

SPORTS FRONT

By PIUS CALLAGHAN

IT WAS QUITE the weekend in the major leagues and Monday morning found both loops possessing real bang-up pennant races. Over in the senior circuit, Milwaukee Braves were still showing their heels to the rest of the pack. However, there certainly was no runaway in evidence with the Haney crew a mere two games in front following Sunday's hostilities.

Los Angeles, last in the first division, invaded Milwaukee Friday, Saturday and Sunday and got the best of the champions in that three games series. The Dodgers were within two innings of sweeping the series but the Braves exploded with eight big runs in the seventh frame of that final game to salvage one contest from the troublesome Alston gang.

MILWAUKEE TAKES to the road today and this jaunt could go a long way in deciding whether or not the Braves repeat as champions of the National league.

They play fourteen games before returning to the friendly surroundings of County stadium. These battles look like rugged ones for Haney and company and that surplus could change into a deficit before they return.

Starting tonight, the Braves open a three-game set with St. Louis Cardinals. After that they travel to Chicago for a like number of battles with those overly-ambitious Cubs. Then it's on to Los Angeles and a five-game series with Walter Alston's boys. While they are on the west coast, the Milwaukee outfit will tangle with their greatest rivals, San Francisco Giants. These three games are fixed for June 19, 20 and 21.

HOWEVER, MILWAUKEE is a good road club and they may emerge from their travels healthier than when they set out. But if San Francisco and other pennant-conscious teams intend doing something about stopping the Braves from repeating, these next two weeks are the time for action.

We are going to go out on a limb and make the prediction that when the Braves return to County stadium to open their series with St. Louis Cardinals they will not be leading the senior loop.

Keep that in mind and stuff the statement down our throats come June 22 if we are wrong. We may well be because we are the same forecasters who called Toronto Maple Leafs to win the Stanley Cup.

DOWN IN KING'S COUNTY, there are two ambitious baseball teams who are doing things they are not supposed to be doing. Both St. Peter's Bay Rovers and the Mount Stewart club have taken the measure of the defending champions of the league, Peakes Bombers.

The fact that Rovers and Mount Stewart stopped the Bombers has given new interest to the league. Both these clubs have served notice that they have definite designs on the league championship. The clubs are both snappy and are going to be hard to knock out of competition. This time the Bombers may not be able to do it.

However, don't let two defeats make anyone think that Peakes are abandoning hope of repeating as champions. Too many good baseball teams have come out of this vicinity for this column to sell the Bombers short. These defeats have certainly hurt their pride and perhaps that is the very thing needed to start them on the victory road.

Right now, King's county league is shaping up as the best competition seen in those parts for years. Finalists with Bombers in last year's playoffs, have their eyes peeled on the top rung of the league ladder. They will be mighty hard to topple.

A great season is promised for folks down east.

ROLLAWAY ACES finally took a tumble in the City Softball League.

Barry's Lions were the culprits who threw the Aces for their first defeat in seven starts. Of course it had to come sometime but Lions were mighty pleased that they were the ones that were able to turn the trick.

Now that the Aces have been 'taken', other teams will be at the job with all their might trying to do a similar chore on the Rollaway.

The league is surely producing some very fine softball and if those Dodgers could only start whipping somebody, then the whole business would really be in a turmoil.

We look for this year's playoffs to produce the finest baseball ever witnessed in these parts.

THE REMARKABLE FEATS of Hoyt Wilhelm, Baltimore hurler, continue to amaze the baseball world.

Mr. Wilhelm, discarded by the National league as excess property, has been turning American league batters on the ears this season. His latest conquest of Kansas City Athletics made his record 9-0 by far the best in either loop. However, it's his earned run average that is the real thing of beauty.

After tossing that seven-bitter at Harry Craft's up-and-coming A's, Hoyt was able to gaze upon his earned run average, a brilliant .999. Wilhelm's performances have the experts really puzzled but everybody, including the experts, are pulling for the crafty veteran to keep up the tremendous show.

All other moundsmen have been forced to take a back seat so far this season. Hoyt's brilliance just won't allow them a chance at all to share in the spotlight.

Baltimore has been so inspired by the things that their hurler has done, that they are actually challenging for the league leadership. Nobody thinks they have any right to be where they are but then who thought Wilhelm would be strutting about the way he is.

The Orioles open a long homestead tonight with Cleveland Indians, who trail them by one-half game, the first opponents. Wilhelm might see service in the final game of this series but it's our guess that Hoyt will be saved until the White Sox come in for the weekend.

Will he make it ten in a row then?

Shamrocks Blast Rollaway 16-7

Ev Beagan's Shamrocks administered a 16-7 trouncing to the league-leading Rollaway Aces last evening.

The battling Irish had a shut-out game going into the fifth inning and Ed Murphy up to that time, had held the Aces hitless.

Murphy, in hurling his crew to this lopsided win, gave up five hits, issued ten free passes and fanned seven.

Coach Irv MacKinnon had Ralph Pineau doing the pitching chores for the losers. Pineau was tagged for ten hits, walked nine and struck out four.

The Aces had a disastrous third inning, with the Irish scoring a total of eleven runs. The Shamrocks also scored three runs in the first frame and two in the third. At that time they were leading 16-0.

The MacKinnon-coached crew also gave Pineau shaky backing in the field, committing six mistakes.

The losers scored their first run in the fifth frame. Murphy, the Irish hurler, ran into trouble in the sixth, walking four and giving up four hits, a double and three singles. The Aces were able to score six runs in this frame.

Donnie 'Funnel' MacLean called the balls and strikes and Moo Goodwin handled the bases for last night's fixture.

This evening the Lions are at home to the Dodgers.

BALL PRACTICE

Baseball practice has been called for the Junior Abbies this evening at 5.30 on the diamond west of the P.E.I. Hospital. All players are urged to attend this session.

Brighton Horseshoe Club opens tonight and all persons interested in participating in the game this season are invited to be on hand.

Prior to the opening games, election of officers for the coming year will be held.

This match is sponsored by Mrs. George Buntain who is National Handicap manager for Canada.

All lady golfers are invited to participate.

HISTORIC CENTRE The New Brunswick Museum at Saint John was established in 1842.

Racing Card Here Tonight

Track conditions forced another postponement at Charlottetown Driving Park last night. The racing program, originally scheduled for Saturday night, once again was unable to be run off when track conditions made it impossible.

Tonight they'll try once again and it's the original card that was on tap for Saturday that gets the nod tonight. If the weather shows a bit of co-operation, a really large crowd should witness the eight good dashes that are lined up.

Teat a pace has all the earmarks of a real thriller and betting at the mistimed windows should be fairly even on those two dashes. The trot featuring Lady Lakeburn has many horsemen talking already.

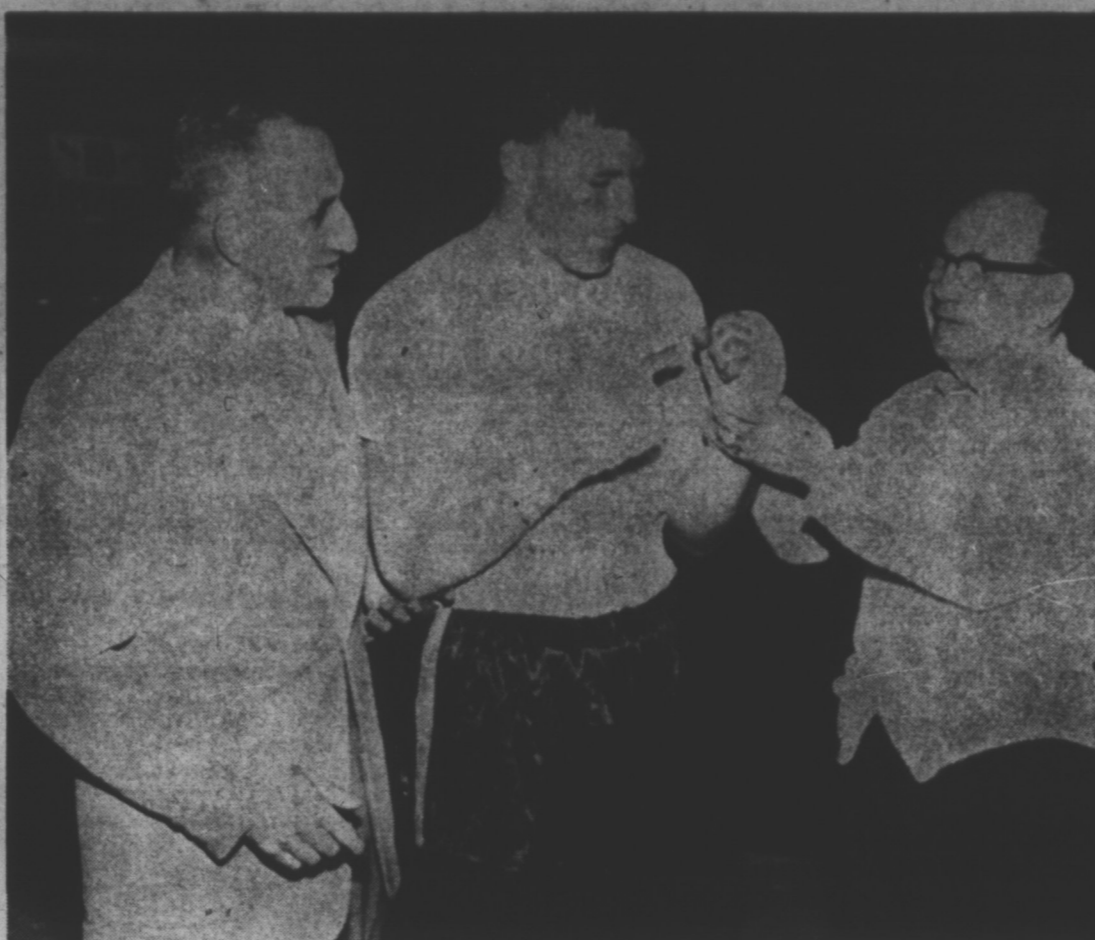

The program starts at 8 o'clock.

Lady Golfers Finish Play

The ladies' president point match sponsored by Mrs. Arnett Howatt finished the first stage Monday afternoon with Mrs. F. M. Cannon the winner. Mrs. H. F. Jardine was runner-up.

The National Handicap point match (18 holes) which is played in four stages will commence Thursday June 11 at the usual time.

This match is sponsored by Mrs. George Buntain who is National Handicap manager for Canada.

Orlando Cepeda Is Spark In Giants' Pennant Chase

NEW YORK (AP) — Orlando Cepeda, defying the so-called sophomore jinx, has replaced Willie Mays as the big batter in San Francisco's drive for the National League lead. While Mays slumped 18 points to .321 in last week's games, Cepeda climbed 15 points to move into third place in the circuit's batting race with a .333 average. Cepeda hit four homers and drove in 12 runs. For the year, Cepeda has 13 home runs and 45 RBI while Willie has nine circuit blows and 43 runs batted in. Cepeda won the league's rookie of the year award in 1958 when he batted .312.

Meanwhile, Hank Aaron of Milwaukee Braves collected nine hits in 23 trips last week. This reduced his pace-setting average one point and he showed a .416 mark after Sunday's action. Smoky Burgess of Pittsburgh dropped 22 points to .348 with only four hits in 20 times at bat. However, the slugging Pirates' catcher remained in the runner-up position.

In the American League, Detroit's Harvey Kuenn opened a 19-point lead over his closest competitor. A week ago Kuenn led Nellie Fox of Chicago White Sox, in second place, by 10 points. Kuenn tallied off seven points to .347 last week while Fox slumped 16 points and dropped into third place at .327. Roger Maris of Kansas City climbed to second with a .328 average.

Harmon Killebrew of Washington slammed one homer to maintain his American League lead in this department with 19. Ed Mathews of Milwaukee hit three to boost his leading National League total to 19.

Killebrew also places the American League in runs batted in with 41, two more than Bill Skowron of New York. Ernie Banks of Chicago Cubs drove in six runs last week to deadlock Cincinnati's Frank Robinson for the top spot in the National League. Each has 51.

Braves Defeat Cubs 9-5; Burdette Notches Ninth

By THE CANADIAN PRESS Milwaukee Braves erupted for seven runs in an explosive fifth inning Monday, then withstood a desperate five-run Chicago rally in the eighth, to beat the Cubs 9-5. Righthander Lew Burdette, needing help from Carl Willey and Don McMahon, notched his ninth victory. Burdette, a 32-year-old veteran, took hitting honors for the National League leaders, with a pair of doubles and two singles, and four runs batted in. Fidgety Lew drove in the first run with a double to left in the second, had a single wasted in the fourth and then highlighted the fifth inning uprising with a three-run two-bagger down the left field line. He capped his greatest day at bat in the majors with a single in the seventh.
