

Gift of sportswear is tops with pops

Your dad or granddad may be a "sixset" tennis man, a spinet swimmer or one of those fellows who prefer the less strenuous forms of relaxation, but in any event he will undoubtedly enjoy a gift of sportswear.

The "Big Man" of your family, whether an active participant or aavid spectator during the summer sports season, ahead will find plenty of use for those handsome and practical garments designed for wear during his leisure hours.

Golfing dads and granddads are easy to find a gift for. Golf slacks and shorts made with tee holders and towel straps come in a wide variety of colors and fabrics, both plain and patterned. They include everything from fine flannels to imported cottons and washwear fabrics, too.

Knit golf shirts with tails long enough to stay tucked-in during the most strenuous drives are a top favorite and are made in shape-retaining cottons as well as soft, easily washed man-made fibers.

Don't overlook the cut-and-sewn golf shirts, with the knit inserts that provide freedom of swing. They are the choice of many golf pros.

A gift certificate at his favorite pro-shop or shoe store will permit him to select a well-fitting pair of "spikes." Golfers always need extra lightweight sweaters and featherweight golf jackets, too. Bats of those handy accessories can be folded into the pocket of his golf bag.

Dads who relax at the beach or lakeside or in the backyard pool, will enjoy a gift of swimwear.

Although there are many coordinated cabana sets, from shirt talk with a hi-fi bag is enough for one to discover the recordings or parts he would like to own.

separately are a tremendous selection of beach shirts, beach jackets and swim trunks keyed to please any and all tastes. Tennis dads and granddads wear white. White tennis shirts, white tennis shirts, white tennis socks, white tennis shoes and, of course white tennis sweaters—the latter frequently trimmed with red and blue borders. They also go for those lightweight flannel blazers to don between sets.

Fishing and boating dads can be treated royally this year with gifts newly developed to delight them.

Fly-casting vests, new light-weight waders, many-pocketed fishing shirts and water-resistant trousers are but a few of the wearables for Waltons.

Sea-going or fresh water, your sailor will be glad for the new "signal flag" vinyl-coated jackets made in brilliant full-color reproductions of the international code flags.

CASUAL HATS FOR DAD

Dad will like a colorful casual hat or cap for wear during his leisure hours in the summer sun. Made in fancy batiks as well as plain fabrics, they are great for golf, beach and driving.

Spades, hoes will cultivate the gardener

Gardening dads will really appreciate Father's Day gifts that add to their outdoor pastime.

Spades, rakes, hoes, cultivators, weedeaters and garden forks in varied sizes and types help the fellow who grows those huge tomatoes and giant dahlias.

If he has a full scale patch to cultivate he may need a power tiller, too. Power lawnmowers, edgers, electric hedge reels, or garden hose make dandy gifts, as well.

Spreaders for seed and fertilizer will help him keep his lawn in tip-top shape.

Choose gift that adds pleasure to leisure

A man engaged in the pursuit of his hobby is a happy man. So, if your dad or granddad is a hobbyist, let your Father's Day gift to him be his favorite pastime.

With the added leisure hours of modern living now at his disposal, the Canadian Stamp Guy comes up with an amazing array of hobbies. These range from philatelic classic stamps and coin collecting to offbeat diversions like wood carving and the collecting of the carved bits of ivory known as "serimshaw" to the old salts who sailed before the mast in the days of windjammers.

Philatelists may prefer their stamps in the form of "covers"—envelopes stamped and cancelled in unusual or historical manner, they may prefer "blocks" of certain issues, or they may covet rare "singles." Stamp albums and stamp catalogues are another good choice. Determine his choice and go to it.

Numismatists go for rare coins, ancient mints, dated series of coins and some prefer old medals, historical medallions or the coins of one particular country.

Is your dad a weekend Rembrandt? If painting is his hobby he will enjoy a gift of oils, water colors, brushes, a new easel, canvases or sketching materials.

Model builders among modern day dads come in two distinct categories. One type prefers to build his replicas from the hundreds of "kits" that come complete with the many pre-shaped parts. The other works from blueprints and fabricates each part by hand. Model kits, miniature modelling tools, tiny engines and components will please these fellows.

SOME HINTS FOR DAD'S DAY

SCORE A "SOCK HIT"
Consider socks for father on his day. Plain or ribbed durable mercerized cotton socks in dark colors usually look best with worsted suits. With glen plaid suits, simple check patterns look best. Bold argyle and diamonds are especially suitable for dad's leisure hours.

TIP ON TIE-GIFTING
Check on your Dad's personal preferences in color and pattern before buying his Father's Day ties. Then measure sure that the ties you select for him will go with his summer suits and sport jackets.

SCORE A SOCK HIT
One way to eliminate the size problem from your Father's Day gift giving is to buy him a selection of stretch socks that are knitted to fit any foot. They now come in both dressy and sporty types.

TOPPING GIFT FOR DAD
How about gifting Dad with new straw hat for his Father's Day? The best way to do it is with a gift certificate from his favorite store. You may also get a miniature hat and hat box to package the certificate.

AIDS TO GROOMING
With the summer months at hand, toiletries such as after shave lotion, men's talcs and deodorants, as well as hair dressings, make fine Father's Day gifts. So shaving creams and pressure-ease lotions.

GIFTS FOR SMOKERS
Smoking gifts make fine Father's Day presents. Boxes, cartons or cans of his favorite cigars, cigarettes or pipe tobacco will please him. So will humidors, smokers' stands, ash trays, pipes and pipe racks. Tobacco pouches and cigarette cases are other suggestions.

Hi-fi fans will be delighted with gifts of their favorite type of recordings as well as with components such as extra speakers, units, boosters, FM tunes new turntables and changers. A short talk with a hi-fi bag is enough for one to discover the recordings or parts he would like to own.
