership has impressed us with your personality. The Black Knot Act, the Reclamation Act, the Squatters Limitation Act, the Farmer's Tax Act, the Bachelor's Act and the tax on Newfoundland dogs, having all received the royal assent must be most gratifying to you. Permit us to suggest that the appointment of Saunders and dismissal of Matthews were master strokes towards a repeal of the Scott Act and a return to that system under which our own eyes enjoyed freedom and under which you could raise thousands of dollars revenue.

Yours, &c.,
On behalf of selves and fellows,

HORSE NOTES.—In Saturday's issue we said Mr. Jerry Murphy took away six horses. It should have read sixteen. Mr. Murphy intends returning to the city in about a month or sooner. The lot taken by this well known buyer on Saturday was without doubt the finest shipment for some time. This looks as if the price of horses is going down. Mr. Murphy stated that he will buy more as he can see of the same kind as purchased by him last week, and pay good prices for them, too.

MR. BENJ. DAVIES' LETTER.

In Re The Southern Railway.

Sir,—Mr. Benj. Davies, in a letter to the Guardian of the 26th, congratulates that paper on its advocacy of the Southern Railway. He might also congratulate some of the lights for doing the same thing in the local Legislature. He might proceed further and take his dear friend the Patriot to task for not taking a decided stand in its favor. He might go still further and arraign both the Patriot and the Guardian, as well as the whole Grit party in this Province, for throwing cold water on the agitation not long ago.

He might condescend to tell us why his party changed its attitude on the Belfast and the Murray Harbor Railway; also, how it is, as he says it is, no election dodge to agitate for it now—especially, I suppose, as it is done by the Grit party. Most people will say that its grit party. But never mind, to Mr. Benj. Davies takes great pains to explain why the railway was not advocated in Parliament. I presume that he means by the representatives for Queen's County, Messrs. Davies and Welsh, as he has done this, he might also surely try to explain why his party opposed the agitation begun by the Conservative party last January, and previously.

It is when he proceeds to say that he rejoices that the supporters of the government have joined hands with the Opposition on this question that he makes himself ridiculous. This is certainly rich. After explaining why our representatives for Queen's County failed to support the matter, and congratulating the Grit press for lately turning a somersault on this question, he would try to make people believe the Grit party were the advocates at first. Why not say at once that he rejoiced his party at last realized that the railway agitation was bound to stay till the railway became an accomplished fact, and on the principle "better late than never" the Grit party joined the Conservative party to carry it. It is to be hoped, however, that it is not the same help as Mr. L. H. Davies and Mr. William Welsh gave the Island about the tunnel—trying to get the Dominion Government to subsidize about the cost—which was given by Mr. Davies at $20,000,000. Indeed, Mr. Benj. Davies may have the same object in view, when he places the cost of the Belfast and Murray Harbor railway at $1,000,000,000. Mr. Benj. Davies would like to be enlightened as to Senator Ferguson's position—whether he is in favor of it or not. I might refer Mr. Benj. Davies to the debates in the Dominion Senate last session, and should he have sufficient interest in the matter, he will by reading Senator Ferguson's speech be more than satisfied. I might also refer him to reports of several meetings held in this Province not long ago, and which neither the Patriot nor Guardian cared to publish, which will certainly enable him to see what he apparently wants.

Mr. Benj. Davies appears to have discovered the need of a bridge across the Hillsborough, and you hardly know what he is driving at or what he is looking for. He says he is waiting for some one directly associated with public affairs to see the necessity of this communication with the Capital. Well, I am afraid he will look in vain among his own ranks. Mr. Fred Peters and the whole Grit Party were among the first to see the necessity of a Conservative Government for years—and led the people of Fort Augustus and Belfast to believe that much might be expected from them if they only got in power. They did so. Where is the Bridge? Mr. Benj. Davies is anxiously looking for it. Possibly he is only throwing out a hint for some one to agitate for a bridge in order to spoil our chance for a railway. A certain Mr. L. H. Davies has a great deal to say of this kind of thing at Ottawa. For instance, if he asks that a certain harbor be dredged, and that operations should begin at once, and is told the matter is to be attended to, he at once turns round and says they must begin at once, at other places, too. The end generally is the Government has to take heed of him.

There is such a thing as beginning to ask too much at once. They know that when Mr. L. H. Davies magnified the probable cost of the tunnel, he dealt it a very deadly blow. We must take care now that a most deadly blow is not clandestinely being dealt to be given to both the Local and the railway by advocating for both at once. Perhaps this is the course Mr. Benj. Davies is beginning to outline for Mr. William Welsh in order to regain the dying confidence of Belfast. In either case, I ask the electors to beware. They have a right to doubt the real attitude of the Grit party on the Southern Railway. They should explain why their sudden change. At any rate, let the people watch closely their movements.

The Moth Balls do the rest.

Law of mighty lake and forest!
Where the winter's lake is hoar,
And the winter's leaf is greenest,
And the winter's bird is hoar,
Where the autumn's leaf is hoar,
And her parting smile is dearest;
Where the tempest rushes forth
From the caverns in the north,
With the lightning of his wrath
Sweeping forests from his path.
ALEX. McLAUCHLIN.

Fair fold of river, lake and stream,
Of forests green through all the year,
Of valleys that Arcadian seem,
Of homes that love and plenty cheer;
No other land could be more dear
No other land could be more dear
And doubly blest is he who here
Contented lives—contented dies.
H. L. SPENCER.

Where of yore by tideless waters
Pines their solemn shadows threw,
Curls the graceful smoke from homestead,
Men their thrifty lives pursue.
Where in bygone seasons forest
Shrouded with the tempest's roar,
Spreads now many a stately city;
Solitude returns no more!
Happy country! happy people!
Peace prevails from shore to shore.
RAY LIVINGSTONE.

O stream, and lake, and forest land!
Thou other lands may be as fair,
In this our land no willing hand
But plenty hath, with some to spare;
And Health breathes in our native air;
Her heritage a people free,
Content, and peace, and strength our
dower.
Then where can we a rival see
To this forest land of ours?
Canada! Canada!
This free, this forest land of ours!
JOHN McGREGOR, OF P. E. ISLAND, A BRITISH M. P.

Senator Macdonald writes from Charlottetown to the Montreal Star:

Sir,—From Notes and Queries in the Star of the 16th inst., I infer that Hon. E. Blake, Judge Halliburton and Mr. Jenkins, the author of "Gin's Baby" are supposed to be the only Canadians who have held seats in the British House of Commons. But there was another Canadian who also held that honor at a much earlier period of colonial history. This was John McGregor, the son of an early settler in Prince Edward Island. He was, when a very young man, appointed High Sheriff for the province in 1822. While holding that office a requisition was presented to him, signed by a number of the leading people, requesting him to call a meeting of the inhabitants of each county, for the purpose of consultation, and laying a memorial at the feet of the throne for the information of the Sovereign respecting the state of the Colony. For complying with this reasonable request, which did not accord with the Government's views, he was dismissed from his office. A general election was held shortly afterwards, and he was returned by acclamation to represent Georgetown in the Provincial House of Assembly in 1824. He subsequently left the province about the year 1830, and resided in Britain, where he published "A History of the Progress of America" (in three volumes) "A History of British America," and several large volumes of commercial statistics, besides other works. He became secretary to the London Board of Trade, and was elected for Glasgow which he represented for several years in the House of Commons; and he held the office of under Secretary of State for the Colonies for some time. Prince Edward Island thus claims that one of her sons, a graduate from her provincial legislature, was the first Canadian who held a seat in the imperial parliament, and also an important office in the administration of imperial affairs.
