

More intramural basketball players needed

Vince Mulligan has put together a comprehensive intramural program for YOU. Since you've paid your $20 athletic fee, you may as well take advantage of it. From now on, every issue of the Cadre will carry a schedule of all intramural events.

Unfortunately, all the hockey teams are filled with players but Mulligan says there is still room for Basketball players with the Intramural Basketball program. All you need is a pair of sneakers so why not give it a try?

We're offering you a career that makes the most of what you know.

As an Officer in the Canadian Forces you'll likely put your special skills to good use. And, you'll be expected to combine your university education with an essential ability to relate to people. You'll develop your leadership. You'll be exposed to new learning situations, and day-to-day experience that needs your intelligence. In training, managing, and decision-making. We start you off with $7,200 a year; you get a month's paid vacation each year, and you enjoy fringe benefits that are second to none. So, we offer a lot, but we ask a lot of you, too.

If you're willing to go through the tough, basic officer training, if you're able to adapt to and understand different people and places, then we want to talk with you. Call your nearest recruiter (in any major city), or send us the coupon below.
