REPEAT PERFORMANCE.—The Musical Discords of 1953, composed totally of Montague talent, scored another triumph last night on their repeat performance at Yeo's Theatre before another capacity audience. The cast, composed of twelve young ladies and six young men, presented a most entertaining variety concert which was intensely enjoyed. The program included group songs of popular melodies, American folk songs, Negro spirituals, cowboy favorites, and others. Interspersed also were several humorous selections which also drew hearty applause. Soloists, duets, trios, and quartets received many favorable comments from the audience. The many long hours of diligent practice have resulted in a well-balanced, well-presented program which is a delight to the listeners. The program is under the direction of Mrs. Ralph Beck, and is sponsored by the Montague Women's Institute, who graciously provided a delicious lunch for the cast and principals following each performance.

Garage Heating

a member, the action taken had been agreed to unanimously.

In defense of his personal actions and that of his company in tendering for the project he told the Council that his company had been deprived of the services and time of its president for two years and stated that this was in itself a contribution to the city. He also said that in showing its interest this way in civic affairs it did not stop there, but was tendering for an amount "several hundreds of dollars" lower than others and this was done by design. He said the firm felt that if it could contribute the services of its president it could also contribute through the medium of lower tenders.

When the Council put the matter to a vote there were Councillors Farmer, Cudmore and Gormley in favor while Councillors Johnstone, Keefe and MacDonald opposed it. Councillor P. R. McCormac was not present and Councillor Storey refrained from a vote.

Mayor Stewart, who might have cast the deciding ballot, noted the absence of Councillor McCormac and said that since there appeared to be such sharp disagreement on the matter he would refer it to a meeting of the full Council.

Later Councillor Storey said that his firm would withdraw its tender.

When the meeting opened it was for discussion of "internal problems" and the Mayor called on City Assessor E. Sellar who told the Council of the need for a new machine to handle the extra forms which were required in view of the imposition of the new business tax. The machine now in use, he said, had been in there for 15 years and was inadequate to cope with the new forms to be sent out.

New Machine City Clerk James Fullerton said that the city had sent for a representative of the manufacturing firm to determine if the present machine could be adapted to the new needs, but this was found to be impossible. Councillor Johnstone in commenting on the cost of the machine wondered if there were any possibility of the new business tax "being thrown out" by City Recorder K. M. Martin.

In asking and learning the price of the new machine to be $2,869 Councillor MacDonald inquired as to a possible trade-in of the present machine. It was told by Mr. Sellar that it was only $25 and the City preferred to keep it for other departments rather than let it go at that amount.

Councillor Johnstone asked what difference to city finances the new business tax would make and was told by Mr. Sellar that though no accurate figure could be given the amount would be such that he knew of two business houses which by themselves would pay for the new machine within a year.

The representative of the Addressograph-Multigraph Company, Mr. Cleveland, of Halifax, said his machines were built according to the specifications and needs of the customers and that delivery date would be approximately 16 to 18 weeks from date of sale. He said if the machine were not available in time for the sending out of the necessary forms his firm would have a temporary machine installed and operated at no extra cost to the city.

The new machine, it was stated, would provide space for an extra column and would take care of all the needs for taxation purposes for several years to come.

On motion of Councillor Johnstone, seconded by Councillor Farmer, it was agreed to give the City Clerk authority to purchase the machine for the use of the assessing department.

Old Letters From Arctic Returned To Norwegians

OTTAWA, (CP)—Wrapped in the red, white and blue colors of Norway, a small bundle of historic papers was returned to Norwegian hands Thursday—34 years after it had been cached in the frozen Canadian arctic.

The papers, comprising personal letters, maps and documents, were never delivered to the man for whom they had been intended—Norwegian explorer Raold Amundsen. He died in Norway in 1928, with ever visiting the cairn on lonely Ellesmere Island where they had been left for him.

In a brief simple ceremony Thursday Resources Minister Lesage turned the papers over to E. S. Bent, Norwegian minister to Canada, at the latter's residence. Among those of the ceremony was Geoffrey Haddersley - Smith, one of the two Canadians who recovered the papers last summer while on an expedition for the Defence Research Board.

In making the presentation, Mr. Lesage declared: "With these papers we in Canada send to Norway our thanks and appreciation for the work done by her great explorers in our northland."

Replying, Mr. Bent said the information uncovered by Norwegian explorers now belongs to the world at large. He called Amundsen "one of our greatest sons." The papers were left for Amundsen at Cape Aldrick, Ellesmere Island in 1919, by Capt. Godfred Hansen of the Danish navy. Hansen was Amundsen's personal friend and a fellow explorer.

Although the papers were not unwrapped Thursday, a spokesman who had seen them earlier said they were in a remarkable state of preservation. He added: "These people were experts in packing and papers like these
