WHILE the Grits of the Maritime Provinces exclaim with one accord that the N. P. is benefitting the bloated manufacturers of Ontario and Quebec, at the expense of the toilers by the sea, the Grits of the Upper Provinces are proving to their own satisfaction that the N. P. is benefitting the Maritime Provinces at the expense of Ontario and Quebec. And still the factories increase, and the "hum" is everywhere heard.

A SAD case was presented at the Stipendiary Magistrate's Court this forenoon. An old negro, named James Potter, lame, and a "subject of falling sickness," appeared as a vagrant. He had been forsaken by his friends and cast out upon the street. Food or shelter he could not obtain and the police, in order that he might not perish on the street, were obliged to arrest him as a vagrant. The Magistrate ordered that he be confined to jail for a fortnight, during which time application will be made for admission to the Poor House.

THE Dalhousie College Examinations took place in Halifax last week, and the result is published in the Halifax Herald of the 29th. An exhibition—$200 for two years, was awarded Mr. John M. McLeod, Valleyfield. Bursaries of $150 annually for two years were awarded George C. Robertson, Charlottetown, and Fulton J. Coffin. Special Bursaries of $100 a year, were awarded to Judson Crawford, of Charlottetown, and Kenneth J. Martin, Eldon. The following students having satisfied the examiners at the examination for exhibitions were exempt from matriculation examination, F. J. Coffin, Kenneth J. Martin, Judson Crawford. John M. McLeod, George E. Robertson. Regarding the result the Herald says:—"Of the fifteen who succeded, five were students of Prince of Wales College, Charlottetown, which speaks well for that institution. Five more were prepared in Pictou Academy, (for we believe that Aiton and McLean were students of Pictou Academy, though not so mentioned in the awards) certifying to the excellence of that seat of learning. Of the other five, two were students in the Halifax High School, two in the Provincial Normal School, and one is set down as being prepared by private study.

The World's London cable says:—Mr. Goldwin Smith's charge against the Royal Family for not utilizing their opportunities for promoting great and useful works has been gracefully referred to by the Prince of Wales at Swansea. More singular still was the officious-looking rejoinder in the Times, which is popularly believed to have been inspired by the Queen. Royalty is industrious enough in Great Britain, but much more could be done in Ireland. Another unusual interposition of royalty in popular topics was the Princess of Wales' refusal to patronize the ladies' movement to wear only British goods. The movement is really an off-shoot on the Fair Trade agitation. The Princess' reply was dictated in high official quarters. In connection with this subject the interesting fact, well-known in journalism, is recalled that the Queen once wrote a leader in the Times.

According to the Toronto Globe's Manitoba correspondent wages in that part of the world are at panic rates. The building fever continues, and contractors are at their wits ends to fulfil their engagements. It is feared that high prices will ruin some of them. In order to avoid putting any check on the rage for building, the Winnipeg Council has refraine from passing a fire limits by-law. The large number of wooden and veneered structures even in the centre of the city offers a standing menace to the safety of the place. Merchants are crowding in from the east to be in time for the great boom in business which is expected to be at its height next season owing to the immense immigration which is confiently anticipated.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

UNITED STATES.

DAVENPORT, Iowa, Oct 28.

As the steamboat Gilchrist was coming down the Mississippi yesterday morning, when opposite here, the cam rods of the engine gave way, causing the machinery to become unmanageable. The river being very high and unusualy rapid, carried the helpless vessel at a rapid rate. The steamer was thrown with tremendous force against the abutments of a bridge. She careened, causing the weights on the safety valves of the steam chest to break off, and the steam in the boilers poured out and enveloped the crew and passengers, scalding many in an awful manner. The steamer began sinking, in which condition she was carried past the city; the shrieks and cries for help by the victims being distinctly audible by the large crowds who thronged the banks, but could extend no assistance. There were twenty-three passengers, four of whom were females, and a crew of fifteen. Only eight persons were saved, and some of these badly scalded. Three of the lady passengers are known to have been killed or scalded to death.
