

Editing a Newspaper.

It requires more science to edit a newspaper than it does to govern a nation.

Not one man out of a thousand can steer his literary craft without cutting across the track of some "old subscriber," and then he finds himself on a lee shore in short order.

Everybody criticises newspapers. We do not know a single man who does not cherish the idea that if he had a chance, he could edit the London Times, or any other thunderer, with much more ability than it is edited.

"Nothing in the paper now! So utterly stupid!"

We hear the complaint at every turn, and the man who could not spell cat without putting a C in it, will turn up his nose and fling aside his paper, which very likely he has borrowed, and tells his friends that he wishes he had the control of that sheet! he'd see if he couldn't turn over a new leaf!

An editor is supposed to know what every individual who reads his paper wants. He must be careful not to bear down on any of the beliefs of his old subscribers.

If some of them are Universalists, he must steer clear of mentioning the locality signified in the new version as Hades; and if some Baptists and Methodists are included in his list, he had better be careful how he insinuates that any man dare hope for Heaven unless he has been gathered in under their banner.

He mustn't go in for temperance, because there are many good people taking his paper who drink, and who sell lager beer. And on the other hand, he ought to be very cautious how he indorses inebriation, for there are many young people among his readers who might be influenced for bad.

The editor must be a mitten for either hand. He must please everybody. He must print anything an "Old Subscriber" wants him to, from the message of all the Presidents down to a receipt of grease and molasses for the gapes in chickens.

He must not say anything about his pay. He ought to be thankful that anybody will take his paper. To send a subscriber a bill is the height of impudence.

To expect pay for extra copies to send to absent friends is a monstrosity. What can he want to keep those old papers for?

If the paper fails to reach a mail subscriber, what a row their is? Publishers should be more careful. They should see that the mails attend to their business. The man who pays three dollars a year for a paper does not want to be swindled by the publisher keeping back a number. And he generally writes him to that effect, and the publisher, as innocent of any intended swindling as a child unborn, mails him another paper, and possesses his soul in silence.

If the editor inserts an article in his periodical which offends an irascible subscriber, he is liable to receive a call from that individual—sometimes he gets a cow-hiding, unless he has the presence of mind to kick the irate visitor down stairs before he can begin aggressive operations; and very often editors are brought into the courts and indicted for libel, when they have been guilty of telling the truth.

So, young man, if you are going to be an editor, part your hair in the middle, that your brains may be evenly balanced, and with your life in one hand and your past pet and scissors in the other, wade in; but go slow, young man—go slow!—Ex.

Suspension of a Society.

(Bangor Commercial.)

The Augustinian Society of the Catholic Church at Lawrence Mass., has suspended and attachments have been placed on its property. It has been the custom of the Roman Catholic priests in that city to receive deposits from parishioners, pay interest and assume all functions of a savings bank. This was first done by Father O'Connell in the early days of the city, about 1846, and has been continued up to the present time. The rate of interest paid has been large, averaging six per cent., and as a consequence the deposits have been large. It has $100,000 in Catholic mortgages and its total indebtedness is $40,000, of which $430,000 is due depositors. Monday night last a meeting of the depositors was held and they were notified that there was no money left, but that the society would endeavor to pay depositors at the rate of $25,000 per year. Great excitement prevails among the depositors who are principally house girls and factory operatives. It is generally believed that the trouble is not of a recent origin, but has been growing slowly for years, each succeeding year plunging the society deeper in debt. Considerable excitement exists among the unfortunate depositors, of whom there are two distinct classes. One is composed mainly of business men, one having $16,000, another $14,000, another $5,000, while still another, a butcher, in Methuen, has $4,500. A statement of the financial condition is promised in a few days and a meeting of prominent wealthy Catholic gentlemen is called for Sunday evening. Meanwhile the anxious depositors continue to pour in attachments.

THE STARR KIDNEY PAD.

Indubitable Evidence.

(Condensed)
From Doctors, Druggists, Merchants, Patrons.

Some of the additional home testimony received since publication of last pamphlet.

GIVING ENTIRE SATISFACTION.

Pictou, April 1882.
Gentlemen,—I find that your Pad has given me the long envied satisfaction, and with you I have found a sale for so valuable a remedy for disease of the kidneys.
J. B. MOORE, M.D.

OF SERVICE TO PATIENTS.
Lime Lake, April 1882.
Gentlemen,—Your Pad has been of great service to some of my patients already.
J. B. MOORE, M.D.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE CONQUERED.
Enterprise, April 1882.
Gentlemen,—Five years ago I fell into a bag of grain, which caused weakness in my back, and also brought on an attack of Bright's disease, and which caused me to lose considerable in weight. After wearing your Pad for six weeks, I gained 13 pounds, my pain and weakness has left me. I would have been yet in the doctor's hands had not been for my using your Kidney Pad.
Signed, W. FRASER, Miller.

THE ONLY PERMANENT CURE.
Tamworth, April 1882.
Gentlemen,—I was troubled with back-ache, and could not retain my urine, and from painful inflammation of the bladder. I have been treated by a doctor for six weeks, but have not been cured. Your Pad is the only cure for kidney disease.
J. A. FRASER, Manf. of Wooden Ware.

ALL PRAISE THEM HIGHLY.
Tamworth, April 1882.
Gentlemen,—An accident 12 years ago wrenched my back. I could hardly walk, never lifted anything. The Pad purchased from Mr. Jas. Aylsworth has nearly made me as strong as I ever was. I know of no other being used, and all praise them highly.
Jas. SCOTT.

Enterprise, April 1882.
Gentlemen,—Your Pad is helping me wonderfully. My complaint is inflammation of the kidneys.
Jas. FRASER.
