CONTRACT BRIDGE

The bidding:
West North East South
1♣ 1♦ 1♥ 1♠
2♣ 3♠ Pass 4♣

Opening lead—seven of hearts. This hand was played in the World Bridge Olympic many years ago. Par was to bid and make four spades. Declarer starts with four losers—a heart, two diamonds, and a club—assuming, as is reasonable on the bidding, that West has both, missing aces. The idea is to make one of these losers disappear.

The setup suggests an elimination play. The bidding is very informative. West has become marked with diamond and club length and his opening heart lead is indicated to be a singleton in view of East's heart bid. South wins the heart with the king and draws two rounds of trumps. When West follows to both spades, it becomes reasonable to assume his original distribution was 5-5-2-1. All that remains to be done is to apply this knowledge to the rest of the play in order to avoid the heart loser.

A club is led toward dummy's king. The defense may vary, but the ultimate result remains the same. Assume West wins with the ace of clubs and returns a club. South crosses to his hand with a trump and leads a diamond. Again West has a choice whether to take his ace immediately.

If West takes the ace and returns the diamond queen, it is taken with the king and another diamond is led. When West wins the diamond he is forced to return a club or a diamond, allowing South to ruff in dummy as he discards his heart loser.

Of if West does not take the first diamond lead and allows the king to win, declarer returns a diamond. If East's ten wins the trick, the best he can do is return the queen of hearts.

South takes the king and leads still another diamond. West must win and give declarer a ruff-discard.

The contract cannot be defeated. All roads lead to Rome. The defense can never capture their heart trick.

The elimination play is a wonderful gadget.

The regular monthly meeting of the New Haven W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. Stanley Newman on Wednesday, July 2nd. The meeting opened by singing the ode and repeating the creed in unison. TO VISIT RED CHINA
TORONTO CP — Five Toronto lawyers have left to visit Red China at the invitation of the Chinese Association of Legal and Political Science, it was learned Friday. They are Norman A. Endicott, Edward B. Joliffe, Bruce J. Legge, Warren Armstrong, and James D. Service. They are to spend August studying the judicial processes and recent changes in the lives of the Chinese people, they said, and are making the trip as private individuals.

A tractor owned by Mr. Stanley MacIsaac, Glenwood, caught fire while cutting hay Monday evening. The fire is believed to have started from a gas leak and a loose wire connection. With the help of nearby neighbours, a fire extinguisher, the fire was quickly brought under control. The tractor was quite badly damaged but luckily Mr. MacIsaac escaped with no serious injury.

Miss Dorothy Smallman, who has been employed in Toronto, arrived home recently and is now attending a Teacher Training Course at Prince of Wales College, Charlottetown.

A very enjoyable evening was spent at St. Anthony's Hall, Tuesday evening, sponsored by the St. Anthony's Aquinas Society. Hillbilly and Western music was supplied by Don Olson and Elaine Pineau - stars of C.F.C.F. Montreal. Some local talent was enjoyed also.
