C.W.L. Charges Anti-Religious Talks On CBC

OTTAWA, Oct. 16 (CP)—The Catholic Women's League of Canada decided today to ask a parliament investigation of what it terms "anti-religious broadcasts" over CBC networks.

A resolution, approved by the 31st annual league convention here urged that parliament act to ensure that religion "shall not be attacked" over Canadian radio stations.

The resolution mentioned Dr. Brock Chisholm, and Dr. Ewen Cameron as broadcasters who had made "open attacks upon the basic principles and doctrines of Christianity."

Copies of the resolution will be sent to Prime Minister St. Laurent; the Speakers of the Senate and House of Commons; George Dixon, Progressive Conservative leader, and the leaders of Canada's other political parties.

Dr. Chisholm is chairman of the World Health Organization; Dr. Cameron is director of the Allan Memorial Institute, Montreal.

Ishbel Hutton of Ottawa was re-elected national president. Other officers, also returned to their posts for the coming year, included:

Y.P.S. Meeting At Local Church

The Young People's Society of Central Christian Church held their regular Tuesday night meeting in the church hall with a splendid group of young people present. Missionary emphasis was pronounced in all phases of the evening service. The meeting began with missionary centered hymns being sung. This was followed by a variety of favorite choruses selected by both the young men and women and these were accompanied by Edward Bertram and Norman Stewart on the guitars.

Miss Adeline Baker presented most interestingly a devotional based upon the scripture Isa 6:3 "Also I heard the voice of the Lord saying, Whom shall I send, and who will go for us? Then said I, here am I, send me."

The President June Moore brought the urgent business before the attention of the meeting. She also announced the forthcoming Youth Conference to be held in the Montague Church of Christ, October 20th, 21st.

The social evening planned for next week has been moved forward one week to provide for a Halloween social the following Tuesday night.

The special feature of the evening was the address presented by Dr. Zella Clark, retired missionary from India. Dr. Clark in her very pleasant and interesting manner gave a resume of her 32 years as a missionary to the native Indians of India. Miss June Moore thanked Miss Clark for her kindness in speaking to the meeting.

The meeting was dismissed with prayer by the Pastor, M. D. Dunbar. Miss Kathryn Beck was pianist for the evening.

OTTAWA, Oct. 16 (CP)—Farm prices of agricultural products declined during August from the peak level reached in July but were above the corresponding month a year ago, the Bureau of Statistics reported today.

The decrease from the previous month was the first since October last year and was largely a result of lower advance payments for grains in Western Canada, and declines in livestock prices, especially hogs.

All-Canada index number for August this year was 284.7 compared with 294.3 in July and 281.0 in August, 1950.

Index by provinces with figures for July in brackets: Ontario 321.0 (322.1); Quebec 310.8 (318.8); British Columbia 288.3 (293.1); Manitoba 280.1 (282.2); Alberta 278.5 (283.5); Saskatchewan 235.8 (244.6); Prince Edward Island 243.9 (225.4); New Brunswick 238.1 (236.0).

Patients Enjoy Outing in Coach

About twenty patients from the Provincial Sanatorium thoroughly enjoyed themselves when they were taken for an outing in the Walter Callow Wheelchair Coach yesterday morning. Following a tour of the city and suburbs, these normally shut-in people were delighted when the drive took them through Hunter, River and vicinity where the woods were a blaze of color in the crisp, sunny weather.

The majority of the patients taken for the drive have undergone major surgery in the past three to six months and in many cases have not been out of doors since their admittance to the Sanatorium.

In the afternoon, patients from the P. E. Island Hospital and Beach Grove were taken on a similar drive, and were accompanied by Past Noble Grands, Mrs. Helen MacEachern and Mrs. Annie Garnham, of the Alpha Rebekah Lodge, No. 10. A stop was made at the Dominion Experimental Station, where Mr. Gordon Warren, horticulturist, presented a tour of apples which was much appreciated.

A pleasant half hour was spent at the home of Mrs. Catharine Smith, P.N.G., Southport, where afternoon tea was served with the best wishes of the Alpha Rebekah Lodge No. 10, I.O.O.F.

Tours are planned for today for the child patients at the Sanatorium as a treat of ice-cream will be provided by brother Rebekah and the Canadian Legion B.E.S.L. The following Sisters will act as escorts: P.N.G.'s Mrs. Claire Brown, Mrs. Agnes Dixon, Mrs. George Campbell, Miss Ethel Sutherland, Miss Hilda Harper, Miss Mabel Worth, Noble Grand, Mrs. Sarah Gillespie, Vice-Grand, and Mrs. Lottie Ballingall, all of the Alpha Lodge. Tea will be served again at the home of Mrs. Catharine Smith at Southport.

Comments On Potato Prices

An Island potato shipper commenting on the price quoted yesterday's paper by a New Brunswick agricultural official suggested, with a sigh, that the official should have stated where the price is being received.

He stated that the price to dealer of $2.15 a bag was being received in Toronto and not in New Brunswick. He added that these prices do not mean anything unless the price of the delivery is given.

fallen Liaquat in one moving message, declaring "in this moment of sorrow all differences are forgotten and all are united."

Foreign Minister Sir Mohammed Zafrullah Khan, a possible choice to succeed Liaquat as Prime Minister, hurriedly prepared to come home from United Nations headquarters in New York. Pakistan has no deputy prime minister so it is uncertain who will succeed Liaquat.

Recalls Gandhi's Fate

Liaquat's fate was tragically like that of Gandhi, architect of the Indian state, who was shot dead in New Delhi by a Hindu extremist.

Liaquat, a graduate of Oxford University, became Prime Minister of Pakistan at its birth Aug. 15, 1947.

As the right-hand man of the late Mohammed Ali Jinnah he had fought for 20 years for the creation of Pakistan, and he came here as one of an army of 8,000-10,000 refugees. He had been born and brought up in India, descendant of an ancient Iranian family which migrated to the subcontinent 500 years ago.

economies. For example, while the seaway may prove beneficial to Central Canada, it might be "just the opposite" for the Maritimes.

The people of the Maritimes had a right to ask why money was being spent to provide more hydro-electric power for Ontario and New York State. The project would give Central Canada even cheaper power and thus work more hardship on the rest of the provinces.

The people also could ask where the construction materials for the new short supply—were going to come from and whether assistance would be given to help the Maritimes develop their waterways. In justice, they should get some help.

It should not be forgotten that the Maritimes had helped the rest of the country to build their railways and canals.

Referring briefly to the Cape Breton-Nova Scotia causeway, he said that as a Maritimer he was pleased that Nova Scotia was at last going to get assistance in building this project.

He also urged the government to set up a permanent committee on veterans affairs and to increase basic pensions for veterans.

Charges Profiteering

Mr. Gillis, dealing with profiteering and the cost of living, quoted a letter sent to the editor of the Ottawa Citizen following the recent visit of Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh.

The writer complained that one Ottawa restaurant jumped its prices to 25 cents for a cup of coffee, tea or milk to take advantage of the people who travelled downtown to get a glimpse of the Royal Couple.

"That sort of thing is highway robbery and should be stopped," said Mr. Gillis.

The C.C.F. party was the only one offering a concrete proposal to deal with inflation. The government had stated that all it planned was a measure to prohibit the fixing of retail prices by producers. The Progressive Conservative Party simply called for "adequate steps" by the government to deal with inflation. The C.C.F. Party wanted price controls and subsidies.

Mr. Gillis said that when controls were removed following the Second World War they were taken out of the hands of responsible people and placed in the hands of irresponsible people. These irresponsible people were holding a gun at the head of small merchants and forcing them to pay any price or go without goods.

He wanted to know if Parliament was going to abrogate its powers to protect people and place them in the hands of "thieves" across the country who were only interested in making

Dedication Of Lecturn Bible

A very handsome Lectern Bible, presented to St. Peter's Cathedral by Miss Maria Eston in memory of the deceased members of the Easton family of East Royalty, was dedicated by Rev. Canon E. M. Malone, M.A., D.D., at the 11 o'clock service on Sunday last.

Bound in red morocco calf skin with gold edge, the Bible is the Authorized Edition, with the Apocrypha, and is printed in a large clear type. It was published in England and obtained from the General Board of Religious Education in Toronto.

Seventh Maritime Phalanx Conference

Four members of the Charlotteville Phalanx Fraternity returned Monday evening, October 8, from the seventh Maritime Phalanx Conference held in Truro, Thanksgiving week-end. The boys left Charlottetown Saturday afternoon, arriving in Truro for the opening banquet that evening.

Chairman for the evening was Eric Tedford of the Truro Chapter. After a hearty sing-song Eric introduced Mayor J. G. Glassey who welcomed the group to Truro. In his welcome, Mayor Glassey hoped that everyone present would be able to visit the well-known Victoria Park, one of the beauty spots of Truro.

Following Mayor Glassey's welcome, Mr. B. C. Holder, Chairman of the Truro "Y" Board, tendered a welcome from the Y. M. C. A. Guest speaker at the banquet was Mr. Harris Read, Truro. He took as his subject, "Youth and World Conflict" which was the theme of the Conference.

Following the banquet came the conference dance under the capable Master of Ceremonies, Leroy Wright, who was also Chairman of the Conference Committee.

A Worship period led by Dave Wilson of Truro began Sunday's program. Mr. Alf Tyler, General Secretary of the Moncton Y. M. C. A. gave a very inspiring talk on the theme of the conference, which was followed by a few words from Mr. Arnold Ward, Young Adult Secretary of the National Council of the Y. M. C. A. The group then broke up into discussion groups, some of which were Behind the Headlines; Youth and Church Relationships; Courtship; Home and Family.

Following these discussions luncheon was served with Don Conley of Truro as Chairman. Guest speaker at this luncheon was Mr. A. J. Reynolds of Sydney, Regional Director of the Maritime "Y's Men's Clubs. Mr. Reynolds spoke on the topic, "Phalanx on the Y's Men", bringing out the point that "to" rather than "up to" is the desired phrase, also that "Y's Men" means "of the Y" and not "wise men."

More discussions followed luncheon and then the group left on a tour of Truro and Victoria Park. Sunday evening all the clubs joined together to have two full hours of entertainment which consisted of, skits, songs piano solos and a magician's act by Mr. Frank Ygo of Truro. Clubs participating in this program were: St. Stephen, Fredericton, Truro, St. John, Yarmouth, Sydney and Charlottetown. The girls from the Truro Phalanx Chapter also added a great deal to the evening's entertainment.

Monday morning's session began with the election of officers of the Maritime Tribunal. The St. John 21 Club accepted these positions and we trust each Maritime Phalanx Chapter will co-operate in making this year's Tribunal a successful one.

Discussion groups preceded the closing luncheon of which Dave Wilson from Truro was Chairman. At this luncheon reports from the four discussion groups were presented and this year's slate of officers were introduced. They include: President, Roy Rogers, Moncton; Vice-President, Len Lockhart, Moncton; Field Representatives: (N. S.) David Wilson, Truro; (P. E. I.) Harold DeBson, Charlottetown; Dana Cochrane, Moncton. Secretary, Mr. K. M. Lewis, Mentor of the Truro Phalanx Fraternity gave the Conference Summary which certainly proved that this was a most worthwhile conference. It could be easily seen by the hand shakes from all, that everyone came to a close. Congratulations must be extended to the Truro Chapter for their splendid effort in carrying this seventh Maritime Conference.

PERFUME FOUNDER

Eau de Cologne as a perfume was probably invented by Johann Farina, Italian who settled at Cologne in 1709.

Money. The people had to be protected against "gangsterism."

Tobacco Prices

Investigations, he said, should be undertaken to see that more of the price paid by the consumer gets back to the primary producer. This applied in the case of cigars where tobacco producers received only three cents on every package of 20.

An inquiry also was needed into steel, because some of it was going through illegitimate channels. He believed that steel was partly responsible for the unemployment situation in Windsor, Ont.

Steel production in the Maritimes was slowed for three months by a dispute over wages. At a very time when more production was needed to combat inflation production was being hampered because workers had to seek higher wages to meet higher living costs.

ANCIENT ART

Making of jewelry is the oldest of the crafts, an ornament for the head probably being the first type along with necklets.

H. J. MABON OPTOMETRIST Fitting and Supplying Glasses Etc. MONTAGUE, P. E. I. Office Hours: 10 to 12 A. M. 3 to 5 P. M. by appointment. Office Connected With Drug Store.

Island Odds And Ends

Islanders returned from Goose Bay, Labrador, where they have been employed in constructing a large American air base, report that steady progress is being made on the mammoth project.

As just one item in the vast scheme seventy-five two storey, two family houses, are about completed. These houses are large well-appointed units with every convenience that is usually found in a modern city. Many other houses of the same type will be built next year.

At present the working staff is being cut back some two or three hundred, because comfortable winter living accommodation is limited. The working force will be increased again next spring and the job is expected to last two to three years. The Maritime Central Airways with headquarters in Charlottetown has the contract for transporting workers and materials to the scene of operations.

Quite a contingent of Islanders is making ready to attend the annual horse sale held in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania each autumn. Although the date is set for sometime in November the Island track followers are already talking over the prospects of buying some new speed for next year's campaign. Though he is not in the market himself Doctor Charlie Dougan will probably go along to keep abreast of doings in trotting circles.

Charlottetown can hardly solve its traffic problems with the installation of three sets of traffic lights. The intersections which are being looked after, namely, Euston and St. George, Grafton and Queen, Kent and Great George Streets are important, but there are others where automatic control of car and truck movement would be very helpful. Many motorists would like to see lights installed at the junction at the head of Weymouth Street, of the three streets, Euston, Longworth Avenue and Weymouth. This is becoming one of the most traveled intersections in the City. The Kent and Queen Street intersection and the point where Great George meets Grafton near the soldiers' monument are also mentioned as possible traffic control points.

Charlottetown Rental Control Board handles a fair number of cases each month. The Board does not initiate changes in rents. It makes decisions only after the landlord or the tenant has asked the Board's intervention. In plain words, the Board minds its own business, until a rent dispute is brought to its attention, by either one, or by both of the contending parties.

Upper Canada is a magnet for many young Islanders at present, and has been throughout the summer. Defence jobs and large scale development projects in Quebec and Ontario paying good wages have proved to be great attractions to be ignored. Officials of the National Employment Office in Charlottetown know that the movement to the central provinces has been heavy and sustained but they have no figures to show the actual numbers involved. Those who leave the Island seeking work are not recruited by the local employment office, they go to Toronto, Montreal, Hamilton or some other city, hopeful of obtaining employment after arrival. Usually they are successful.

Ever and anon some one laments the passing of amateur sport and lambs the more or less open professionalism which prevails in such games as hockey. Such critics are apt to overlook the fact that present day hockey followers demand more of a club than formerly. Every player on the line-up must be away above average and to attain the desired standard and remain there, he is obliged to make a business of it. In the old days hope 20 games in a winter. Artificial ice was unknown and our rinks usually opened around Christmas time. Hockey leagues commenced their schedules in January and wound up early in March. It was a leisurely business, with some of the boys collecting a little extra money for their exertions, and the rink owners taking the big end of the gate receipts.

Then came artificial ice, faster means of travel and an intensification of inter-city hockey rivalry all over Canada. It was inevitable as popularity reached greater heights of popularity each year, and thousands paid admission to the games, that those who provided the entertainment should ask for a share in the financial returns. After all who else is better entitled to a part of the dividends? Hockey is not a parlor game.

Meeting Of St. Joseph's Sodality And Alumnae

The opening meeting of Saint Joseph's Sodality and Alumnae was held on the afternoon of Sunday, October 14. This meeting was in the form of an afternoon tea and over one hundred members participated in the enjoyable function.

The president, Miss Margaret Butler, after extending a word of welcome to those present, gave a resume of the work of the preceding year and outlined the activities for the coming year. A considerable contribution was given by the Sodality and Alumnae towards the equipping of the library in the building recently fitted up by Rev. Father McMahon for the use of the grade eleven pupils of Saint Joseph's.

A nominating committee was named to bring in a slate of officers at the next meeting which will be held on Sunday, November eighteenth at three o'clock. Rev. Mother Superior added a word of welcome and paid a warm tribute to the present executive and to the members for their spirit of co-operation at all times. There was a universal expression of regret for the absence of Rev. Father Herrell who has been the devoted chaplain for many years.

Miss Ethel Kelly entertained the sodalists with two vocal selections which were much enjoyed by all. During the afternoon piano music was rendered by Miss Kathleen Hughes.

The lace-covered tea table, which was tastefully decorated with roses and matching tapers, was presided over by Mrs. Ernest McTague and Mrs. Lester MacInnis.

The close of the meeting Mother Superior invited the ladies to see the Convent Chapel which has been recently renovated and decorated.

Women's Group Cheers Grey Nun's Patients

REGINA, Oct. 16 (CP)—The term Mrs. Catherine Murray used to describe the work done by the lady patronesses of the Regina Grey Nuns Hospital is "jolly-ing-up."

It is as useful in 1951 as it was in 1909 when Mrs. Murray began visiting public ward patients in the hospital. At that time the work of the lady patronesses consisted of hospital visiting and helping the nursing sisters.

Then a new hospital was built, and the ladies' group helped solicit money for operating room supplies and extras for the nurses.

Their work of visiting the ward patients continued as the main part of their program. "There were no cigars in those days," said Mrs. Murray, "but that's about the only difference in our visiting work."
