Regulations Re Tubers Unchanged

A decision to impose new minimum size regulations on Canada No. 1 tablestock potatoes effective December 1 has been reversed and the size limits will remain as they were previously it has been learned from Mr. C. E. Shaw, District Fruit and Vegetable Inspector.

Mr. Shaw received word from Mr. R. L. Wheeler, Associate Director, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

The present regulations that will continue until further notice call for a diameter minimum of two and one quarter inches but allow twenty five per cent of the shipment to be as small as two inches in diameter.

The would be regulations, which have been dispensed, stated the minimum diameter of each potato would be two and one quarter inches with a maximum of four inches. This would apply in all cases except those of long shaped varieties where the minimum diameter may be two inches for specimens of not less than three and one half inches.

Mr. Shaw brought the matter before Mr. Wheeler because large quantities of potatoes have been bagged and tagged under the old system and a change in standards would result in much added labor and expense.

Child Has Close Escape From Death

Prompt action on the part of Mr. James O'Brien, truck driver for the Co-operative Stores, averted another tragedy yesterday on Malpeque Road.

Joy O'Brien, three year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald O'Brien, 5 Young Street, is in the Charlottetown Hospital suffering from shock, and cuts on her upper lip and over her left eye, having narrowly escaped death when struck by the vehicle.

As was her custom, Joy was waiting for her father on the corner of Malpeque Road in order that she might carry his lunch box for him. Mr. O'Brien is employed in the construction of the new Pickard showroom on Malpeque Road. The child saw her father coming toward her on the other side of the road, and after waiting for a car which was coming from the city to pass her, ran across in the path of the truck driven by Jerome O'Brien.

He jammed on his brakes and getting out of his truck found the child lying on the road with her clothing under his front right wheel. He picked her up and rushed her to the hospital where her condition is being observed in case of complications.
