LEGISLATION INTRODUCED

Vast Iron Ore Production Is Planned For Labrador

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Legislation introduced in the Newfoundland legislature Monday would enable Canadian Javelin Ltd. to enter into a complicated but profitable transaction that will result in the annual production of 22,000,000 tons of iron ore in Labrador.

Ore would be mined in three separate operations in southwestern Labrador under the proposal outlined by Premier Smallwood in introducing the legislation. Javelin places the total capital investment by all participants in the scheme at $500,000,000.

Two sections of the agreement were made public earlier.

Pickands Mather and Co., of Cleveland will mine 6,000,000 tons of ore annually on the western 40 per cent of the five-mile square main Wabush Lake deposit, part of the mineral concession held by Canadian Javelin.

EXPORT TO EUROPE

Pickands Mather will also mine 5,000,000 tons at Lake Julien for the Julien Ore Company, a wholly-owned Javelin subsidiary, to fill Javelin orders, including 2,000,000 tons annually for German steel interests and 200,000,000 tons for British concerns.

The Cleveland firm will pay Javelin for Wabush Lake. Javelin will pay elin $1 a ton or eight per cent of the sales price of the ore mined at Wabush Lake. Javelin will pay Pickands Mather 2½ per cent of the sale price of ore mined at Lake Julien.

The remaining 10,000,000 tons of annual production will be mined by a newly formed company—Wabush Iron Co. Ltd.—on the western 60 per cent of the main deposit.

Wabush was formed by an agreement among Javelin, a 10 per cent Mather, leader of a group of top United States steel concerns; and the Steel Company of Canada.

Wabush will repay the $7,800,000 Javelin spent on exploration and construction in its Wabush money Javelin spent on a 42-mile railway under construction from Wabush Lake to an existing line to tidewater at Seven Islands, Que. The Newfoundland government guaranteed Javelin at $16,500,000 bond issue to finance the railway in 1955. The new legislation will cancel the guarantee.

PLAN TWO TOWNS

Javelin's 10 per cent share in Wabush will give it an interest in the mine, the railway, docks to be built by Wabush at Seven Islands, a concentrating plant and pelletizing plant.

A plant and mill will also be built at Lake Javelin by Pickands Mather. The ore runs 38 per cent iron in the ground—it will be refined to 65 per cent.

Towns will be built at Wabush and Julien. Javelin estimates employment when the mines reach full production—about 1965—will run about 5,000 jobs.

The Newfoundland government will be paid taxes ad royalties totalling 22 cents for every ton of ore mined, and annual income of $4,800,000 when the mines hit capacity.

NALCO LOSES PEP

Mr. Smallwood also introduced legislation to the house whereby Canadian Javelin will take over the Newfoundland Labrador Corporation (Nalco), a former Crown corporation but now a development company in which the Newfoundland government is an 83 per cent stockholder. Nalco was set up to stimulate development of mines and timber in Newfoundland and Labrador, and Mr. Smallwood said it had lost most of its pep.

He said that if it was headed by energetic Javelin President John C. Doyle, 42. It would bring increased developments to Newfoundland.

Javelin would pay the government $1,200,000 in cash or Javelin

NOW! A FUNGICIDE RAIN AND WATERING CAN'T WASH AWAY!

All nabam fungicides do a fine job of protecting crops against blight and other diseases. None, however, can do the job like Chem-Bam... because Chem-Bam's the only one with U-101.

Sticks Like Glue

U-101 is a sticking agent. It makes the fungicide stick to plants and vines as if it were glued on. Neither rain nor watering can wash away crop-protecting Chem-Bam.

Full Plant Protection... Full Dollar Profit

This kind of crop protection, of course, pays off big. You get healthier, more marketable crops. You get higher yields—10% higher according to tests

Chem-Bam with U-101 is another product of Chemical Insecticide Corporation, 159 Montague St., Brooklyn, N. Y.
