Dr. Barrett Is Chairman Of CNIB Advisory Board

Dr. G. D. Barrett, Charlottetown, was re-elected chairman of the P.E.I. advisory board to the Canadian National Institute for the Blind at the organization's annual meeting Tuesday of this week.

B. W. Patterson is first vice-chairman, R. E. Younker, second vice-chairman, Lieut. Col. D.J. MacCormack, secretary, and Mrs. A. J. MacDonald, treasurer. All are residents of Charlottetown.

A total of 154 persons were included in the province's blind register at the end of 1963, Dr. Barrett stated in his annual report.

During the year 11 persons received treatment and such aids as artificial aids and protective glasses. Braille, typing and crafts were taught to the newly blind in their homes, and braille, moontype and talking books were supplied to others. During the year 21 persons enjoyed library service and 22 were supplied with handicraft materials.

Five blind persons are employed in five CNIB canteens in the Charlottetown area, he reported, and several others have found seasonal employment on their own.

FURTHER EDUCATION

"Last year the CNIB assisted two persons in furthering their education; one in his senior year at St. Dunstan's University . . . the other is taking a night course at Prince of Wales College in basic business administration."

A total of 48 persons were served at the Friendship Club of the Blind during the year.

Dr. Barrett stated that 346 services were rendered in the field of prevention of blindness, Speeches, films and literature contributed to making the public eye care conscious. The 11th annual essay contest on care of the eyes had a large number of participants, he said, with prizes being awarded to 31 winners throughout the province.

Massed Choir Being Formed For Crusade

SUMMERSIDE — Musicians from local churches are hard at work enlisting hundreds of singers for the mass choir of the Billy Graham — Joe Blinco Crusade which begins June 15th at the Civic Stadium, Summerside.

"We are aiming to have at least 200 singers each night", says Thomas Hall, chairman of the crusade choir committee. "This should be one of the finest and certainly one of the largest choirs ever heard in our area and we would like to have up to 300 if possible."

Actual leadership of the choir will be under the direction of Robert Mantzke, music director for the Crusade who will arrive shortly before the crusade begins. The first rehearsal will be held June 1st at 7.30 p.m. In the Athena Regional High School Auditorium, and the choir will also rehearse for 30 minutes before the Crusade service begins each evening.

The choir's selections will be varied, ranging from well-known gospel songs to the stately hymns of the church to some of the favorite sacred classics. In addition to the choir vocal and insrumental solos will be given each night by members of the crusade team.

"The team puts a great deal of emphasis on music in the crusade services", said Mr. Hall. "We feel music is one of the best means of preparing our hearts to receive the message of God".

"And", he added, "anyone who loves to sing and is 16 years of age or older is welcome in this choir. It's not necessary to sing in one of the church choirs or to have musical training. Anyone who wants information should contact me or the crusade committee."

Canadian Council Of Blind Slated Here On Weekend

The 16th annual Conference of the Canadian Council for the Blind will be held in the Charlottetown Hotel, Saturday and Sunday.

The conference will open on Saturday morning with a civic welcome and a welcome from the president of the local friendship club of the blind. The conference agenda will deal with items of concern to the blind of the Maritimes and these will be discussed during the conference.

Delegates from the 12 clubs in the three Maritime provinces will be in attendance. Charlottetown delegates will be Miss Violet Dalley from the local club and Edgar Doucette, an executive member of the council.

During the conference hand icraft items from the blind will be on display at the hotel.

The conference will close with a banquet Sunday evening, and the president of the Canadian Council for the Blind will be the chairman. He is G. J. Collrin, Saint John, N.B.

Stella Maris Celebrates Centennial Day

High and grade school pupils of all districts comprising Stella Maris Regional High School assembled recently for their Centennial Day Celebration.

Preceding the speaker of the day, the grade 7 and 8 choir sang Cry Out With Joy and The Lord's My Shepherd.

Lionel Gaudin, a local high school graduate who just graduated from St. Dunstan's, delivered an oration on Sir John A. MacDonald — the man who did most to "father" Confederation.

An outdoor parade formed, and all sang The Island Hymn. The different schools headed by their own school banners, marched around the ground to the music supplied by Stella Maris Elementary Band under the direction of Miss Norma Gallant. The parade ended with the singing in French of O Canada.

Grades 1-6 staged a program of songs, skits, etc., while grades 7-12 group participated in outdoor sports till noon. After lunch the upper grades held their Centennial program while the first group participated in outdoor sports. Frequent unpredicted showers supplied unscheduled races to shelter in the school.

Mrs. Frank Ross, Centennial committee chairman for schools, presented Centennial medallions and penmanship prizes.

Past Moderator To Preach At Trinity

SUMMERSIDE — Very Reverend James S. Thomson, MA, DD, LID, FRSC, a former moderator of the United Church of Canada, will be special preacher at the 104th anniversary services in Trinity Church, Summerside this Sunday.

Dr. Thomson last visited Prince Edward Island on August 17, 1958 and at that time preached at Trinity United, Summerside and at the United Church, O'Leary. He was moderator of the United Church from 1956 to 1958 and his visit came during his term of office.

Dr. Thomson will be the speaker for the daily devotional periods during the sessions of the Maritime Conference of the United Church of Canada, to be held in Sackville, N.B., June 2-7. He will also preach the sermon at the ordination service in the Sackville United Church Sunday, June 7th.

He will be accompanied here by his wife and during their stay in Summerside they will be the guests of Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Webber, Trinity Manse, Spring Street. A cordial invitation is extended to any who wish to worship at Trinity on Sunday and to hear Dr. Thomson's messages.

New Trawler Lands First Load

SOURIS — The new steel trawler Howe Bay, brought her first catch to her home port of Souris yesterday landing some 44,000 pounds of fish.

The ship, which is owned and skippered by Egbert Boertein made a landing of 86,000 in North Sydney last week when she was forced into the Cape Breton port with engine trouble. She will leave for the fishing grounds today.

The state flag of Alaska, formally adopted in 1927, was designed by a 13-year-old orphan boy.

Bugden Devotes Full Time To Fine Arts

H. Barry Bugden, Charlottetown, today terminates his employment with the Maritime Electric Co. Ltd., where he has held the position of advertising and public relations supervisor for the past 12 years.

A well-known Island artist, Mr. Bugden is entering the fields of commercial and fine arts on a full-time basis, working for the present at his studio in West Royalty.

Mr. Bugden has wide experience in the commercial art field having been a commercial artist in London, Ont. for seven years before moving to this province.

Paintings of Island scenes, portraits, etc., by Mr. Bugden have been very well received by Islanders, and visitors to the province, and now hang in many private collections in Canada and the United States.

An exhibition of his work, which has been on view at the Eastern and Chartered Trust Company office for the past two months, concludes today.

Lay People Discuss Family Troubles

SUMMERSIDE — Approximately 130 lay men and women from the Kinkora parish along with representatives from Seven Mile Bay, Borden and Summerside parishes assembled in Kinkora recently to discuss the value and necessity of a united effort through organization in the promotion of better family. Chairman for the occasion was Eric Hamill, president of Kinkora Laymen's Association.

Guest speaker John Eldon Green of Charlottetown first addressed the entire group on general phases in which family problems commonly occur. Following this the meeting was broken into smaller groups for discussion.

Among the questions and problems discussed were the matter of permissable age for dating and public parties; the chaperoning of parties; the number of parties permitted to students each week and the hours of such parties; the study by parents of the problems confronting their sons and daughters.

Mr. Green was thanked by Mrs. Clayton McCabe on behalf of the CWL, Wilfred Smith on behalf of CFM and by Rev. H. J. Croken, pastor. The meeting was under the auspices of the laymen's organization, CWL and CFM.

Rev. Andrew MacDonald, diocesan CFM chaplain, at the close of the meeting, gave the assembly a summary of the questions discussed and solved.

Nurse's Role Includes Spiritual Care--Speaker

Rev. Walter Reid, chaplain of St. Veronica's Guild, Charlottetown, addressed the business session of the Atlantic Council of Catholic Nurses yesterday morning during the final day of the meetings.

He addressed the meeting on the "role of the nurse in the spiritual care of the patient." Father Reid said the chaplain cannot give all the spiritual care and that the nurse must do what ever she can in this regard. The nurse must care for the whole patient, he said.

The nurse's concern for the spiritual welfare of the patient can help her establish a relationship with the patient, enable him to cope with his problems and thus many times be able to help him spiritually, Father Reid said.

The business session ended yesterday morning with the reading of the financial report and a report from the meeting of the board of directors of the national organization. It was decided to appoint a corresponding secretary to the executive of the ACCN to help in the publication of a bulletin three times a year on the activities of the various guilds.

A summary of the convention was given by Rev. Joseph Mills, ACCN chaplain. He proposed that each guild president present a report from a catholic periodical at their monthly meetings.

The meeting then adjourned and was followed by Mass in the hospital chapel conducted by Father Mills.
