Poetry.

THE MERRY DAYS OF YOUTH.

Oh, merry is the sunshine,
  And merry is the spring,
And merry is the bee,
  For ever on the wing—
But, Ah! of nature's mirthfulness,
  For perfect joy and truth,
  There's nothing half so merry
As the merry days of youth.

There's freedom in the soul
  When the life is green and young,
There's rapture in the heart, too,
  And music on the tongue,
And every step the light foot falls
  On groups of the thornless flowers,
And Hope, a fairy, dances,
  To beguile the pleasant hours.

The merry, merry days of youth,
  To soon do they depart,
By worldly care and sorrow chased
  From the impulsive heart,
Yet still will linger in the mind
  The seeds of love and truth,
Which the spirit sowed and gathered
  In the merry days of youth.

LAUGH AND BE WISE.

The man's a dolt who lets in grief,
  When he might ope the door of laughter,
If tears afford the heart relief,
  They leave a void for some hours after.
Dull sorry is a malady,
  That ends in lunacy or phthisic;
But mirth is nature's recipe,
  And laughter is the best of physic.

The kings of old to shun at least
  The ill effects of melancholy,
Kept merry folks, to crown life's feast,
  With sparkling wit and harmless folly:
So Comus rules with buoyant hand—
  To mirth turns fear, and pain, and sadness,
And sends forth, ringing through the land,
  The laughing shout of hope and gladness.

Care, oft indulged, is like a fire
  That flames and burns the more you blow it,
Or, like a sexton—wrinkled, dire—
  Who digs your grave before you know it,
For young or old—for sage or clown—
  For all who live, or may hereafter—
To cure life's ills, or keep them down,
  There is nothing like a fit of laughter.

SELECTIONS FOR NEWSPAPERS.

Most persons think the selection of suitable matter for a newspaper the easiest part of the business. How great an error! It is by all means the most difficult. To look over and over hundreds of exchange papers every day, from which to select enough for one, especially when the question is not what shall, but what shall not be selected, is indeed "no easy task." If every person who reads a newspaper, could have edited it, we should hear less complaints. Not unfrequently it is the case, that an editor looks over all his exchanges for something interesting, and can absolutely find nothing. Every paper is drier than a contribution box; and yet something must be had—his paper must have something in it, and he does the best he can. To an editor who has the least care about what he selects, the writing is the easiest part of his labour. A paper when completed should be one the editor should be willing to read to his wife, his mother, or his daughter; and if he do that, if he gets such a paper, he will find his labour a most difficult one.

Every subscriber thinks the paper is printed for his especial benefit, and if there is nothing in that suits him it must be stopped, it is good for nothing. Some people look over the deaths and marriages, and actually complain of the editors, if but few people in the vicinity have been so unfortunate as to die or so fortunate as to get married the previous week.—An editor should have such things in his paper whether they occur or not. Just as many subscribers as an editor may have, just so many tastes has he to consult. One wants stories and poetry; another abbors all this. The politician wants nothing but politics. One must have something sound. One likes anecdotes, fun and frolic, and a next door neighbour wonders that a man of sense will put such stuff in his paper. Something spicy comes out and the editor is a blackguard. Next comes something argumentative, and the editor is a dull fool. And so between them all, you see the poor fellow gets roughly handled. And yet to ninety-nine out of a hundred, these things never occur. They never reflect, that what does not please them, may please the next man, but they insist that if the paper does not suit them, it is good for nothing.

THE DULNESS OF HIGH LIFE.—The following passages in the "Memoirs of the Duchess of St. Albans," contain a sad and home truth:—"Few persons have seen so much of the various aspects, I may say of the two extremes of life, as myself; and few persons, therefore, can be better judges of the difference between great poverty and great wealth; but, after all, this does not by any means, constitute the chief and most important distinction between the high and the low states. No—the signal, the striking contrast is not in the external circumstances, but in the totally opposite minds of the two classes as to their respective enjoyment of existence. The society in which I formerly moved was all cheerfulness, all high spirits—all fun, frolic, and vivacity; they cared for nothing, thought of nothing, beyond the pleasures of the present hour, and to those they gave themselves up with the keenest relish. Look at the circles in which I now move; can any thing be more 'weary, stale, flat, and unprofitable,' than their whole course of life? Why, one might as well be in the tread-mill as toiling in the stupid, monotorous round of what they call pleasure, but which is, in fact, very cheerless and heavy work. Pleasure, indeed! when all merriment, all hilarity, all indulgence of our natural emotions, if they be of a joyous nature, are declared to be irregular. There can be no cordiality, where there is so much exclusiveness and primness; no! all this is coldness, reserve, and universal ennui, even where this starchness of manner is unaccompanied by any very strict manners of conduct. Look, now, at those quadrille-dancers in the other room; they have been supping, they have been drinking as much champagne as they liked; the band is capital; the men are young and the girls are pretty; and yet did you ever see such crawling movements—such solemn looks, as if they were all dragging themselves through the most irksome task in the world? Oh! what a different thing was a country dance in my younger days!"

A Portugal paper gives the following statistics respecting married life in Portugal. By what private means the information was arrived at, we cannot pretend to say:—"There are in Portugal 872,634 married couples, of which the present condition is nearly as follows: women who have left their husbands for their lovers, 1275. Husbands who have left their wives for other women, 2361. Couples who have agreed to live separately, 33,120. Couples who live in open warfare, under the same roof, 132,062. Couples who cordially hate each other, but who dissemble their aversion under the appearance of love, 162,320. Couples who live in a state of tranquil indifference, 510,132. Couples thought by their acquaintances to be happy, but who are not, themselves, convinced of their own felicity, 1102. Couples that are happy as compared with those that are confessed unhappy, 131. Couples indisputably happy in each other, 9. Total, 872, 634."

An orator holding forth in favor of woman concluded thus: "Oh, my hearers, depend upon it, nothing beats a good wife," "I beg your pardon," replied one of the female auditors, "a drunken husband does."

"Are you an Odd Fellow?" "No, sir, I have been married a week." I mean, do you belong to the Order of Odd Fellows?" "No! I belong to the Order of married men." "Thunder! how dumb? Are you a Mason?" "No; I'm a carpenter by trade." "Worse and worse! are you a Son of Temperance?" Confound you, no, I'm a son of Mr. John Gosling."

It will not do to hoe a great field for a little crop, or to mow twenty acres for five loads of hay. Enrich the land and it will pay you for it. Better farm thirty acres well, than fifty acres by halves.

EXPENDITURE FOR AMUSEMENT.—It is estimated that the various places of amusement in this city are regularly attended by about twenty thousand persons, at an average expense of ten thousand dollars a night, or sixty thousand dollars per week.—New York Paper.

PROFESSOR A. G. BARRY'S TRICOPHEROUS or MEDICATED SYRUP—Truth loves an incredulous audience, for if they listen, they are sure to become converts. If there is any man or woman who challenges the statement that Barry's Tricopherous is a specific for cutaneous diseases and injuries, and the best preparation for the hair extant, all that is asked is that he or she will try one twenty-five cent bottle of the fluid, and read the pamphlet in which it is enclosed. Read and make the trial. Truth will then force conviction upon the mind, that all, and more than all, that has been claimed for the preparation by the inventor, is as palpable a fact as the existence of the sun, or changes of day and night. Referring the reader to the thing itself, and the accompanying treatises for a solution of all his doubts, if he entertains any, we will here briefly state what the Tricopherous will do. It wil remove scurf and dandruff; it will restore, preserve and beautify the hair; it will prevent it from becoming harsh or gray; it will dispose the hair to curl and render it glossy: it will relieve inflammation, itching and all irritation of the skin; it will cure bites and stings of insects; it will take away the pain of cuts, burns, bruises and sprains; it will allay the pain of rheumatism and cure headache. For these reasons, it ought never to be absent from the dwelling of any family, and no one should travel without it. Sold in large bottles, price 25 cents, at the principal office, 137 Broadway, New York. For sale by the principal merchants and druggists throughout the United States and Canada. Beware of the counterfeit, sold at one dollar per bottle. For sale by or How to Live and What to live for; with ample rules for Diet, Regimen, and Self-Management; together with Instructions for securing Perfect Health, Longevity, and that sterling state of Happiness only attainable through the judicious observance of a well-regulated course of life. By a PHYSICIAN.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"There is a vast deal of good sense in this little volume. The rules relating to the 'important operation of eating' are admirable. The moral rules are as good as the physical, and the writer is well entitled to be heard."—Atlas.

"The work before us is written in a plain homely style, and the information which it contains in connection with all matters relating to health and diet, is of an extremely valuable and useful kind."—Sunday Times.

"A little book abounding in sound, sensible, and practicable advice for the management of health from infancy to old age. The writer's instructions are eminently judicious. This is a manual which every household should possess, and which young and old will read with profit."—Critic.

Here we have sure and practical rules laid down for adoption, which if followed accurately, will tend to the comfort, if not to the longevity of life. As a manual for general use, it is so prepared, as to avoid every thing that is offensive, whilst treating upon topics requisite to be considered."—Bell's Weekly Messenger.

"The design of this essay is extremely laudable, it being intended to promote a most useful and important study—the study of diet and morals which is at present too much neglected. There are, scattered through the work, several useful and important observations."—Weekly Times.

"A little work which appears to us to possess much merit, and to be suited to the capacities of all who can read. On such a subject it is often difficult to avoid the use of language which is offensive to delicate ears; but in the volume before us, the author has treated in the most familiar way, and yet without ever being led into the commission of an unguarded expression."—Mining Journal.

"A book written in the spirit of the nineteenth century by a man of the world, with a keen eye to all the "comforts and conveniences of this life," and on his guard against its material and discomforting issues. We have rules for eating, drinking, and sleeping; but it strikes us that a man must have at least £500 a-year, before he can practise them, for which class, we believe, the author intended his labors."—Tablet.

"The book abounds with admirable maxims for the preservation of health, as dependent upon the choice of food, abstinence from excess of all kinds, the controul of the passions, air, exercise, and other matters which form the usual staple of sanitary admonition."—Emigrant.

CURES FOR THE UNCURED!

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

AN EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF SCROFULA OR KING'S EVIL.

Extract of a Letter from Mr. J. H. Aliday, 209, High Street, Cheltenham, dated the 22d of January, 1850.

To Professor HOLLOWAY.

SIR,—My eldest son, when about three years of age, was afflicted with a Glandular Swelling in the neck, which after a short time broke out into an Ulcer. An eminent medical man pronounced it a very bad case of Scrofula, and prescribed for a considerable time without effect.—The disease then for four years went on gradually increasing in virulence, when, besides the ulcer in the neck, another formed below the left knee, and a third under the eye, besides seven others on the left arm, with a tumor between the eyes which was expected to break. During the whole of the time my suffering boy had received the constant advice of the most celebrated medical gentlemen at Cheltenham, besides being for several months at the General Hospital, where one of the surgeons said that he would amputate the left arm, but that the blood was so impure, that if that limb were taken off it would be then even impossible to subdue the disease. In this desperate state I determined to give your Pills and Ointment a trial, and after two months' perseverance in their use, the tumor gradually began to disappear, and the discharge from all the ulcers perceptibly decreased, and at the expiration of eight months they were perfectly healed, and the boy thoroughly restored to the blessings of health, to the astonishment of a large circle of acquaintances, who could testify to the truth of this miraculous case. Three years have now elapsed without any recurrence of the malady, and the boy is now as healthy as heart can wish. Under these circumstances I consider that I should be truly ungrateful were I not to make you acquainted with this wonderful cure, effected by your medicines after every other means has failed.

(Signed) J. H. ALIDAY.

CURE OF ACUTE RHEUMATISM OF FOUR YEARS' STANDING.

Extract of a Letter from Mr. John Pitt, Dudley, 19th Jan. 1850,

To Professor HOLLOWAY.

SIR,—It is with the greatest pleasure that I write to thank you for the benefit I have received from your Pills and Ointment, which have completely cured me of the Rheumatism, under which I suffered for this last four years, at times I was so bad as hardly to be able to walk. I had tried every kind of medicine that was recommended without receiving any benefit. I at last thought I would give your medicines a trial and purchased from Mr. Hollin, Chemist of this Town, two boxes of Pill and two of Ointment, and in three weeks through them and the blessing of God, I was restored to health and strength, and am now as well able to walk as ever I was in my life. I am well known in this parish, having been sixty-five years in it, with an exception of ten years I served in the 24th Regiment of Foot.

(Signed) JOHN PITT.

CURE OF A BAD LEG OF MORE THAN SIXTY YEARS' STANDING.

Mr. Barker, of No. 5, Graham's Place, Drypool, near Hull, had ulcers on his leg from the age of eighteen until upwards of eighty, and although for many years he had sought the first advice in the country, nothing was found to cure them. He very often suffered most excruciating pain for long periods together, which incapacitated him from attending to his business. He had given up all hopes of getting a cure when at last he was persuaded to try Holloway's Pills and Ointment, which he did, and however wonderful it may appear, the leg was thoroughly healed by their means, and by continuing to use the Pills alone after his leg was well, he has become in health so hale and hearty as now to be more active than most men of fifty.

N. B.—The truth of this extraordinary statement can be vouched fo by Mr. J. C. Reinhardt, 22, Market Place, Hull. February 20th, 1850r

CURE OF A DESPERATE CASE OF RINGWORM, OF SIX YEARS' STANDING.

Lima, 13th November, 1849.

One of the most eminent Surgeons in Lima (the Capital of Peru) had a child covered with Ringworm for more than six years; in vain he exhausted all his art in his endeavours to effect a cure. Not succeeding, he consulted among his brethren, the most celebrated medical practitioners of the City, but nothing was found to do the child service. When he was persuaded by Mr. Joseph P. Hague, the English Chemist and Druggist, residing at 74, Calle de Pallacio, to try Holloway's Pills and Ointment, which was done, and after using six large Pots of the Ointment, with a proportion of the Pills, the child was radically cured, to the surprise of the whole medical profession. The name of the parent, from motives of delicacy is withheld.

The Pills should be used conjointly with the Ointment in most of the following cases:—

Bad Legs	Chiego-foot	Fistulas	Sore throats
Bad Breasts	Chilblains	Gout	Skin diseases
Burns	Chapped-hands	Glandular Swellings	Scurvy
Bunions	Corns (Soft)	Lumbago	Sore heads
Bites of Moschetoes and Sand-Flies	Cancers	Piles	Tumours
	Contracted & Stiff joints	Rheumatism	Ulcers
Cocoa-Bay	Elephantiasis	Scalds	Wounds
		Sore Nipples	Yaws

Sold by the Proprietor at 244 Strand (near Temple Bar) London, and by GEO. T. HASZARD, Agent for P. E. Island, in Boxes and Pots, at 2s, 5s, 8s, and 20s each. There is a very considerable saving in taking the larger sizes.
