Arranging For The Royal Visit

(By Gerald Waring)

OTTAWA.—Howard Measures is hard at work on his toughest task in 12 years: drafting a schedule for the Canadian visit of the future Queen and Her Consort.

When Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh land at Quebec City on Oct. 1, they'll find the ubiquitous Measures, impeccable in top hat and morning attire, waiting for them. In his pocket he'll have a detailed timetable for their entire Canadian stay.

Measures, a lean, publicity-shy man who epitomizes the popular conception of the British career diplomat, is the Government's official arranger. For years he headed the protocol section of the Department of External Affairs. If there were a question — as to how Canada should welcome and entertain visiting foreign dignitaries — everyone from the Prime Minister down knew what to do: "Ask Howard Measures".

Actually Measures is only one member of a five-man committee, headed by Undersecretary of State Charles Stein, which Prime Minister St. Laurent appointed to take charge of all arrangements for the Royal visit. Other members are: Maj. Gen. H.F.G. Leason, Secretary to Governor General Lord Alexander; H.F. Feaver, Protocol Officer of the Department of External Affairs, and Ross Martin of the Prime Minister's office. Yet such has been Measures' experience in such matters that the task largely has been left to him.

He is having his hands full. Every city, town and hamlet in the country, it seems, wants Elizabeth and Philip to visit it. The committee has been flooded with letters, telegrams and telephone calls. In one town 2,000 miles from Ottawa, every civic leader from the Mayor down either wired or telephoned Ottawa in an effort to make sure that that particular town should be included in the itinerary.

Many communities don't just want the Royal Couple to visit. There are invitations galore to lay cornerstones, make speeches, and visit hospitals, universities and other institutions.

A lot of people will be disappointed, because it's beyond the bounds of possibility for Philip and his wife to accede even to one-tenth of the wishes of Her future Canadian subjects in the scant month they'll be in Canada.

So far all that's known definitely is that they'll visit what the first official announcement described as the "principal centers" of Canada. That is taken to mean all the capital cities, plus Montreal, and Vancouver.

Their Royal Highnesses will land at Quebec City Oct. 1 and depart, possibly from Halifax, about Nov. 4. In the intervening month they'll have to cross the country in each direction, spend a few days in the United States, and a few days holidaying on the Pacific Coast.

Part of the journey will be made by train, and part by air. The days cannot be crammed too full, lest the Royal Couple become exhausted. The Princess and her husband have requested the welcome accorded to them be "as simple as possible". In compliance with this wish, the goal of the tour committee is, as one member told me, "to let them see Canada and talk to Canadians, and let Canadians see them and talk to them, in so far as time allows".

Warning To Parents From Poliomyelitis Foundation Issued

(By Gerald Waring)

MONTREAL, Que., July 28 — A warning to parents, and all adults to be on guard against polio during the summer "danger period" which extends into August and September, was issued recently by Alex C. Solomon, National Executive Secretary of the Canadian Foundation for Poliomyelitis, at the Foundation's newly established National Offices in Montreal.

Precautions to be taken were listed as follows:

- 1.—Call your doctor at once in any cases of headache, nausea, colds, upset stomach, muscle soreness or stiffness, fever.
- 2.—Keep children from contact with strangers on beaches, buses, trains, boats and in theatres.
- 3.—Guard against fatigue. Too strenuous play, late hours and irregular schedules are invitations to the polio virus.
- 4.—Don't let children stay too long in cold water; and on no account let them bathe in polluted water.
- 5.—Keep flies and other insects away from food.
- 6.—Don't leave garbage uncovered.
- 7.—Don't let children eat with unwashed hands.
- 8.—Consult your doctor as to the advisability of tonsil, adenoid or other mouth or throat surgery during the summer "danger period".
- 9.—If polio is diagnosed and help is needed in getting necessary medical care and hospitalization, contact your Provincial Chapter of the Canadian Foundation for Poliomyelitis, which will give all possible assistance.

Mr. Solomon said that Canada is at present free from polio epidemics but he warned that continental cities, plus Montreal, and Vancouver.

Their Royal Highnesses will land at Quebec City Oct. 1 and depart, possibly from Halifax, about Nov. 4. In the intervening month they'll have to cross the country in each direction, spend a few days in the United States, and a few days holidaying on the Pacific Coast.

BROADWAY HIT IS NOW MOVIE WITH CRAWFORD

Imagine a nationally prominent Congresswoman being invited to receive an honorary degree from her Alma Mater and having it become known that she was expelled from that school 20 years earlier for staying out all night with all the college president himself.

Therein lie the ingredients of "Goodbye, Mr. Fancy," Warner Bros. romantic comedy which has been termed in advance one of the funniest films in many seasons. The picture, based on Fay Kanin's outstanding Broadway play, begins its local engagement at the Prince Edward Theatre today.

Crawford Heads Cast

Joan Crawford, whose latest dramatic successes include "Mildred Pierce," in which she starred with Jack Carson, "Flamingo Road" and "The Damned Don't Cry," gives one of her rare performances as a comedienne, in the role of the female politician who tries to educate a college faculty and winds up taking a few lessons in love.

Debonair Robert Young makes his introductory appearance in a Warner Bros. film as the college president who loses his heart to Miss Crawford. Among Young's recent successes are "Crossfire," "Sitting Pretty" and "The Second Woman."

Frank Lovejoy rounds out the stellar cast of "Goodbye, Mr. Fancy," and it is interesting to note that Lovejoy made the hard climb to stardom in less than a
