Supreme Court.

BEFORE JUDGE PETERS.

APRIL 2. Weatherbie vs. Nicholson.—In this case, which was an appeal tried before Judge Peters at Georgetown, and judgment reserved, His Lordship to-day delivered his decision, allowing the appeal and quashing the conviction with costs.

His Lordship, in delivering judgment to-day, said that it was open to very grave doubt whether or not the Act was not wholly void for not defining what percentage of alcohol must be in liquor before it came within the meaning of the Act; but that was unnecessary to decide, as he was of opinion that neither ale, beer or light wines were intoxicating within the meaning of the Act; and on that ground the conviction must be quashed.

In the matter of the application of John Hughes for certiorari to remove a conviction made under the Canada Temperance Act by R. R. Fitzgerald, Esq., Stipendiary Magistrate.—This matter was argued during the earlier part of the present Hilary Term, when the Court took time. To-day judgment was delivered, confirming the conviction of the Court below with costs.

The Chief Justice and Mr. Justice Hensley being of opinion that the lease executed by the applicant to his son was a mere contrivance to evade the provisions of the Canada Temperance Act, and was consequently void. Judge Peters was of opinion that the evidence was not sufficient to declare the lease void.

The Court of Appeal in Equity opens this afternoon for the hearing of the appeal from the judgment of the Vice Chancellor in the case of the Halifax Banking Company.

Stipendiary Magistrate's Court.

Francis McLeod, drunk and disorderly, $30 or 30 days. William McCarey, drunk and disorderly, $30 or 30 days. Daniel Madden, drunk and disorderly, $30 or 30 days. Hugh Trainor, drunk and disorderly, $4 or 20 days. Michael McAdam, drunk and incapable, $2 or 8 days. W. Gardiner, drunk and incapable, $1 or 4 days.

William Thiswell vs. Francis McLeod, abusive language, $1 or 4 days. The Magistrate remarked that the conclusion of the proceedings that he did not understand why more arrests were not effected, as constant complaints were being made about drunkenness and disorderly conduct on the streets, and yet but few offenders were brought before him. He gave them instructions to make a clean sweep of the whole lot.

DASTARDLY.—About eight o'clock on Saturday evening, while the police were arresting a man named McCarey, one of the rousers who followed the crowd threw a stone at City Marshal Passmore, which missed him and struck a sail-maker named Worth in the head injuring him severely. A short time previous another rouser threw an iron bolt at Officer Bradley, which fortunately missed its mark.
