DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints.

Strange But True

By F. H. MacArthur

Sign outside a Chinese laundry in Moncton, N. B. "We wash everything but the baby and return everything but the dirt." Believe it or not, but there were periods in the 18th century when there were no clergymen in Newfoundland and, as a result, no schools of any kind. The pastors acted as doctors, school teachers and magistrates in addition to looking after the spiritual needs of their flocks.

As a rule the average tourist coming to P.E.I. knows surprisingly little about its location, its inhabitants. He has a vague idea that it lies near Nova Scotia, and that it is perhaps not British, but French. Indeed some Americans think that Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island are one and the same place.

And during one of my many visits to the United States, I met a clergyman who started talking French, almost as soon as we had been introduced. He was of the opinion that everybody coming from Canada spoke French. This pious man had heard from somebody that our climate proved phenomenally revivifying, so much so that longevity of newcomers arriving from other parts was simply amazing.

The midge sea-horse is unsurpassed for interest and originality by any creature of the deep. He swims not like other fish but vertically; he uses his mermaid tail to hold onto seaweed and other marine plants; he changes color protectively like a chameleon; he wears a suit of armor and he gathers his food by swift and powerful suction.

The sea-colls are born one at a time during the first hour and then by a series of puffings and explosions on the part of the parent, they end forth into the world in bell-like batches. The window of a Bermudian used to stay in bed prostrated for three weeks after the death of her husband. During this time all her female acquaintances paid formal visits of condolence. It was the widow's daily chore when she heard people coming she would jump into bed and pull the bed clothes right up to her ears.

Theatre Back In The City Of London After Exile

LONDON, (Reuters)—The City of London stayed up late this week for the first time in 300 years. Professional theatre, expelled from the area by the Puritans in the 17th century, returned to the City, London's financial district where thousands work but only cats and caretakers live and which normally is deserted after the close of business each day. The theatre permitted to open in the City is the "Mermaid," an Elizabethan-style playhouse built by Bernard Miles and set up in a roofed courtyard for the summer season. The program includes such ancient as the opera "Dido and Aeneas," Shakespeare's "As You Like It," and the play, "Eastward Ho" which hasn't been played professionally for 300 years.

New York Man Adjudged Sane; To Stand Trial... CANADAIGUA, N. Y. (AP)—Fred E. McManus, who admitted killing five persons on a cross-country trip, was adjudged sane Thursday and ordered to stand trial on a first-degree murder charge for the slaying of his first victim, a college student.

Father Denies Giving Beating To Little Girl

MIAMI, Fla. (CP)—A tearful Russell Tongay denies giving a fatal beating to his swimming-star daughter, five-year-old Kathy. The 36-year-old Russell, who taught Kathy to swim before she could walk, was freed on $5,000 bail Friday after being charged with second-degree murder in the child's death. Police indicated the girl died of the results of a beating.

Tongay insisted, however, that Kathy was hurt in a high dive. "I told police I didn't give Kathy a whipping Tuesday. I told them she was hurt in a high dive but they wouldn't listen," he told a reporter. Tongay, who several years ago was acquitted of a charge of maltreating Kathy, took his wife to their home at Torpon Springs, Fla., where their daughter will be buried beside Russell Tongay, Jr., the couple's first child who died at the age of 18 months from the effects of a head injury.

Manus in the death of William A. Braverman, 19, of Rochester, who was found shot to death March 27 in a gravel pit near Rochester. The youth told police Braverman, a Hobart College freshman, was the first of five persons he shot to death. He took Braverman's auto and killed the others to get money so that he and Dianne Weggeland of Marion, Rochester suburb, could get married, he said.
