Alleged Balk Causes Dispute

There was quite a schmozzle about an alleged balk by pitcher LeFurgey in Saturday's baseball game. Frankly, if we ever decided to live dangerously and put on an umpire's mask, which heaven forbid, we'd have more trouble interpreting "balk" rules than any other rule in the game. LeFurgey, apparently behind the pitching slab, (and we say "apparently" to avoid possible court-martial), feineted a throw to third which a runner occupied and then wheeled and threw to first.

We have a rule book of rather ancient vintage (changes may have been made), which says about balks: Sec-1—"Any motion made by the pitcher to throw to first base when occupied by a base runner without completing the throw. . ." Sec. 2 — "Throwing the ball. . .to catch the base runner without first stepping directly towards any base. . .or throwing or feinting to throw to an unoccupied base." These seem to be the only rules pertinent to the case in question, and neither seems to convict LeFurgey of a balk. The word "first" in section 1 and the word "occupied" in section 2 seem to be the key words to exonerate him.

We could be wrong in this, of course, and if so, by all means put us in our place, (which by the way is in the scoring booth back of home plate, but they've got the door nailed; we'll bet a side of bacon somebody's making tequila up there). We find that all these disputes are dropped without further discussion. If they were discussed, pro and con, it would clear the air, and maybe even the deep recesses of an umpire's cerebellum. But this may be asking too much.

Not Always Errors

We got the impression recently that certain players think we score an error every time a player mishandles a ball even if the apple comes at him like a misguided missile. We don't, of course. Our judgment may be wrong sometimes, and this is largely a matter of judgment, but we do recognize the "hard to handle" aspect, and often score hits because of it.

If a fielder is running sideways to scoop up a ball, it need not be travelling too fast to absolve him of error, but if the ball goes through his legs, it would have to be somewhat of a scorcher to be socred a hit. The pitcher is an exception because of the short range and the fact that he may be still off balance when the ball comes to him. Hits can be scored off pitchers where another fielder would would be charged with an error.

Talk Stirs Fond Memories

We were talking to Dr. Bowness at the racetrack Thursday evening. It reminded us of a week in Halifax a good many years ago when we acted as cook and bottle washer to Tyndall Semple and his helpers, and slept in the straw in the stable. What a week that was! Dr. Bowness had a mare named Claire Napoleon and she cleaned up. This was the only time we ever got a thrill out of a horse winning without holding a ticket on her and listening to those horsemen in the stables was like hearing a new Arabian Nights.

Their spicy tales and racy language made you a horse lover overnight. We even had barber shop quartets, and we remember Enzor Bowness supplied a surprisingly fine tenor. If you could have heard us, folks, you'd think the Romeos had laryngitis. Well, maybe it wasn't quite that good. As we look at the past with rose-colored glasses, maybe we listen with silver-toned hearing aids.

Halberg Avenges Defeat; Kidd Finishes 3rd In Race

WALNUT, Calif. (CP)—World record - holder Murray Halberg of New Zealand avenged himself Saturday on young Toronto runner Bruce Kidd—then congratulated the Canadian for "a magnificent effort."

Halberg captured the three-mile run—the feature race—of the United States National Amateur Athletic Union's track and field championships. American Max Truex was second and Kidd third.

The winning time was 13:30.60—well off Halberg's world mark of 13:10.

The veteran New Zealander stayed off the pace, as did his nearest rival, until the gun lap.

COULDN'T MAKE IT

Halberg than took the lead and built up a solid margin. Kidd, who defeated Halberg at Compton, Calif., earlier this month, made a game effort but could not catch Truex.

The 18-year-old Kidd showed the effects of his winning run in the six - mile grind Friday night when he set an American record of 28:23.2.

Pat Clohessy of the Houston, Tex., track club, who forced Truex on the pace in the last three laps, finished fourth in an original field of 18.

"I learned something this afternoon," Kidd said wearily a few minutes after the race.

"You can't run the six- and three-mile on successive days. It just takes too much out of you. I won't double up like this again."

CONGRATULATES KIDD

Halberg congratulated Kidd for a game effort. Kidd had beaten the New Zealander in the 5,000 metres at the Compton relays a few weeks ago.

The 28-year-old Halbert said: "The slow pace played into my hands.

If Kidd had been fresh, it would have been a different story. He would have taken the lead at the sixth lap and run his race and I would have had to make my move earlier."

Truex' second - place timing was 13:32.8. Kidd's time was 13:33.8.

Kidd told Halberg:

"I wasn't prepared for a kick-in race. When you made your move, I went after you. But I just didn't have it today."

Halberg replied:

"Well, it was good experience for you, and you made a magnificent effort."

BREAK OUT

Halberg and Kidd ran about fourth and fifth going into the last lap. As the gun sounded for his final lap, Halberg made his move. The sub-four-minute miler pulled well ahead halfway through the final lap and finished with something to spare.

"I can't out-kick Halberg," explained Kidd. "I needed to make my move earlier, but I couldn't do it today."

It was evident that Halberg and Kidd were keeping a sharp eye on each other throughout the race. And when Halberg made his first big move, the Toronto youngster started his also.

Said Halberg:

"After losing at Compton to Kidd, I changed my strategy. From now on I run against opponents, not against time.

"I thought Kidd made a magnificent effort, but you can't come back the next day in the three-mile after running the six-mile."

RCAF Whips Save-Easies

SUMMERSIDE — The RCAF softball team gave Gaudet's Save-Easies another one-sided drubbing at Summerside on Saturday, Beating the Red-Shirts 8-2. Bill Daley, winning pitcher, gave up seven hits, while the airmen were getting to Cece Mosher for ten safeties.

Doug Tucker, playing his first game for Save-Easies, hit one of the longest home runs of the season in the second inning. Fagan and Swift had 2 hits in 3 tries for RCAF, Cahill 2 for 4. Ulric Gallant rapped out two safe blows in three trips for Save-Easies.

Georgetown, Morell, Peakes Nab Victories

Peakes Bombers, Georgetown Eagles and Morell all captured lopsided victories in Kings County Baseball League action Sunday, two of them shutouts.

The Bombers walloped St. Peters 12-6, Morell trounced Iona 13-0 and Georgetown Eagles whitewashed Souris St. Marys 10-0.

After a loosely-played first inning, the Bombers settled down behind the combined pitching of L. Sheehan and George Power to hand the St. Peters the loss on the Peakes diamond.

Sheehan, who was credited with the victory, allowed only one hit and fanned three before being taken out in favor of Power in the fifth. Power allowed six hits and fanned one.

R. MacKinnon was charged with the loss, giving up eleven hits and striking out five.

Top stickers for the winners were E. Smith and G. Devine with three hits in five appearance. R. Wilson hit at a .500 clip for the St. Peters team with two hits in four trips.

Over at Iona the Morell Meteors ran roughshod over their opponents, banging 18 hits off a combination of three pitchers and picking up five free passes to first for a total of 13 runs.

L. Murphy racked up the win with a five-hitter while striking out eight and issuing only one walk.

Starting and losing pitcher Freddy Handrahan pitched five full innings before being relieved by Elliott Hendricken, who was lifted in favor of Charlie McCabe after 8 1-3 innings. The Iona hurlers struck out five Morell stickers.

The powerful Eagles had little trouble disposing of the Souris crew. Winning pitcher Allie MacPhee limited his eastern opponents to six hits and three walks while sending eight down via the strikeout route.

Gerald Clinton went the route for the losers and was tagged for nine hits.

John Walsh of Georgetown was top batter of the day with three hits in five outings. Ray Peters topped all Souris stickers with a 1-for-2 performance.

The longest hit of the game was a bases-empty circuit clout in the eighth inning by George Rafuse of the Eagles.

Great Racing Card Seen At Local Track Saturday

Janet M and Victory Scott split honors in the feature AA trot and pace at Charlottetown Driving Park Saturday night.

The seven-year-old Simcoe Harvester mare took control early in the first dash and wasn't letting any of the opposition by her. She hit the wire in 2.10:3.

Janet looked like a double dash victor at the seven-eighths pole in the second trip but great drives by Victory Scott and Lola Hal were her undoing. The Victory Song horse made it first in 2.11:2 and Lola was in the place position with Janet a bangup third.

All of the other classes were won in double dash fashion. Rio Grande had too much trotting ability for the others in the C and D trot and Art Burbine had no trouble teaming his entry to a 1-1 summary.

Jolly Frisco took both dashes of the C and D pace and each trip the Jollity gelding bettered his previous race tab. His first triumph was in 2.13:2 and his final mile was a most respectable 2.14 flat. Jolly Frisco's best mile prior to Saturday was 2.14:4.

Arturo Hanover showed real homelane finish by copping both trips of the B and C pace. The 8-year-old son of Tar Heel withstood a terrific drive by Here Am I in their first outing and then came from behind to win the battle with Here Am I and Ginger E in the seventh dash.

BEST TIME OF NIGHT

Best time of the night was Janet M's 2:10:3 in dash four. Art Burbine led the reinsmen with three dash winners, twice with Rio Grande and once with Victory Scott.

The daily double combination of Rio Grande and Jolly Frisco was worth a tidy 132.80. The second double, Janet M and Rio Grande paid $17.70. Arturo Hanover and Here Am I got together for a quinella pay of $19.00 and Arturo Hanover and Ginger E gave exactor backers a $28.40 return.

Victory Scott gave the best win pay of $24.70 in dash eight. Other win pays in double figures were Rio Grande $15.00 and Arturo Hanover $12.30. Rio Grande's place backers got $11.00 for their two dollar tickets in dash five.

Another great program is going tonight.

Pontiacs Top Flyers 9-7

The Summerside Pontiacs baseball team stretched their skein of victories to three by defeating the RCAF Flyers at Summerside Saturday afternoon by the score of 9-7. Dee Lefurgey started for the Pontiacs and got credit for the victory. He was ahead 9-3 when he retired in the top of the sixth and Garth Harris finished the game. Two hits and three walks got Harris into trouble and four runs had crossed the plate before Garth struck the last two batters out to end the inning. He whiffed two more batters in the final frame.

The flyers had seven hits of Lefurgey in the innings he pitched. Hugh Spicer went six innings for RCAF and was touched for 13 hits. Nearing, a lefty, worked the last inning and did not give up a safe bingle.

Ed Dalton hit a solo homer in the second, and Garth Harris chased a runner across the plate with his circuit blow in the fifth. Irv Arsenault hit a triple. Coke Grady, who has been burning up both the baseball and softball leagues with his hitting, continued his onslaught pitchers with 3 hits in 3 trips. Ed Dalton hit 3 for 4, Dee Lefurgey 2 for 3, Greg Deighan and Garth Harris 2 for 4. Norm Little hit 2 for 3 for the losers, and Arzuckle had two doubles in three official trips to the plate.

Rovers Remain Unbowed; Nip Forbie's Flyers 5-4

A ninth inning rally that produced three big runs Saturday afternoon kept Johnny Squarebrigg's Rovers undefeated in City Baseball League activity.

Rovers were trailing 4-2 entering the bottom of the ninth and things looked mighty good for Forbie Kennedy's Flyers to pick up their first triumph in three starts. But as things turned out the Rovers left Memorial Field with a 3-0 record and Kennedy's lads owned an unenvitable 0-3 tab.

There was one out when relief pitcher Lefty Dunn came to the plate with runners on first and second. Flyers' relief hurler, Carl McQuaid, appeared in complete control of the situation. But Dunn, noted for his great mound feats, decided on another leading role. He caught one of Carl's pitches and sent it deep to right for a boomin triple. The runners ahead of Dunn scampered home and the game was tied.

The Flyers' infield moved in, trying desperately to keep Lefty from coming home from third. However, Bobby Rice hit a slow roller down the first base line and the attempt to nail Dunn at the plate was far too late. The Rovers had pulled it out in sensational 5-4 fashion.

Dunn only pitched to five men during the afternoon but he was the winning moundsman. Squarebriggs sent Dunn in with two on base and one out in the sixth. Lefty got the next two, a fly to the shortstop and a grounder to second. However he stayed in the ball game at first and was ready when his manager asked for help in the ninth. Forbie Kennedy got to Lefty for a run producing single but he struck out Roger MacLeod and had Carl McQuaid fly out to end the inning.

Young Lyle Huggin started for the victors and worked five innings. He gave up five hits and three runs. Lyle fanned one and walked three. He hit two batters. Len Ellsworth took over in the sixth and alternated with Dunn the rest of the distance. Len didn't allow a base hit while on the mound, struck out one and gave three free passes to first base.

STARTS FOR LOSERS

Roger MacLeod opened on the hill for the Flyers. He stayed two innings and retired in favor of Carl McQuaid. Roger walked three, fanned four, hit one batter and had one run scored on him. McQuaid went the remaining distance and deserved a much better fate. The Birchwood lad showed plenty of stuff and he was home a winner if Dunn had left his batting ability behind him. Only three hits were collected off Carl who struck out five and walked three. Carl hit one batter.

John Lane, Flyers third sacker led the losers' attack with two singles in three official trips.

Only extra base blow was Lefty Dunn's game-tying triple in the ninth. Dunn also had a single in the seventh to give him a perfect day all around.

Bobby Rice provided the game's top fielding gem when he raced far to his left to rob Forbie Kennedy of at least a double in the third inning. Bobby was on the dead run when he made the catch.

Bill Coughlin was plate umpire and George Hawkins, Lou Lund and Jimmy Allan were on the base paths.

Next league action is Tuesday night when Rovers entertain Buck Whitlock and his Stars.

Great Race Card On Tap Tonight

Tonight's harness racing card at Charlottetown Driving Park should provide patrons with some of the greatest action seen so far this season.

The 2.23 stake is on the menu and it will be raced in two divisions. Eight starters go in dashes one and two and the top four in each of these dashes clash again in dash five. The bottom four in races one and two have a get together in dash six.

This stake should defintely be a hard fought affair all the way and patrons surely should not be disappointed with the action in these four dashes.

Dashes three and seven have seven good trotters ready for the word and these high steppers are most likely to put on quite a display for the fans. It will be the first local appearance of Bill Boyles's Stormy Song and the Song has drawn the choice rail position. Other trotters in these dashes are Poplar Flash, Ted Genesse, Mary Leah, Windy June, Miss Tom Scott and Avalon Worthy.

There are a half dozen entries in the dashes four and eight and each of these six has a license to emerge as victor. Victory Mac has drawn the pole position and other entrants are Homestretch Lady, Irv Averill, Sister Dawn, Jean Clegg and Miss Cool Eyes.

First dash goes promptly at 8 o'clock and pari-mutuel bettors are reminded that the first double is on races one and two.

HUGE BASIN

Africa's Congo River and its tributaries have a total drainage area of about 1,450,000 square miles.

MAR. RACING ROUNDUP

HALIFAX (CP) — Horses owned by Eric and Harry Whebby of Dartmouth, N.S., claimed top purse money in Saturday's harness racing card at suburban Sackville Downs.

The free-for-aller Bob Lee Boy swept both ends of the featured event and the four-year-old brown pacing stallion Willies Adios headed his class in two races.

Other winners included Tommie B. Counsel, owned by Francis Breau of Moncton; Fedoran, owned by Harry Hirsch of Sydney; Roxie Tass and Silent Dynamite, owned by Halifax-Dartmouth area stables.

Fedoran, only trotter in a starting field of five, claimed a new mark of 2.09 3-5. The time —fastest of the night — was duplicated by Willie Adios in the sixth race.

TRURO (CP) — Double dash winners on Saturday night's harness racing card at the Truro Raceway were Mr. Duggan, owned by Warren Douglas of Saint John, N.B., and Borderview Detann, owned by Danny Myers of Dartmouth, N. S.

Pepper Shaker, owned by Don Ratchford of Newport, N. S., combined with Mr. Duggan for a daily double return of $192.70. The quinella was worth $19.90 on the team of Borderview Deeann and Jolly Axworthy, owned by Bill Crowell of Truro, while the exactor brought in $11 on the same two horses.

Pepper Shaker paid $123.20 to win the first dash. Other dash winners were Port Wallis Boy, owned by Mr. Myers, and Magda Wick, owned by F. T. Stanfield of Truro.

Laver Favored To Retain Title

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) Experts made Rod Laver of Australia a 4-6 favorite Sunday to retain his Wimbledon tennis title—one more stage in his bid to equal Don Budge and complete a tennis "grand slam."

The red - headed Australian star already has cleaned up the national championships of Australia and France. To match Budge's achievement he must win the Wimbledon tournament, starting today, and the United States championships at Forest Hills, N.Y.

Nick Westlock Takes Tourney

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP) — Nick Weslock took the lead in the Ontario Open golf Championship on the first day of play and proceeded to run away with the tournament, winning by eight strokes after Saturday's final round. The Toronto amateur was the only man to break par for the 72 holes.

The 43-year-old veteran also became the second man to win four Ontario opens and the first amateur to win as many. Gerry Kesselring won two Ontario opens as an amateur and two as a pro.

The course appeared to be playing harder for the 60 amateurs and pros who made the cut for the last two rounds and teed off in Saturday's 36-hole finale.

Even Weslock, who had rounds of 66 and 68 on the first two days on the par-71, 6,768-yard Beach Grove Golf Club, faltered Saturday, shooting a 72 and a 71 for his 277 total.

Gary Cowan, last year's Canadian amateur champion, had a tough opening round of 74. But the Kithcner player came back with scores of 69-71-71 to tie for second spot as 285 with leading pro and top money winner Moe Norman of Toronto, who picked up $500.

In fourth place at 287 was Jean Guy Periard of Boucherville, Que., who won $400 for his efforts.

Jack Bissegger of Val Morin, Que., was a strong contender who moved in the final rounds but the deceptively difficult course finally caught up to the likeable native of Montreal and he shot a fourth - round 77 for a 289—sixth place and $350.
