A WARNING.—Boys who are in the habit of throwing things at their play fellows should read the following from the St. John Globe: A sad accident occurred to young Leslie Belyea, son of Mr. Miles Belyea, of Portland, one day last week. The lad was playing with another named Watters, in Shipp & Flewelling's store on Main street, when Watters threw a cucumber, striking the other in the face. One eye was destroyed entirely, and it is feared the sight in the other will be ruined. The injured boy was taken to the hospital.

ANIE MONTREAU.—A respectable Montreau to their home in St. C. a few days ago from a summer sojourn in the country, were startled by an unearthly yell as of a human being in awful torture. The house was searched in every nook and corner; the yard, the roof, the adjoining houses were also carefully examined but without result. From three o'clock in the afternoon till eight in the evening the uncanny noise was repeated, accompanied by the sound of heavy breathing, and then suddenly ceased. No explanation of the strange occurrence has yet been given.
