

Good Racing Meet Lined Up For Tonight At Ch'town

P. E. I. Branch AAU Of C Baseball Registration Date

Baseball teams in Island Intermediate A, B, and Junior brackets who are planning to register their clubs are asked to have their lists and fees forwarded to the Secretary by midnight July 15th.

REGISTRATION

Clubs must be registered with fees paid by midnight, July 15th each year. Each club will be limited to a roster of 18 players as of registration date.

In the event of clubs or Associations sponsoring teams in various age groups, in addition to the 18 players mentioned above, players may be moved up from the younger bracket to an older one for 3 league fixtures after which they revert to their proper team. Should a player play more than 3 games with the older or senior team in his association he must move up into that bracket for the season and one of the original 18 players will then have to be dropped.

Registration rates will be as per other sports. Clubs or Associations of under 50 membership will pay $5.00 fee, over 50 members a $10.00 fee. Each player must have a membership card. These will cost clubs 50c per player and will entitle the athlete to take part in all sports. Fees will be paid to the Secretary-Treasurer, P.E.I. Branch AAU of C, W. E. Scantlebury, 123 Euston Street, Charlottetown.

Ann's Boy, who set a new mark in winning the Free-For-All at Summerside last Friday night, will be seeking Free-For-All honors at the Charlottetown Driving Park tonight.

Racing against Ann's Boy in the Free-For-All will be P. J. Cadegan's Lucky Chief, Direct Mite, Gahagan, and A. G. Scott.

Betting fans will be faced with a problem in selecting their daily double tickets. The second and third races which constitute the daily double betting, have been well classified with the result that selecting both winners should prove a formidable and rewarding task.

Starters for the Classified Trot are Jennie Kalmuck, Mary Merk, Judy Kalmuck, Arionway, Waymark, Chet Lynn Clever, Flaxscott, and Rajah Hanover.

Yuta and My Darling will be making their first starts of the season here in the Classified Pace. Other starters are Real Joe, Belle Budlong, Abner McGraw, Ezzo, Mighty Deb and Miss Donna Mae.

Has Act Exposed

DURBAN, South Africa (AP)—A carnival sharpshooter who fires at a line-up of bottles on a table from a speeding airplane was hooted off the program at the Durban air week festival Tuesday when spectators got an unexpected look at the trick of his trade. Markman George Pienaar fired, and bottles splintered, as the Tiger Moth plane in which he was a passenger swept by the table twice. But the third time, the slipstream of the plane whisked away the sides of the table—revealing a man underneath with a hammer in his hand.

See Canada's Davis Cup Chances Improved By Tour

TORONTO, (CP)—Lorne Main, although a veteran of Davis Cup play at 24, by some odd quirk has never played his best in international tennis. This year it may be different.

Until now he's never had the confidence for that extra power and accuracy necessary in Davis Cup play. He has won his share of matches since he was first selected for Canada's team in 1940 but there was always a fear he might fold under pressure.

Laird Watt of Montreal, non-playing captain of the Canadian team and former Davis Cup player himself in the 1930s, thinks this is Main's year to shine.

STARTED AT NINE

Tennis fans here will get their chance to see how a seven-month tour of the leading winter tournaments in the United States and Europe has polished Main's play when Canada meets Chile here this week in the first round of the North American zone Davis Cup play.

Main, who first started playing tennis in Vancouver when he was nine, said Tuesday in an interview that playing against some of the top world players nearly every week during the tour has made him a different player. He said he now goes into every match with more confidence his shots will work for him.

"It is one of the biggest things in tennis," he said. "If you do not give the other guy a battle no matter who he is, it's amazing what kind of shots you can make. In these big tournaments every player plays a different game and you learn a bit from each one."

Main, who now makes Toronto his home, was sponsored on his

U. S. and European tour by a company manufacturing sports equipment.

He played in France, Belgium, Switzerland, Italy, England and Ireland. He won the singles of the Monte Carlo international tournament by beating Paul Remy, France's No. 2 player, and paired with Gil Shea of Los Angeles to capture the men's doubles of the Irish championships.

TOURED WITH BEDARD

He says the best match he has ever played was the one he lost in five sets to Mervyn Rose of Australia, one of the world's top ranking stars. He lost 7-5, 3-6, 7-5, 3-6, 6-3. He came so close to winning that he still can't figure how he could have lost. In the two sets that Rose won 7-5, Main had him reeling and at one point led 4-2.

Bob Bedard of Sherbrooke, Que., who along with Paul Willey and Don Platt of Toronto, makes up Canada's team against Chile, also toured with Main. His record is not as consistently good as Main's but the tour showed that if he continues to develop as rapidly as he has in the last couple years he might go far in the tennis world. The 23-year-old French-Canadian who until the last year has been selected for the Davis Cup team.

Both Bedard and Main reached the third round in the Wimbledon championships. Lew Hoard of Australia eliminated Bedard in four tremendous sets and Gil Shea of the U. S. wiped out Main's bid to reach the quarter-finals.

Dean Of American Sports Writers Died Yesterday

NEW YORK (AP)—Grantland Rice, 73, dean of sports writers, died Tuesday.

He started his career on the Nashville Tennessean in 1901. For the next 50 years he chronicled the exploits of some of the greatest athletes.

Rice started many of pieces with a bit of verse and this custom in time became sort of a trademark. A stroke ended his life at 8:15 p.m. EDT. He died at Roosevelt Hospital.

Rice reached a peak in the 1920s during the "golden age" of sport. As a first hand observer, he became a recognized authority on athletic events.

He considered Ty Cobb and Babe Ruth the best ballplayers of the thousands he watched. The Dempsey-Firpo fight stood out to him as the most exciting. Bobby Jones was his favorite golfer. And his greatest horse race was the 1938 match when Seabiscuit beat War Admiral.

He was stricken in his office about noon while working on his syndicated column, "The Sportlight." With him when he died were his wife, Kate Hollis Rice, and his secretary, Katherine Mecca. One of Rice's most quoted pieces of verse read: "When the great scorer comes 'To mark against your name; 'He'll write not 'won' or 'lost,' 'But how you played the game.'"

Born in Murfreesboro, Tenn., he was an all-around athlete at Vanderbilt University, where he captained the 1901 baseball team.

Rice went to work for the Nashville News at $5 a week, writing sports and covering the state capitol, county courthouse and other news sources.

Later he worked for Forester magazine, the Atlanta Journal, the Cleveland News, and the Nashville Tennessean. In 1911, he came to New York as sports columnist for the old Evening Mail and began to attract national attention.

Rice went to the New York Tribune in 1914 and stayed there until 1930 when he began his nationally syndicated column. He also wrote numerous short movie features, contributed frequently to magazines and wrote four books of poems.

The Giants blanked the Phillies 3-0 yesterday in a Little League baseball game on Memorial Field as Freddy Burke pitched a one-hitter. The losing pitcher, George Dunny hurled a three hitter. Alan Brann of the Giants hit the lone home run of the contest.

Following is today's Minor League schedule:

9 a.m.—Minor League practice: All boys nine and ten years old who are not playing Little League ball.

10.30—Bantam Dodgers practice 6.30 p.m.—Junior Stars vs. Junior Flyers.

8.30—Little League Indians play Kensington.

Softball Games This Evening

The following City Softball League games are scheduled to be played this evening at 6:45: Keefer Drug at B.Y.C. (Old Diamond); C. Packers at Lions (Knights Diamond); S.I.D. at City (Parkdale Diamond).

Rosen, Fox Star In American League All Star 11-9 Win

CLEVELAND (AP)—Injured Al Rosen, who offered to sit out the game for the good of the team, staged a tremendous one-man show to drive in five runs and score two home runs and a single Tuesday, but it took Nellie Fox's two-run bloop single in the eighth to give the aroused American League an 11-9 victory over the National League in the 21st all-star major league baseball game.

Records tumbled under the burning sun at Municipal Stadium as the two clubs staged the dizziest hitting spree in all-star history.

One of the chief casualties was the National's four-game winning streak. The American League now holds a 13-8 edge in the series which dates back to 1933.

Rosen's record-tying two homers and five runs batted in provided top drama in a stirring game in which the lead teetered back and forth. The teams set records with 31 hits for both clubs, 17 for the American League and 20 runs scored by both teams; and tied a mark with six homers.

CLEVELAND STARS A crowd of 68,751, only 1,061 short of the all-star high set at the same park in 1935, thrilled to the batting show, especially because Cleveland hitters drove in eight of the American League's 11 runs.

With two on in the third Rosen slammed a Robin Roberts pitch for a 380-foot homer and a 3-0 lead. Detroit's Ray Boone followed with a homer to make it 4-0. Rosen's second homer came in the fifth after the Nationals had forged ahead 7-5. After Yogi Berra had singled to open the last of the fifth, Rosen hit his second homer into the lower left field seats.

Rosen singled in the sixth and walked to right and center fielder Larry Doby hit a pinch home run in the ninth before Fox, the Chicago second baseman, won the game with his drooping single back of second base.

In addition to Rosen, Cleveland's second baseman Bobby Avila drove in two runs with a single and sacrifice fly and center fielder Larry Doby hit a pinch home run in the eighth to tie the score at 9-9.

BLOWS UP GAME After Doby tied it up with his homer off loser Gene Conley, Milwaukee righthander, singles by Mickey Mantle and Berra of the Yankees and a walk to Rosen filled the bases.

National manager Walter Alton called on Carl Erskine of the Dodgers but Fox ruined the day for Alton when he blooped a single off Erskine to send Mantle and Berra home with the winning runs.

Winning pitcher was Dean Stone, who pitched to only one man in the eighth. The Washington freshman came in with the Nationals out front, 9-8, men on first and third and two out.

While Stone was getting ready to pitch to Duke Snider of Brooklyn, St. Louis' Red Schoendienst lit out for home. He was nipped at the plate on Stone's throw to Berra. That set off the only real rhubarb of the day.

Leo Durocher and Charlie Gammum, the two National League coaches, complained bitterly to plate umpire Bill Stewart.

By the time the three-hour, 10-minute struggle was over, the sharp early pitching of New York's Whitley Ford for the American had been forgotten. Roberts' failure also had been washed away in the deluge of runs.

GATE SETS RECORD The gate receipts of $292,678 and the net receipts of $259,204.01 were records. The previous high was set last year at Cincinnati with a net of $155,654.

The receipts and the $110,000 radio-television rights go into the central fund from which the players get their pensions. World series radio-TV fees also are added.

Rosen's record-tying performance equaled Ted Williams feat at Boston in 1946 when he hit two home runs and also drove in five runs.

Williams, who went into the game in the fourth inning Tuesday, struck out twice and walked once.

Alton played Willie Mays, the major leagues' home run leader, in his regular position in center field, moving Snider, Brooklyn's center fielder, to right and shifting Stan Musial of St. Louis to left. Jackie Robinson, who delivered a two-run double in the fourth inning when the Nationals scored five runs, played only three innings.

Roy Campanella ran his string of consecutive all-star innings to 50, catching the first seven innings before he was replaced by Philadelphia's Smokey Burgess.

Dressing Room Comments Following All Star Game

CLEVELAND (AP)—"I didn't sleep a wink last night worrying whether I'd be an all-star game goal. I even asked before the game to be taken out after my first time at bat."

These were the first words of Cleveland's Al Rosen as he received wild acclaim from his mates in the jubilant American League dressing room after Tuesday's slam-bang 11-9 triumph over the National Leaguers.

Rosen's two homers drove across five runs. Rosen has been in a slump because of a stiff right index finger which he can hardly wrap around the bat.

"Something happened after I thought my fears would come true when I struck out the first time up," continued the beaming Rosen. "I wanted just one more crack, even though I told Casey Stengel to take me out any time he wanted. Boy, was it good to see that ball (in the third inning) sail over the left field fence."

Stengel strutted as befits a man who was tabbed to take a fifth straight all-star trimming. At Rosen's suggestion, Stengel had asked commissioner Ford Frick before the game to waive the mandatory three inning play for an all-star game starter.

Frick said it would be all right to remove Rosen from the game after his first time at bat, if Rosen thought he should be lifted.

While Rosen was surrounded by writers and photographers, little attention was paid to Boston's Ted Williams, who had homered twice and batted in five runs to lead the hero of the 1946 all-star game.

Williams Tuesday struck out twice and walked once after entering the game as a pinch-hitter in the fourth.

CLEVELAND (AP)—The stony silence finally broke in the National League all-stars' dressing room, and there were two main topics—a bloop single that won for the American Leaguers 11-9 and an attempted steal of home that fizzled.

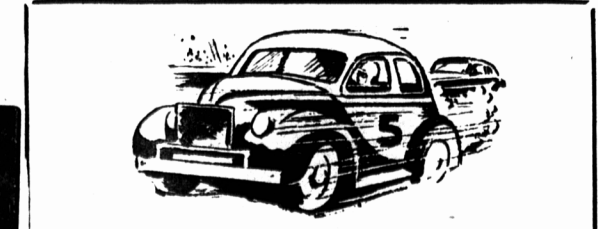

The National Leaguers' comments on both of those eight-inning plays were bitter. Nellie Fox, Chicago White Sox hit the pop single over second on Gene Conley's second pitch to him with the bases filled and two out. The hit broke a 9-9 tie by scoring Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra.

In spite of all the homers out there today, that was the blow that beat us," manager Walter Alton summed up ruefully. "We put out everything we had. It could have gone either way."

The talk was longer, louder and more bitter on the attempted steal by Red Schoendienst of St. Louis Cards. The Nationals led 9-3 at the time, there were two out, Alvin Dark was on first with an infield hit, and Duke Snider, who had made three straight hits, was at bat.

It was a disgrace," stormed third base coach Leo Durocher. "The pitcher (Dean Stone) has got to come to a set position." Leo insisted, "and he didn't stop."

Over protest of Durocher and Milwaukee's Charley Grimm, umpire Bill Stewart refused to call a balk. Catcher Yogi Berra tagged the sliding Schoendienst a few feet from the plate for the out that ended the inning and stopped the rally at two runs.

Sawchuk Says Injuries Won't Affect Career

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Terry Sawchuk, 24-year-old Detroit Red Wing goalie, said Tuesday injuries from an automobile accident "won't affect my hockey game at all."

Sawchuk suffered a partially collapsed lung and cuts on his hands and knees Sunday night when his car hit a tree while swerving to avoid an oncoming car.

He is in the University of Michigan hospital at Ann Arbor, where doctors term his condition "very good" and add that he will be released by the end of the week.

Doctors have a tube tapping the outer wall of Sawchuk's lung to keep air pressure draining from the lung, thus stopping the collapse. The lung was tapped three times Monday, but air pressure kept returning, forcing the collapse.
