Wheeled Traffic Brought To A Halt In Kings

All road plows in King's County were called in last evening owing to the recurring snow storm accompanied by high winds which caused heavy drifting on all highways, making further progress impossible. Last night's storm was a follow-up of a previous storm with winds of gale force which began early yesterday morning and abated somewhat in the forenoon, to be followed by rain. About 4 p. m. snow again began to fall, and by 5 p. m. high winds had turned the snow fall into a blizzard with drifting snow quickly filling in cuttings opened last week following the three days storm. Plows were out all afternoon with one getting as far as the New Perth School on the main highway, the other a few miles towards Georgetown. The Murray River plow broke through to Hicken's Corner, while the Annapdale plow worked only a few miles out of Annandale. As the storm grew worse, the plows were called in and will continue the work today.

Schools throughout the district were closed yesterday morning, but opened for classes in the afternoon.

The Montague-Georgetown train left on time yesterday morning. Section men were then engaged to shovel out the turn-table which was stated, was last used over twenty years ago. After placing the plow at the front of the train, it left Montague at 1:30 p. m., arriving at Cardigan at 2:30 p. m. and continued to Mount Stewart where it remained. The Souris train continued to Charlottetown.

Farm Prices & Market Report

Following are excerpts from the weekly marketing report of the Provincial Department of Agriculture, prepared by Mr. W. R. Shaw, Deputy Minister:

While emphasizing the overall seriousness of the outbreak in Western Canada of the foot and mouth disease among livestock, Mr. Shaw urged that producers and dealers avoid sensationalism and panic, and not to rush to unjustifiable conclusions regarding livestock trade and markets. There should not be any appreciable lowering in normal market levels. "I am quite sure," he said, "that if we hold our heads and react as normal sensible people located almost 4,000 miles from the centre of the trouble, and co-operate fully with all authorities in this problem, we shall have very little to worry about."

Livestock prices on Maritime markets fortunately have remained steady, but in some Ontario centers a sharp decline has been rushed to market due to somewhat panicky producers' trends with the result that prices have sagged from three to four cents per pound. This is an evidence of what can happen here if similar tendencies develop. Large numbers of hogs are at present being marketed and among these are good bred sows. The unstable, jittery, in and out breeder, is chiefly responsible. This practice, if applied all round, will soon leave a shortage and higher prices.

"To those who criticize the price of meat," said Mr. Shaw, "I would say: 'Look around. Prices on pork and poultry are very good indeed. Beef is still high. And again I say—by-products are too high. I must, however, come to the defense of the butcher. Take hides for instance. A steer has a hide that weighs say 15 pounds. The butcher buys the live steer at 25 cents per pound. So the hide will cost $18.75. When he sells the hide he gets eight cents (8c) or $6.00 or $12.75 less than he paid for it. This loss must be made up on the dressed meat, and very often the butcher has only a small margin on his transaction. In view of conditions generally are much improved, and the careful housewife should be able, from the variety of meats available, to supply the table without too severely straining the family budget."

The following are the prices as at February 29th:

DOROTHY BIX SAYS— Continued from page 2 is 18, and I am 20. Should she complete her education, or should we marry now? ANSWER: You are both so young that the delay incurred by having your fiancée complete her education will be an advantage. Having a profession is a wonderful asset to a girl, even though she marries. It will give her (and you, too) a sense of security in the knowledge that should misfortune come, a source of income is readily available. Her college education will make her an asset to the community, and will come in very handy in her job of wife and mother. Let her finish college, then get married. You'll both be much better off.
