Gov't Asks Water Service For New Vocational School

By RALPH CAMERON
Guardian-Patriot Staff Writer

Provision of water from the city water supply for the new vocational school being erected just off Malpeque Road is under consideration by the Commissioners of Sewers and Water Supply. City Council was told yesterday at the regular monthly meeting.

The meeting was held in the morning, due to the provincial election, as it was felt many Councillors would wish to be at home last evening to hear election results.

LETTER READ

A letter was read to the Council from Hon. J.P. Matheson, provincial minister of public works, requesting water be supplied to the new institution. Mayor A. Walthen Gaudet told members the matter was now before the Water Commissioners, but had been delayed due to the absence from the city of two commissioners. He said the question of supplying sewage disposal did not enter into the request.

It is believed a prior request for supplying the water had been turned down, but that the matter may be reconsidered in view of expansion of the city due to inclusion of the former No Man's Land area.

In the brief morning meeting, only matters of routine importance were considered as it was announced that a special meeting of Council would have to be held within a few days to deal with several matters of importance, particularly referring to town planning.

PASSING BY-LAW

One of them will be the passing of a by-law permitting erection of multiple housing units along Belvedere Avenue by Maritime Realties, as it was stated by Councillor Walter Cox, town planning chairman, that the firm was ready to proceed with its plans as soon as the by-law went through.

Mr. Cox also called attention to the great amount of broken glass on the streets, and said he had personally watched a group deliberately smash bottles over the curb. He had called police, who responded quickly, but the group had dispersed before they arrived. Councillors agreed that the prevalence of this form of destruction constituted a danger to car owners.

Street committee chairman, Elmer MacRae, said all machines were ready for fast conversion in the event of a snow storm. He also told Council of his department's efforts to better street conditions in the North River co-op housing development.

H. E. Hyndman, chairman of the finance committee, reminded all committee chairman to have their department budgets ready for the annual meeting next month.

LITTER ON STREETS

Councillor MacRae, in answer to criticism regarding litter on the streets, said several street sweepers had to be laid off for failure to show up for work, despite several warnings. But he thought, in view of the fact that the city was saving money by the lack of snow, his department should put the full sweeping crew back to work for a few days, at least, to improve conditions.

William MacNeill, chairman of the police committee, told Council he wished to especially congratulate the police department for its excellent work in solving the safe robbery of the Capitol Theatre so quickly. However, he deplored the carelessness of business houses in keeping large sums of money on hand with only a minimum of security provided. He stated that practice indicated a lack of co-operation with police.

He stated Sunday police had gone around all churches during morning services and had placed warning tickets on each vehicle found illegally parked. Next Sunday the tickets will carry payment of a fine, he stated.

TENDER ACCEPTED

Council accepted the tender of B and M Equipment Company for supplying the city with extra snow fighting equipment, at a cost of $10 per day standby time and $12 per working hour. This is the same arrangement as was used last winter and which Councillor MacRae termed "the cheapest insurance we can buy." In agreeing Councillor MacNeill said it was "insurance we cannot afford to be without."

It was pointed out to Council that this arrangement costs less than the interest on money required to purchase the machinery and in addition then the city would have to maintain and repair it as well as supply operators.

The tender of M. J. Conway and Son for supplying 500 tons of sand at $1.70 per ton was accepted. It was said this is slightly lower than last year because of a shorter haul. Also accepted was the tender of W. G. Barbour Ltd. for supplying a Brantford Highway spreader at a cost of $2,207.

'Courtesy Nickel' Program Praised

The new 'courtesy nickel' program of the Charlottetown Board of Trade, permitting shoppers to park without fear of traffic fines, was praised in City Council this morning. The program went into effect yesterday.

Police Chief Charles MacArthur, however, had a warning that he feared store clerks, themselves, would take advantage of the free parking to leave their cars all day, and said steps had to be taken to guard against this.

He told Council that Sgt. James Howatt had been assigned to the project, and was being supplied with 2,000 nickels by the Board of Trade. When he finds a car with a violation showing on the meter, he will deposit one of the nickels in the meter and leave an envelope on the car windshield. The envelope tells the action he has taken, and asks the motorist to make it possible to extend the same courtesy to others by refunding the nickel.

VIOLATION TICKET

Chief MacArthur stated Sgt. Howatt had been instructed that where he found a car the second time on his daily rounds, with the first envelope still present, he was to issue a regular parking violation ticket, and in that case the fine would apply.

In his police report, the Chief stated there had been 104 arrests made in the city in November, with 88 convictions. Of these arrests, 88 were concerned with liquor offences. There had been two arrests on charges of robbery with violence and these were pending in the court.
