ON Wednesday evening last a deputation from the Halifax branch of the Irish National League waited on Archbishop O'Brien, and presented him with an address, together with a handsome secretary desk, beautifully finished, and ornamented with a silver plate suitably inscribed. His grace made a suitable reply.

CAPT. SCOTT, the commissioner in charge of the fishery protection service, has left for the North Bay, to meet the Minister of Marine and Fisheries, who intends going over the fishery grounds in order to satisfy himself as to the advantages that are being derived by the Americans in that locality. The S. S. Acadia will be at their service.

THE EXAMINER's reporter visited Queen's County jail this morning. He found everything clean and neat and the officials as attentive as ever. There are seven prisoners confined at present, viz.: 1 for murder, 1 rape, 1 larceny, 1 Scott Act and 3 drunks. The fence surrounding the jail is not as safe as it might be, and should be attended to at once.

A TRAMP going from Charlottetown to Summerside a few days ago, acted to a passenger that he had travelled all the way from Montana to Chatham, N. B., on foot. He was quite drunk, and when the conductor came around to take up his ticket he was singing "Sowing Seeds of Kindness," but the conductor thought he was too drunk to be engaged in such a good cause, and put him off at the next station.—Pictou News.

ARRANGEMENTS have been made for commissioners attending the Prince County exhibition meeting in Summerside on the 20th inst., to have the railway passage at one single first-class fare. Tickets will be found at all Prince County stations on the 20th, good to return east of Summerside (including Cape Traverse) on that day, and west of Summerside, until the day after. The usual certificate of attendance from the Secretary will be required.

HOUSES are being engaged in advance at the Summerside livery stables by those who propose attending the Port Hill Episcopal church tea, on Wednesday, the 13th. The Port Hill people have become justly celebrated for giving successful tea parties. A handsome church was built at that place a few years ago, which has recently been fitted with a hot air heating apparatus. The proceeds of the tea, we understand, are to be applied to the payment of a small debt which still remains on the church.

THE funeral of the late John A. Macdonnell, Esq., left by carriage this morning for Corranan Bridge Cemetery. The Caledonia Club, of which the deceased was for many years an esteemed member, and also for some time President, marched in costume, as far as the Club grounds, St. Peter's Road, their Piper playing suitable tunes. On returning to their rooms, the members present appointed a Committee to prepare an address of condolence to be presented to Mrs. Macdonnell, on her sorrow bereavement.

ON Friday last, says the Halifax Herald, Cadet Donnelly, of the Salvation Army, arrived in this city from Carbonar, Nfld., where she has been stationed for some time. She stopped with friends until the council of war at Windsor, about the first of the week, which she attended. On her return, Wednesday, she was ordered to New Glasgow, to start Thursday morning. In order not to miss the train she slept at the "quarters" Wednesday night. When some persons in the house went to call her in the morning they found her unconscious. She had blown out the gas before retiring and had not been discovered when she was or shortly after, she would never have lived to have started out on her order to go to New Glasgow. Next Wednesday she was out of the danger.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

(SPECIAL DESPATCHES TO THE EXAMINER.) Another Lottery Swindle. MONTREAL, July 8.

A gigantic lottery swindle has been unearthed here. The chief of police has received a number of inquiries from parties in the United States asking for information about a financial firm named H. Reade & Co., Montreal. Accompanied with the letters were glowing prospectuses of a grand legal lottery in aid of the parish of St. Marie, Quebec. The first prize was valued at $40,000 and 10,000 prizes of different values. It was announced that the drawing will be conducted in the same ho or the manner as a banking institution. Parties were asked to address communications to Post Office box 1437, Montreal. It appears that lottery tickets have been sold by the agents all over the United States. Chief of Police Paradis communicated with St. Marie Church authorities and they knew nothing of it nor had authorized any lottery.

The Stanley Expedition

LONDON, July 8. The latest news from Stanley shows that he had overcome a series of obstructions in the journey from Leopoldville to Leowokola. One of the gravest difficulties was to replenish the commissary. The threatened scarcity of provisions greatly excited a number of his men and it became necessary to punish the malcontents with much severity to reduce them to subjection and save the expedition. Stanley himself is ill from excessive heat. The expedition was expected to reach the Congo at its confluence with the Arontionim by June 6th. Stanley's programme was to encamp at this point, there to await the arrival of Tippoo Tip, who is approaching from Stanley Falls with provisions.

The Short Line.

OTTAWA, July 8. The government has received advice that the work of construction on the Short Line Railway from Montreal to the sea is progressing satisfactorily. All contracts in the State of Maine have been awarded. The section between Harvey and Salisbury, 113 miles in length, is now being located. It is expected that two sections now under contract, will be finished in November.

The Comte's Farewell.

PARIS, July 8. The Gaulois says Comte de Paris, in bidding farewell to friends on the Island of Jersey, after advocating silence, said: "You may be sure we shall win before long. A monarch will come without violent effort, and by gentle transition for our organization in training in everything is ready. The new Government will get into immediate working order, and helped by all good Frenchmen, I shall be King."

Parliamentary Gossip.

LONDON, July 8. The Liberal-Unionists met to-day. Lord Hartington presiding. The vote to support the second reading of the Irish Land Bill and reserve liberty of action respecting the measure, is in committee stage. A committee which includes Hartington, Chamberlain and Attorney-General James was appointed to consider and report advisable amendments.

Carnegie and Blaine.

GLASGOW, July 8. The freedom of the city was to-day conferred upon Andrew Carnegie in recognition of his $250,000 library gift. Mr. Blaine was invited to be present at the ceremony, but could not get in owing to the crowd.

Raised to the Peerage.

LONDON, July 8. Rt. Hon. John G. Hibbard, Member of Parliament for London city, has been elevated to the Peerage. The seat thus vacated will be contested by Chas. Baring the banker.

Weather Bulletin.

TORONTO, July 9—10 a. m. Moderate winds, fine and warm to-day, local showers and thunder storms to-morrow.

SAD DROWNING.—A sad drowning accident happened at North Pinette River on the 23rd ult. Mr. Howard Ross' two children, Angus William, aged 7 years, and a little girl aged 3 years, accompanied by a young lad named Daly, aged 10 years, floated a raft which had been used in ferrying, and paddled into the river. The children were within 150 yards, and in full view of Morrison's ship yard. It seems that after they got afloat in the stream they became frightened, and it is supposed young Ross got off the raft. The water being beyond his depth, he sank and was drowned. The first intimation his family had of the accident was when the little girl came home with her brother's hat in her hand and informed her mother that her brother was under the water. The boy's father, and his neighbors immediately proceeded to the scene of the accident, and recovered the body in four feet of water.

A Story of the Princess of Wales.

I have just heard a very pretty story of the Princess of Wales, says a writer in the Irish Times. A little while ago she visited the Millbank female prison, and was shown over the place by the zealous and devoted chaplain, the Rev. George Merriek. In one of the cells the Princess was shown a woman who was so violent that it had been necessary to handcuff her. Her Royal Highness spoke kindly and tenderly to the woman, remonstrated with her as to her conduct, and completely broke down her sullenness. The refractory woman burst into tears, and on the Princess asking her to promise that if the handcuffs were removed she would not be violent, she fathered out in a voice choked with sobs, "I will really be good my lady, if they take these things off." It is needless to say, that "good strings" were taken off.

Notes on the Diocesan Synod.

The last synod is remarkable as being the largest since its institution. The legal element among the laity predominated; but all the speeches were excellent and showed a keenness of discernment peculiarly alive to the best interests of the Church, and a loyalty that was most gratifying.

The clergy were most true to their position, and, while not ignoring the rights of the laity, as an indispensable integral of the Synod, maintained their order in the Church with becoming dignity. One Island clergyman stated that, bishops were not hired and that the term "salary" was not appropriate when speaking of income.

The effects of the late Bishop's policy was noticeable by the large clerical and lay vote in favor of Dr. Edgill, and also by the remarkable statements of the Rev. J. J. Ritchie of Annapolis Royal and other members of a party that strenuously opposed Bishop Binney, that now they had to acknowledge that the Bishop was right and that his forethought, correct judgement and wise administration was evidenced by the large and important Synod, and by the deep interest in Church matters now manifested in all parts of the diocese.

The speeches of condolence with Dr. Binney's family and eulogy of the late Prelate were eloquent and most affecting. Many of the speakers could not continue their addresses by reason of their emotions which circumstance had a most melting effect upon many of the lay members.

It must be admitted, that the supporters of Dr. Sullivan, after the election of Dr. Edgill, showed a degree of nobleness of spirit and magnanimity that was truly Christian in its character. Indeed the whole of the proceedings of this important assembly of churchmen showed in a remarkable manner the high-toned Christian gentlemen, and the pious humility and exalted charity that should ever characterize such gatherings.

Another Successful Islander.

HONORS are falling thick and fast upon our Island students in the universities of the other provinces. But a few weeks ago, we published a long list of names of those who had carried off distinctions at Halifax, Toronto and Montreal, showing that in the universities of these cities Islanders more than held their own. It is our great pleasure to announce to-day the most brilliant success of the year. News has just reached us that Mr. John P. McGrath, who gained the Hodgson bursar at Laval two years ago, has come out of a competition, in which the first talent of the many colleges affiliated to Laval University contested the honors, with the first place, thus gaining the much sought after Prince of Wales prize. This is all the more gratifying when we understand that the competitors for the prize were all degree winners at the closing examination, and from their long attendance at Laval or some of the colleges affiliated, enjoyed advantages which should have counted well in the contest. The carrying of this prize is a mark of the highest distinction at Laval and we rejoice that for once it comes to little Prince Edward Island.

Mr. McGrath who has brought his Island province so much honor and in such an auspicious manner earned the first laurels for the Hodgson Bursary, at the suit of Mr. John McGrath, of Sea Cow Pond, Prince County, and only twenty years of age. The "Prince of Wales Prize" was founded at Laval by the Prince himself on the occasion of his visit to Quebec in 1860. It is a money prize, being the interest of the sum of $800, but in point of importance has first place in the arts course.

We congratulate Mr. McGrath, the Hodgson trustee, and the Island on this great honor. Mr. McGrath also secured other prizes and the degree of A. M.

In Brief. And to the Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember! No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

TEA AND DEMONSTRATION. LET it be known that the Members of Lorne, L. O. L., No. 142, intend having a Tea and Celebration on the 12th JULY, 1887, on the Beautiful Grounds of Mr. Finlay Ferguson, HAMPTON, about 1/2 of a mile from Victoria.

The good Ladies of Crapaud and Desable, who are preparing to open for excelsior and party efforts, and all know their famous reputation in the manner of getting up Tables.

A Refreshment Season will be on the grounds, supplied with all temperate drinks and other requisites for a first-class season.

Swings and all other customary amusements for such occasions will be provided.

No intoxicating liquor will be allowed on or near the grounds. The Committee are determined that any violation of the law in this respect will be summarily dealt with, as was done on the 12th last year. They are also determined to keep the road near the Tea grounds clear of these mean side saloons.

Seating on the Tables at 12 o'clock. Tickets 25c, to be had on the grounds. Should the day prove unfavorable, Tea will take place first fine day.

Come one! Come all, and have a good time. ARCHD. MCKINNON, Sec'y Com.
