THE DAILY EXAMINER.
AUGUST 11, 1884.

All the Difference in the World.

There is all the difference in the world between the operation of the tariff with respect to articles which cannot be produced in Canada and those which can be produced here just as well as in the United States, Great Britain or elsewhere.

The article of tea, for instance, cannot be grown here, and consequently the imposition of a duty on tea will raise the price; while by taking the duty off the price will be lowered.

Tea is now admitted duty free; and tea is now "cheaper than ever."

But we can manufacture refined sugar here as well as they can in the United States; and taking it into consideration the long round about sea voyage from the countries of production to Great Britain and thence to Canada, it is manifest that we can do better by importing raw sugars direct from the West Indies and Brazil, and refining them ourselves, than we can by importing refined sugar from England or Scotland.

In point of fact, this is the result. Sugar, as well as tea, is cheaper than ever. The reason is, that competition keeps down the price. Competition keeps down the price not of sugar only, but of cottons, woollens and of every article which the National Policy has induced manufacturers to make in our own country.

So that, besides the great advantage of having capital invested and laborers employed, who consume a large proportion of our various surplus produce, and keep the prices of farm products up, we have, under the National Policy, the additional two-fold advantage of cheap prices for articles not produced here, on which there is no duty, and cheap prices for articles produced here at a small advance on cost on account of the sharp competition which prevails.

A False Idea Corrected.

The Grits are industriously circulating the false idea that Sir John A. Macdonald is opposed to Reciprocity. Here are a few quotations from Sir John's last speech on the subject:—

"I do not know any reason why the hon. gentleman who moved this, or the second, laid before the House these elaborate statements as to the value of reciprocal trade, or trade of any kind, with the United States. That is admitted. That goes without saying. We all admit that it would be well that we had a large trade with the United States, rather than a small one."

"I think Canada, as compared in her action with the action of the United States, has done everything that she could well do to secure that desirable object (viz. Reciprocity)."

"They, (the Americans) know that we are ready at any time; we have told them unmistakably that we are ready at any time to renew the Reciprocity Treaty of 1854."

—Ben Butler has decided to become a candidate at the next Presidential election. He has addressed the following letter to the New York Sun:—

DEAR SIR: As a means of reaching more querists than I could do in any other way, I write you this note for such use as you choose to make of it. As such: I do intend to stand by the nomination of the Green-backers and laboring men and Anti-Monopolists, and I hope everybody will vote for me who thinks that is the best thing to do. I will give reasons for my actions which are controlling to the public as soon as I can have the benefit of Cleveland's letter of acceptance, so that wherein I disagree with him I may do him no injustice.

The gigantic engineering schemes force themselves upon public attention. One is the proposal to pierce a railway tunnel through the Pyrenees, the convention for which has just been signed by the French and Spanish International Railway Commission. The other scheme is for the formation of a company to construct an international railway connecting Europe with Persia, India, Borneo and China. It appears that Sir R. M. Stephenson, who has been endeavoring to arrange with the Sublime Porte for the commencement of the works in Turkey for the last thirty-four years, considers that the negotiations are so far advanced as to warrant the formation of a company to work the concession which he believes he will eventually obtain. He proposes to raise, for making the Asia Minor and Persia sections a capital of £16,000,000 in 600,000 shares of £20, or 500f, each, "of which it is proposed £4,000,000 shall be saved by troops' labor, leaving £12,000,000 to be subscribed." Sir R. M. Stephenson's hopes to induce the countries through which the line passes to supply troops to make it are, we fear, doomed to inevitable disappointment. There are three other great schemes in embryo, namely, the Panama Canal, recently said to have been washed out; the African Island Sea, and the flooding of the Jordan Valley. The scheme for a balloon with saloon accommodation ad lib. to float passengers across the Atlantic and cut out the trade temporarily carried on by several lines of steamers appears to be rather in abeyance.—Fall Mall Budget.

The Campaign Reviewed.

BY AN ONLOOKER.

The public meetings held last week were highly favorable to Dr. Jenkins. The Mount Stewart Hall Meeting which the Patriot observed was "not divided, but impartial observers judged there was about half on each side." Now it is well known to all "impartial observers" that the electors at this meeting numbered at the very least two to one for Dr. Jenkins.

The Fort Augustus Meeting—Of this large and influential meeting the Patriot says: "Judging from the applause bestowed upon the public speakers the meeting was about equally divided." It being generally admitted that one Grit at a public meeting makes more noise than ten Liberal-Conservatives, it is but fair to conclude that the Fort Augustus meeting was ten to one for Dr. Jenkins. The meeting at Mill View Factory was indeed largely attended. The Grit brigade fearing that their leaders would be disheartened by the overwhelming majority of the electors in that polling division in favor of Dr. Jenkins, mustered their forces from other localities, and by their aid, the Patriot announces, the meeting "was evidently by long odds in favor of Welsh," whereas the contrary was the fact, as announced even by many Grits themselves.

The Eldon Hall Meeting—in this stronghold of the Liberal Conservative party, where, according to the Patriot's own figures Davies only polled 103 votes, and Jenkins polled the handsome number of 207 at the late Dominion election, and yet, in the face of that fact, the Patriot says: "Judging from the cheering and applause more than one-half those present were in favor of Welsh." Here, as elsewhere, the rule holds good that a few noisy Grits are taken by the Patriot as composing an equal number if not a majority of the electors.

The Belle Creek meeting—the Patriot says—was "almost unanimous in favor of the Opposition," and that "three cheers were given for the Liberal Candidate while the Dr. was allowed to leave the meeting in silence and alone." This unmanly way of treating opponents is characteristic of such blusters as Mr. Welsh and his brigade, whenever they get the chance. There is, however, a growing feeling in favor of Dr. Jenkins, even at Belfast.

Caledonia Schoolhouse—Here also the Patriot says Mr. Welsh received three cheers. Well, why not? But, is that any indication that the electors of Caledonia have changed their views since the last election, when an almost unanimous vote was polled for the Liberal-Conservative candidate. Surely the Patriot must think his readers the veriest dupes imaginable, if they will believe the barefaced falsehoods and wilful misrepresentations which he makes in his utterly unreliable, and untruthful reports of public meetings.

Murray Harbor Road Schoolhouse—The meeting here was well attended by the electors of the district. The Grit brigade from Montague Bridge and elsewhere put in appearance in full force. Such Grit names as Manoh Rowe, from Montague, the Emmons from Vernon River others of that class, helped to swell the ranks of the Opposition at this meeting. But all to no purpose, as intelligent electors cannot be deceived by such travelling impostures. John F. McLeod, of Fletcher's Mills, was very noisy at this meeting. This man, until very recently, was a violent and very subservient follower of both the present local and Dominion Governments. He applied for the office of Road Supervisor, but those who know him best pronounced him utterly incapable of discharging the duties of that or any other office. The Government, therefore, declined to appoint him. Hence his wrathing. He is now a rabid Grit; but possessed of no influence whatever. The Patriot gives the name of the local member, D. Martin, among those who addressed the meeting on Murray Harbor Road. Now, as a fact, D. Martin did not attend that meeting at all, nor any other public meeting in the District, but true to his interests prefers the more subtle and deceptive style of going from house to house accompanied by others of that ilk, among whom we may be permitted to name Angus B. McKenzie, Rodk. Muir, and a certain Dr., not from "Stanley," but from Charlottetown, and instead of meeting their opponents man-fashion on the public platform, they prefer the snake in the grass method of poisoning the minds of those who may be allured by their sophistry, by disseminating falsehoods of the basest kind with the view of creating prejudices and ill-feeling among the people. The sayings and doings of Mr. D. Martin and his quondam friends in this direction may, when least expected, recoil on their own heads. Mr. Alexander Martin, the local member for Belfast, unlike his oily colleague, attended the meetings, and in a manly and independent manner, defended his party on the public platform, and not sneaking among private houses.

The meeting at Montague West Schoolhouse was almost unanimous for Dr. Jenkins. At Avondale, Lot 49—The Liberal-Conservative speakers were heartily applauded, and the meeting was solid for the Doctor. Besides those meetings regularly advertised others have been held during the week, at all of which unmistakable evidences favorable to Dr. Jenkins were manifested by the people. The Long Creek meeting on Saturday night, though held in Farquharson's strong hold, gave indications to which even Mr. Farquharson himself could not shut his eyes, of a growing feeling in favor of Dr. Jenkins. A contingent of the Grit brigade from the city went to the Long Creek meeting. Among them, Isaac Murley, Angus Gallant, Chas. Davy, Duncan McRae (Commadore) and several others. Mr. L. H. Davies addressed the meeting on behalf of Mr. Welsh, and Mr. Neil McLeod in the interest of Dr. Jenkins in the Liberal-Conservative party. Mr. Davies' sophistry in relation to failures which he attributed to the N. P., received a scathing exposure from Mr. N. McLeod. In fact, so great was the humiliating position to which Mr. Davies placed himself by his extravagant and reckless utterances, that his own friends admitted he was badly worsted in the argument.

The Toronto bally farmer was committed for manslaughter by the magistrate's court.

THE CAMPAIGN.

Grand Meeting at Tracadie Cross.

FEELING STRONGLY LIBERAL-CONSERVATIVE.

Pursuant to public notice a large number of the influential and independent electors of Lots 34, 35 and 36, assembled at Glenadale Schoolhouse on Friday evening last to hear the political issue of the day discussed.

Mr. Michael Ready was appointed Chairman.

Hon. D. Ferguson on being called upon spoke at length upon all the great questions of the day, and manfully upheld the cause of the Liberal-Conservative Party and its popular nominee, Dr. Jenkins. He showed a thorough knowledge of the political questions under discussion, and was applauded throughout his speech, and cheered loudly when he had concluded. It was the general opinion that Mr. Davies showed "the better part of valor" in shunning an opponent of such ability and eloquence, and that without doubt he had been "floored every time" as THE EXAMINER stated.

He was followed by Donald A. McDonald, Esq., who, in a very rambling and senseless speech, in which he went over the Corn Laws of England, the coming Presidential election in the United States, and all around the world to boot, in a vain endeavor to carry out the programme laid down for him by Mr. Davies, and the rest who sent him. He showed very bad taste and worse judgment by endeavoring to introduce personal disagreements, long past and gone; but the manly electors present put their foot upon it at once, and requested him to confine himself to the public questions of the day. After wearing his hearers almost out of patience he resumed his seat in silence, without one voice being raised on his side.

He was followed, on behalf of Dr. Jenkins and the Liberal-Conservative Party by Mr. John S. McDonald, of Charlottetown, and Mr. M. W. Murphy, of Mill Cove, and as no further opposition was made in behalf of Mr. Welsh, the meeting, after tendering a vote of thanks to the Chairman, and giving three cheers each for the Queen, for Sir John A. Macdonald, Ferguson, and for Dr. Jenkins, for Hon. D. Ferguson, and for Dr. Jenkins, A. McDonald and his Government, quietly dispersed. The last sight that greeted the eyes of the electors as they filed from the room being the firm of Donald A. McDonald, Esq., standing on the floor alone and wildly waving his hat while he strove, but strove in vain—to raise a cheer for the delusive war cry of the Grits.

Meeting at Stanhope.

A large and orderly meeting was held at Stanhope on Saturday evening. Half-hour speeches were the rule. Hon. Donald Ferguson was the first speaker. He gave an able and convincing address, based on fact; and was followed by Mr. Henry Beer, M. P. P., who, who shirked the issues, and, in fact, tried to divert attention from the points at issue. He was well answered by Mr. J. S. McDonald, Barrister, etc., of this City, who brought the attention of the men on the issues involved in the election. Mr. McDonald pointed out the absurdity and uselessness of voting for a man who came out as an Oppositionist-Independent, against a Government strong in the confidence of the people of Canada and in a majority of about seventy, and warned Liberal-Conservative electors against being beguiled by the "Independence cry." He also alluded to the fact that the Opposition have no policy, and are unable—as their utter failure when they were in power proved—either to formulate or carry out any definite policy for the good of the country.

Mr. F. L. Hazzard, Barrister, etc., then spoke in favor of the Independent Grit, and were followed by Messrs. Ferguson, Beer, and Peter Campbell. The latter gentleman asked Mr. Beer to define the policy of the Grits? Of course, Mr. Beer could not answer, for the Grits have no policy! The meeting broke up at about 11.30 o'clock, with cheers for both candidates.

Meeting at Avondale.

A large meeting was held at Avondale, on Saturday evening. George O'Neill, Esq., occupied the chair. The meeting was addressed by Dr. Jenkins, Mr. Walsh, Patrick Blake, M. P. P., D. A. McDonald, and Mr. P. Koughan. The latter gentleman's address was delivered in a mild and straightforward manner, and showed that he was well informed on the questions at issue. Mr. Blake's speech was a masterly effort—one of the best he has made during the campaign. The meeting was enthusiastically in favor of Dr. Jenkins and the Liberal-Conservative Party.

Meeting at Rustico Bank.

About two hundred electors attended the meeting held at Rustico Bank, on Saturday evening. Domitian Gallant, Esq., occupied the chair. The meeting was addressed by Hon. Dr. Ross, (Premier of Quebec), E. J. Hodgson Esq., Q. C., P. R. Bowers, Mr. Thomas Doyle, Mr. S. Blanchard, and Donald McKay Esq., M. P. P. The speech of Mr. Ross was very eloquent, and made a great impression in the meeting. The meeting was unanimous for Dr. Jenkins, and the great Liberal-Conservative Party, led by Sir John Macdonald. At its close a hearty and enthusiastic vote of thanks was tendered to Hon. Mr. Ross.

Meeting at Long Creek.

A large meeting was held at Long Creek, West River, on Saturday evening. Andrew Dickson, Esq., occupied the chair. The speakers were Messrs. Donald Farquharson, A. A. McLean, L. H. Davies, Neil McLeod, A. L. Bridges, and Rev. Stephen G. Lawson. The Hon. Neil McLeod's speech in reply to that of Mr. Davies was a very able exposition of the points at issue. It is the belief of residents of the district that the Liberal Conservative Party will poll a far larger vote at Long Creek than ever before.

The father of Charley Ross has spent $60,000 in searching for his son, and examined over seven hundred boys supposed to be his.
