

Says High Powered Incinerator Not Required At Dump

The City Dump is well looked after, and has reclaimed the land in this area to a great extent.

The nearness of the dump to the Charlottetown Driving Park presents a problem in that nothing to any extent can be burnt on days there is to be night racing.

Coun. Keefe conceded, however, that the work of caretaker Fred MacDonald, "only when there is a southwest wind will there be any nuisance from odor and smoke as far as the Exhibition grounds are concerned."

Since Schurman's, the Associated Shippers, and the Island Fertilizer Company have become established in this area, the approach to the Dump now has a gravelled road which carries the traffic during the bad seasons of late fall and early spring.

I believe the dump is sufficient to present demands," Coun. Keefe stated. "Therefore the purchase of a high powered incinerator is not an urgent demand on the taxpayers at the present time."

Mention was made of the installation of a new heating unit for the Market Building, which also provides for the heating of the Public Library if required.

Reviewing the work at Victoria Park, Coun. Keefe explained that many dead trees had been taken out and the underground shrubbery cleaned to allow for better growth.

Coun. Keefe recommended to the attention of the incoming Council the condition of the two top timbers on the west side of the Park, which require to be straightened to conform with the bottom timbers of the sea wall.

1951, he noted, saw the demolition of the old house, residence of the Park keeper, and the erection of a new modern semi-bungalow.

He referred also to repairs to the roof of the Market Building and to work done on the public squares and Government Pond, where a new flume was erected at the sluice gate.

W.C.T.U. NOTES

TRAGEDY IN THE MAKING ANNIE HIRST

In the Pueblo (Colo.) Chieftan "He drinks a lot now, and runs around. But he promises to change everything if I'll marry him now!"

What potential tragedy lies in this line. It is so easy for a girl in love to believe every word her sweetheart says, so hard to withhold her faith in his promises. She is passionately in love, and she cannot bear any criticism of his conduct.

If a young man wants to reform, he can do it on his own with no more aid than the knowledge that his girl believes in him. He must make himself fit for marriage. If he cannot do that alone, the chance are 100 to one that he can't do it with his wife's help.

No girl in her right senses will take such a chance. There is almost no other tragedy like that of living with a husband who drinks. Aside from her shattered faith, she endures the shame and the disgrace that his indulgence brings upon the home.

Any girl who finds the boys she is dating is drinking, should cut him off her list immediately. His indulgence is an insult, his weakness deplorable. To be worthy of marriage, he must prove himself a man of character, one whose word is his bond, a man on whom she can lean and depend for the rest of her life.

If I were appointed dictator of all India for one hour, the first thing I would do would be to close all the liquor establishments.—Mahatma Gandhi, quoted in LISTEN, October-December, 1950.

Alcohol paralyzes the judgement, and that paralysis begins with the first glass.—Sir Lauder Brunton.

The lower you go in the forms of life the greater is the percentage of alcohol that these forms can stand. The creature that can endure least alcohol, percentage wise according to bulk, is the human. That is the price we pay for the qualities we have, such as discretion, which distinguish us from the lower animals.—Dr. Haven Emerson, in a lecture at The Inter-collegiate School of Alcohol Studies.

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. GEORGE GALLANT

The community of Mayfield and vicinity were saddened to hear of the passing of Mrs. George Gallant, on December 1, 1951, in her sixty-fifth year.

The deceased had been in failing health for some time, but until a few days preceding her demise, she had been doing her household duties.

She entered the Charlottetown Hospital on November 27, and passed away on the above date.

She was the former Lucy Gallant, daughter of Pacifico Gallant and Sophie Pasquiere, and was born in North Rustico.

Being of a mild and loving disposition she was highly esteemed by all the people with whom she came in contact, but especially by her immediate family and by the people of Mayfield where she spent all her married life.

She was visited and received the holy rites of the church from her pastor Rev. Earl Dalton, who also officiated at funeral Mass and at the grave.

Besides her sorrowing husband she leaves to mourn three sons and two daughters, namely: Ernest of Martin, Lot 2 Clarence of Mayfield; and Howard of Hamilton, Ontario. Maude (Mrs. Wendall Cudmore), Charlottetown, and Gertrude (Mrs. Elmer Peters) Bunsbury, and twenty-nine grandchildren; also two brothers, Bernard Gallant, Charlottetown, and Cyrus Gallant, St. Mary's, and one sister Mrs. John Dolron of North Rustico.

The funeral, which was largely attended, was held from her home Mayfield, to St. Ann's Church, Hope River, on December 3, 1951.

UNION ROAD W. M. S. The monthly meeting of the Union Road W.M.S. met at the home of Mrs. James Maund on Monday, Jan. 7th. The theme of the meeting was "Adventure of Religion."

DOROTHY DIX SAYS— Continued from page 2 frank discussion with someone who knows you both and is well acquainted with your family problems would be the best way to reach a satisfactory solution.

While an inordinate devotion to one's family is not a healthy attitude, leading, as it does, to a childish dependence often lasting into adult years, it must not be confused with the affection and loyalty that should exist in every family. Interference in family attachments by an outsider, no matter how much in love with him you are, is a matter to be seriously considered.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 16 years old and would like to ask a boy to my school prom. He is five years older than I but about two years ago he dated my sister, who is now married. Do you think it would be proper for me to ask him to the prom?

PATRICIA ANSWER: Extending an invitation to a prom would never be construed as being "forward" by a well-bred young man. He would be pleased at your thought. Of course this particular young man might still look upon you as the "kid sister," so don't be too disappointed if he doesn't accept your bid. By all means, however, do ask him. I hope he accepts and you both have a glorious time.

DEAR MISS DIX: Which girl is better in this case? My friend is a young man 23, a college graduate and earning a good salary. The first girl is 21, a college graduate and has everything in common with my friend, but she lacks commonsense. The second girl is 21, graduated from high school, and is employed. She has personality, commonsense and is a good companion. My friend wants a partner in life, and doesn't believe in love.

MAYOR STRESSES

The extra services they desire and need. "The modern municipal government has gone a long way from the days when the protection of life and property were the main function. Today our citizens want better and more schools, playgrounds and community centres, pure water supply, efficient sewerage systems, smooth, straight streets, and public buildings of which they can be proud.

Prompt Clearance Demanded "In the old days all that was asked for and required was to have the business centers of the City cleared of snow, but now, in this modern age, in which the motor car is an integral part of the family life, all streets must, by public demand, be cleared of snow immediately following any storm of size to allow for their operation.

"During the past year the Board of Assessors, which was composed of three outstanding citizens of the City, and backed up by the best possible technical real estate advisors in the Dominion of Canada, and which was appointed by this Council, completed the work for which they were engaged. When their findings are implemented into the tax structure of this City, thus placing the real estate tax on a firm and equitable basis, mathematically correct, this City should enjoy an increased revenue at a lower tax rate.

"In past years there was a grave discrepancy in the valuation placed on the many properties in our City. Many were paying too much, and many were paying too little. We feel that this reassessment, started and completed under this present Council, has eliminated an abuse in civic administration which has existed in this City for at least the last quarter century and I congratulate you gentlemen for rectifying and bringing about this change which was long overdue.

"We now find ourselves in a most enviable position, due to this Council's prompt and judicious handling of one of the most equitable and outstanding assessment rolls of any city in Canada, and now we have the 'better mouse trap' and other municipalities are knocking on our door to find out how it was accomplished.

Electric Rates "During the year the Utility Board held hearings with the Maritime Electric and the Telephone Company and while the Utility Board was the arbitrator the interest of the citizens of Charlottetown were closely guarded by our solicitor, Mr. K. M. Martin who kept this Council informed of the proceedings at all times.

"This Council feels that our electrical rates are altogether too high in comparison with other cities of the Maritimes and will continue to hope, to press for more equitable rates.

"In the early Spring the Dominion Government, through the Provincial Government, abolished the Rental Control Board but this Council sought legislation to enable them to pass a by-law respecting housing and rentals. We felt this was in the best interests of our citizens and rental control is now administered by a local municipal board.

"Again, at the instigation of many of our leading citizens who meet at City Hall with the support of this Council, it was decided that Charlottetown should sponsor a Festive Week. You Councilors and the City employees shared in the overwhelming success which crowned this initial endeavor to make Charlottetown the Mecca of the tourist who is seeking a place to spend his time and which should rightly be called the Tourist Paradise.

"Following this the most significant event during the summer was the annual Old Home Week celebration.

Royal Visit "The most outstanding event of the past year, in the annals of the City, was the visit of H.R.H. Princess Elizabeth and her consort, H.R.H. The Duke of Edinburgh. It was my extreme pleasure, and that of my wife, to meet them on their arrival and later at City Hall to present them to the City Councilors and their wives, the Health Officer and his wife, the City Clerk and his sister. Many favourable comments were made on the decorations of the City Hall, both outside and inside. The citizens of Charlottetown greeted the Royal couple with a warmth and sincerity which they, I feel, will long remember.

"Perhaps one of the most important events which took place in Charlottetown was the conference of the Inter-Provincial Community Planning Board. While this organization is still young, it has justified its origin. I feel that it will be a factor which must be listened to by all municipalities whose desire is to be progressive and keep abreast of other municipalities, and they can be very beneficial in an advisory capacity.

"And now to return to the factual part of our meeting. I will direct my remarks to the finances of our City. Councillor Prowse, our chairman of finance, has devoted much time and energy to this angle of City administration, and I congratulate him on running this last year's business on a sound economical basis. To show this, in current account there is a surplus of $6,177.23 revenue over expenditures which speaks for him a close and watchful eye over the monthly expenditures throughout the past twelve months.

Capital Expenditures "Capital expenditures have been slightly higher than we would desire but they have been made only after serious consideration, not only by Councillor Prowse and his plimented this year by our Board of Water Commissioners.

"Our sewerage system requires considerable thought and we must provide sewage disposal to new developments and districts which at the present time do not get this essential utility, because the outlay of money to install this service is so many times more than the revenue derived.

"Once again I congratulate you gentlemen of the Council on the street paving program inaugurated during the past year which has, for its object, in the main, the paving of many streets and the resurfacing of our asphalt streets which, by the continuous heavy traffic have reached the period when the sheet top has become worn so thin that to patch it is futile.

"During the past year many new street lights were added but I know the chairman of lights is reporting on this phase of City work and anything I might say will be read in his report.

Meters and Traffic Lights "To keep abreast of other cities the chairman of police has seen to it that the parking problem has been looked after by the installation of parking meters, and the traffic by the acquisition of traffic lights which should be supplemented by several more as soon as possible.

"To return to the activities of the Council several new conveyances of land were accepted by the City for the purposes of streets for new development, so that new homes could be erected. A further account of this appears in the report I shall make as your chairman of streets.

"Another thing which I think is worthy of mention is the fact that the basic rate for labor was raised from fifty-five cents to sixty-five cents per hour, but I feel that with the high cost of living a revision in an upward direction is imperative.

High School Site "We met with the School Board on several occasions to discuss the purchase of a suitable site on which to erect a High School. While nothing yet has been definitely decided upon, nevertheless some progress has been made, in that we realize that something must be done eventually, in this particular phase of education if our children are to be given the opportunity to equip themselves to take their place in a world where education is the predominating factor.

"I am very proud to say that Charlottetown water supply from artesian wells is the purest on the North American continent, recognized by laboratory engineers as the finest that can be obtained for the manufacture of soft drinks, but containing a consistency of hardness, which requires twice the amount for laundry purposes.

"Your Council has made a study of the feasibility of intercepting fluorine into the water supply of our City with a view to remedying the deterioration of our children's teeth by bacterial action. This move, we trust, will be implemented.

"The meeting opened by singing "Blest Be the Tie That Binds" and scripture lesson was taken from James 2, verses 14, 23, Luke 19, verses 20, 21, 24. The hymn, "Come Let Us Join Our Cheerful Songs" was followed by sentence prayers.

Mrs. B. C. Hardy then gave the Christian Stewardship reading, "Homeward Bound". Roll call was answered by 11 members and one visitor and minutes of last meeting were read and approved.

The treasurer's report was then given for 1951 and a temperance reading was given by Mrs. Brent McMillan, "Youth on Liquor". Mrs. A. G. Mallett was appointed delegate to attend the Presbyterial and for the program, chapters from the Study Book were read by Marjorie Lamont and Mrs. James Maund.

Program for the next meeting will be taken by Keith Bryenton, Mrs. Earl Livingston, and Mrs. Brent McMillan. Next meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Brent McMillan.

Collection was taken, amounting to $3.00, and the meeting closed by singing, "Work for the Night is Coming", and the Mizpah Benediction.

DAVID B. ANSWER: What your friend wants is a secretary, but doesn't want to pay her salary. Both the girls you describe sound altogether too good for him; what he needs is a cold-blooded fish like himself. The average girl wants a little romance with her marriage; your friend just wants a business proposition. Maybe he doesn't believe in love now; 23 is young enough to give him time to recover from cynicism.

Miss Nielsen cannot reply personally to readers but will answer questions of general interest through this column.

New Fire Alarm

"Late in the fall an order was placed with C. E. Hickey and Sons (Fyr-Fyter representatives) for a fire alarm. A large part of this has arrived and the remainder of the equipment used in the setting up of this mechanism is enroute from Hamilton, Ontario, and we expect it to be installed not later than the middle of February.

"We know this will be a big improvement over the old fire bell which definitely could not be heard, only on occasions, the area in which it could be heard depending upon the prevailing winds. The installation of this piece of equipment will give to the individual fire policy holder a marked reduction in his premium rate per year.

"There is no doubt in my mind that the Department will be considerably improved by the addition of this new fire alarm. I know that Councillor O'Donnell and Chief Jewell's reports are informative and concise, the working of this Department during the past twelve months. We thank the Chief, and all members of our Fire Brigade for the safety they have given the citizens of Charlottetown during the past twelve months.

"Once again we must thank Councillor Johnstone for the great interest he has taken in our Market, and in the public rest rooms and the upkeep of the building in general. Perhaps we do not realize, at times, the important part our Market plays in our community, but one has only to go there on Tuesdays and Fridays and he can see the large number of citizens that patronize it. I have noticed an increase during the past two years in the number of patrons and feel that this increase can be attributed to its cleanliness and fine appearance. The marked improvement throughout the whole building is attributed to the energetic Chairman of Market.

Heating Equipment "It was necessary to place a new boiler in the cellar to replace the boiler which heats the Harris Memorial Library and I would like to mention here, too, the boiler heating the main Market and the Harris Library are now twinned, which means that in the event of a breakdown either boiler can be used to heat either building.

"As mentioned earlier in my report, one of the most urgent demands from our citizens is a better lighted City. During the past year Councillor Beaton has done much to bring this about. The many conferences he had with Mr. Ainsworth and Mr. Buckingham suffice to show that he had the matter well in hand and I know his report shows the acquisition of many new installations. Until there is an improvement in fixtures we cannot expect to have our City much better lighted than it is at present.

"I believe this present Council differs from previous Councils, in that the present Chairman of Tender, Councillor Gormley, not only represents the citizenry of Ward One but was the representative of labor in our Council and as such was a real help to us in all matters dealing with labour.

"In mentioning earlier in my speech the increase in labour wage rates from fifty-five cents to sixty-five cents I can assure you that only through the persuasive arguments of Councillor Gormley did this Council acquiesce. I know that he agrees with me when I say a revision of the labour rate is imperative in an upward trend is imperative.

"The Department of Fire, under the supervision of Councillor O'Donnell, has had a very good year and the City itself, under their protection, has had safety from any fires. This is due to the alertness and the speed with which our volunteer firemen respond to all alarms.

"However, the year was marred by one large conflagration, that of Rankin McLaine, the Benevolent Irish Society, and A. Horne Co. fire. The contents of the buildings were of materials very inflammable and the construction of the buildings were such that the fire spread rapidly. Only through the heroic efforts of our Fire Dept. and their ability to fight fires was the conflagration confined to this area.

Full Cooperation

"I have singled out and mentioned the various chairmen of my Council in respect to the particular committee of which they were the head. I now take the liberty of expressing to them, not individually but as members of the full Council, my appreciation of their thoughtfulness and cooperation at the many Council meetings throughout the year. After all, the City business is not transacted by committees but by the Council as a whole. The manner in which you have dealt with the recommendations and requirements of the different committees showed that you were familiar with each and every angle of civic administration.

"The great work carried on by Dr. Wendell MacDonald, our City Health Officer, the work done by our Provincial Health Department in the matter of X-raying for tuberculosis and the examination of all school children by the Public Health Nurses, the survey and treatment done by the Provincial Dental Health Clinic, are worthy of our sincerest thanks.

"The general health of our citizens through the efforts of the above organizations is safeguarded. Perhaps we do not take the time to realize that were it not for the efforts of Dr. MacDonald and the Public Health Nurses, communicable diseases might easily develop into an epidemic. Their ever watchful eye keeps many diseases in submission.

"While the milk vendors and bakeries are looked after by the Provincial Department of Health, I feel there is room for improvement. The incoming Council should, as soon as possible, meet with the Provincial authorities to discuss the matter of inspecting not only milk and bakeries but also meats, fish, etc. I believe there is room for an inspector on a full time basis. I believe, also, the meat should be inspected while the animal is still alive.

Central Slaughter House "I believe, too, that the establishment of a central slaughter house, under rigid inspection and with sufficient refrigeration space, should be given careful consideration. The stable, premises, and pens should receive the same rigid inspections for the handling of milk as well as in the handling of meat. This inspection should apply to all fresh food sold to the general public and could only be satisfactorily accomplished by a full time appointment. This, I believe, would be a protective measure, not only for the persons engaged in selling meat, fish, milk and food but for the safety of the consuming public as well.

"I must offer my congratulations to the School Board, and welcome Mr. Allan McWilliam, Mrs. Helen Laurior and Lieut. Col. Keith Johnston to the Board of School Trustees. Under the direction of Dr. R. G. Lea, the Board has had a very busy year and have given a good account of their stewardship. This is a very important body, not only because they are entrusted
