

Sport Echoes From Prince County

Apologies to our readers for our last "Echoes." They were late getting into print and we were sorry to see the school boys' victory after they had been disqualified. Disregard of regulations knowing or unknowing can prove unfortunate. We have seen much the same situation before in connection with minor hockey teams, deploring the fact that some boys were being treated as if they were not on the team.

We don't know how much of the present trouble in schoolboy curling comes from ignorance of regulations. We have every reason to believe that the coach of our boys was not aware that the rules were being broken, and it is possible that knowledge of the rules was not complete in the case of others concerned. The regulations say that "school students must be certified by their principal as taking a full year's work in school."

Parkdale Flyers and Summerside Aces really gave the fans at Raceway Stadium their money's worth Saturday night. It was a close, aggressive contest all the way, and but for the work of McInnis in the Aces nets might have resulted in a closer score. If those teams fight it out for intermediate "A" honors on the Island, it should result in a very exciting series.

CAPITOL, SUMMERSIDE FEATURES DORIS DAY IN "LUCKY ME"

Extra-lively, extra-colorful, extra-ordinary in each department, "Lucky Me," Warner Bros. CinemaScope, is about a gay group of show people in Miami Beach, now at the Capitol Theatre, throws a broad smile across the screen that movie audiences are bound to catch. Fast moving and filled with songs, "Lucky Me" with Doris Day, Robert Cummings and Phil Silvers starring, takes the lead in the musical comedy sweepstakes.

Popular Doris Day plays the showgirl, humorously sportingly. Stranded with a gay musical comedy company that includes comedian Phil Silvers, Doris is too unhappy at the moment to enjoy the scenic beauties of sunny Florida, but, successful and debonair Robert Cummings is just in the right frame of mind to admire the attraction that is Doris. Their meeting portends a series of gay and gaily-outrous events that encompass ten new songs and musical production numbers that fill the huge CinemaScope screen to its best advantage thus far. The toe-tapping tunes written by Sammy Fain and Paul Francis Webster, include the lovely ballad, "I Speak To The Stars," and "Take A Memo To The Moon," "Love You Dearly," "High Hopes," "Bluebells of Broadway," "Parisian Pretties," "Supersition Song," "I Wanna Sing Like An Angel," "Men," and "Lucky Me."

S'ide Wins 6-3 Saturday From Parkdale

The spectacular goal-tending of Dave McInnis in the Aces nets was the difference between the Summerside team and the Parkdale Flyers as the home team downed the visitors 6-3 in a crowd-pleasing hockey match at Raceway Stadium Saturday night. McInnis played one of the best games of his rather brilliant career as he turned back the Flyers again and again on sustained attacks around his doorstep. Situations in the Parkdale cage were also good, but his fine additional saves of McInnis in the opposing nets.
