Hats. Hats.

REASONS why L. E. PROWSE sells the CHEAPEST HATS in the city:—

1st. Because he does not believe one man should pay double because another does not pay ANYTHING.

2nd. He buys in the best makers' best styles, buys for cash, and sells for cash.

3rd. He does not believe in the old rule—ask large profits and want to get rich too fast—but is satisfied with a SMALL ADVANCE ON COST.

4th. He buys carefully, has no dead stock, keeps the LATEST STYLES always on hand, and at the right time.

Come all, and be convinced that money can be saved by purchasing your Hats from

CURRENT NOTES.

A memorial stating that only fifteen hundred negroes out of forty thousand who were entitled to emancipation have received their release has been presented to the Spanish Government by the abolitionists.

It has been learned that Madame Kalmaire, the morganatic wife of the Grand Duke of Hesse, is a descendant of the eccentric German reformer, Ulrich Von Hutten, whose writings are considered to have aided the work of Luther.

The Republic of Venezuela is said to be on the renewal of civil war, owing to the election by Congress as president, of a mere figure-head, the tool of Guzman Blanco, a former occupant of the office, who rendered himself unpopular by his despotism and rapacity.

The number of British visitors to Canada during this summer promises to be unprecedentedly large. A special to the Toronto Mail says one thousand savants alone, including one hundred members of Parliament, have already secured tickets for the approaching meeting of the British Association in Montreal.

In consequence of the prevalence of hog disease in the Western States, vigorous steps have been taken by the Canadian Customs authorities to prevent the spread of the epidemic in Manitoba. All hogs imported into the North West from the States must be slaughtered immediately on arrival. So says a Winnipeg despatch.

Count de Puyjalon has left Quebec to explore Labrador. So many sections of the Dominion, hitherto regarded as barren, are in these days found to possess wealth, in some shape or other, that no one will be astonished if the count returns to report that salmon fishing is not the only industry that will thrive in the unexplored country.

American business men who have been struggling to secure the passage of a general bankruptcy law have been defeated again in Congress. The Insolvency bill passed the Senate, but was thrown out by the House. An equitable distribution of insolvent estates is not one of the features of commercial operations on the other side of the line.

At the enquiry at Sligo into the Tuber-curry conspiracy on Saturday, an Invincible informer stated that Tynan, "No. 1," was present at the Phoenix Park murders, and that the commission of crimes by Fenians was encouraged. Another witness stated that Daly, whom he had identified in prison at Birmingham, was at a Fenian meeting in 1878 when the witness was made a head centre.

At the Health Exhibition in London a novelty for underwear is announced which, it is expected, will attract great attention.
It is a new silk "long cloth," warm, soft, gentle, and specially adapted to those who cannot bear contact with flannel or any woollen material. It is difficult to see how silk, which is cool and repellent, can be made warm and absorbent, as the new fabric is said to be. It is ecru in colour and has a plain or twilled surface, as preferred.

The following incident in connection with the visit of Lord and Lady Lansdowne to the Kingston Penitentiary, a few days ago, is recorded in the Herald:—"Presently Lady Lansdowne came upon another child, a year and a half old, as it playfully hugged its mother. The Marchioness approached the convict and asked the cause of her confinement. The woman told her, but her lip quivered and the tears welled to her eyes. The conversation was continued in a whisper, and before it ceased my lady's words and manner had soothed the sorrowing creature."

The Countess of Caithness, who is wealthy and socially famous, as well as a noble dame, is the last important person who is bitten with the doctrines of theosophy, which Mme. Blavatsky and Col. Olcott are preaching in London and in Paris.

[Theosophy is a religious belief in which peculiar views are held regarding the manifestation in man of the wisdom of God. It is a modern adaptation of some of the views of Paracelsus, a Swiss alchemist, born at Einsiedeln, Schwytz, in 1493. The soul, according to him, was united to the body by an animal fluid, and that man was an image of the Trinity, his intellect representing God, his body the world, and the fluid the stars.]

Richard I., who did little in the way of regular legislation, promulgated quite a striking code of laws for the maintenance of order in his fleet. If any man killed another on board, he was to be fastened to the dead body and thrown overboard. He who drew blood from another by a willful blow, or struck at him with a weapon, was to lose his hand; a hand-blow that caused no blood was to be punished by ducking the offender thrice. A thief was to be shaven, hot pitch was then to be poured upon his head, and the feathers of a pillow shaken over it, as a mark whereby he might be known; and he was then to be turned ashore on the first land at which the ship might touch. This last is one of the earliest instances of tarring and feathering on record.

The Rev. Q. R. Shaw has just returned to London. It is rumored that he has been induced to return at this time for the purpose of aiding the Opposition in an intended attack upon the Government, based upon the weakness of its foreign policy, especially with regard to French aggres-sions in the east. During the past three months Missionary Shaw has been making tour of the Continent with his wife, and the trip appears to have benefited both.
He looks sleek, well fed, satisfied, and ten years younger than he did when he reached England after his release from French captivity at Tamatave. He admits that he enjoys being lionized, and expresses no great desire for an immediate return to the drudgery of missionary life in Madagascar.

CURRENT NOTES.

Orders have been issued that telephones for the use of divers shall be supplied to British ships carrying such men.

Mr. Alex. Buntin, one of the directors of the Exchange Bank is to be sued by the liquidators to recover $10,000 drawn by him after the suspension.

A novel by Hon. L. S. Huntington, late Postmaster-General of Canada, is announced in the press of the Rose Publishing Company, Toronto. Its title is "Prof.
Conant."

During holiday games at Chatham, Ont., on the 25th inst., the grand stand collapsed. One hundred and fifty people were injured, several seriously, but no fatal results are feared.

Every successive year additional medical virtues are claimed for the strawberry and if all said of the delicious fruit is true, it is not half appreciated. Consumption and gout are now said to be relieved by strawberries.
