SOCCER PLAYERS PAID BY COLLECTIVE FARM

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet collective farms were accused here of maintaining professional soccer teams, rather than investing their money in farm equipment.

The accusation was made by the official party newspaper Pravda, which singled out for criticism a farm in the Slavyanski district of the Krasnodar territory, near the Black Sea.

The farm's name: Road to Communism.

For details, Pravda quoted the farm's head boookkeeper, Pavel Demidenko, who reported: "For the second year in a row, 16 soccer players are living on the collective farm. Each is receiving a monthly salary, plus restaurant money, plus guaranteed funds, plus travelling expenses. All told, each gets up to 200 rubles ($212) a month."

The average industrial worker earns about 80 rubles a month.

Pravda said the soccer team was defended by the farm's chairman, Mikhail Soshnikov, who claimed each player was a legitimate farm worker—tractor driver, combine operator, etc.

"But," said Pravda, "don't believe Soshnikov—all of them together haven't done a day's work."

Some Western sports officials have made similar charges of professionalism against Soviet athletes in general-namely, that they are professionals supported by the state and are not true amateurs.

27 Killed In Brazil Air Crash

SAO PAULO (AP) — Flying over a mountainous area, a Brazilian airliner and a small private plane collided and crashed Monday killing all 27 persons on the two ships.

Police found the wreckage 65 miles north of here near the town of Paraibuna and said there were no survivors. All the victims were reported to be Brazilians.

The two-engined Vasp airliner, with 23 aboard, was bound for Rio de Janeiro from Sao Paulo. The light plane, carrying four persons, was headed in the other direction for this industrial centre on a 2,700-foot high plateau.

A small plane belonging to a Rio department store had been reported missing earlier but it was not determined whether this was the one involved in the collision.

There were 18 passengers and a crew of five on the airliner.

Airline officials here said one of the persons killed was Joao Moreira Salles, nephew of former ambassador to the United States and former finance minister, Walther Moreira Salles.

Indians Reject Key Truce Clause

NEW DELHI (AP) — An Indian government spokesman has rejected the key provision for a withdrawal of troops which Red China pinned to its proclamation of a cease-fire in the Himalayan frontier war Wednesday. He cited potential Indian losses in the Ladakh area of Kashmir.

Although the spokesman said Prime Minister Nehru's government is still considering the Chinese offer, his statement appeared to bring the two nations closer to a resumption of fighting.

With that possibility in mind, a dozen United States C-130 Hercules transports on loan to India began airlifting troops and supplies to beef up the Indian frontline forces, which had been losing ground steadily until the Chinese stopped shooting. On return flights the craft carried wounded Indian soldiers.

The Chinese have offered to begin withdrawing from the present battle lines Saturday. They said they will go in peace if the Indians refrain from attacking them.

The key provision of their proposal—a return of both sides to positions behind their lines of control of Nov. 7, 1959—would mean a Chinese retreat from thousands of square miles of Eastern sector territory they won in their fall offensives.

LOSE PIECE OF LADAKH

But India evidently considers that would be outweighed by the situation on the Western end of the front in Ladakh, a strategic northern district of Kashmir where both the 1959 lines of control and the actual frontier are subjects of controversy.

PLAN CADET TALKS

OTTAWA (CP)—The national executive committee and advisory board of the Air Cadet League of Canada will hold its semi-annual meeting in Ottawa Dec. 3, league headquarters announced. Air Marshal C. R. Dunlap, chief of the air staff, and other air force officers will join in the discussions aimed at guiding training of Canada's 27,000 air cadets.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1♥	1♠	2♣	Pass
2♥	2♠	4♥

Opening lead—Jack of spades.

Even in the top echelons of bridge there is a considerable difference of opinion about the proper bidding and play of certain types of hands.

For example, take this deal played in the national team of four championship a few years ago.

The bidding shown occurred at the first table. South made a light opening bid of a heart, over which West said a spade and North two clubs. In an effort to slow partner down, South rebid his hearts instead of raising clubs, but this didn't stop North from jumping to four (justifiably) at the next opportunity.

West led a spade. Declarer took it with the queen and returned a trump, won with the king. West then led the ten of spades, on which declarer played the king from dummy. East ruffed low and South overruffed.

Declarer then led another trump, the ace and queen falling together on the trick, and later guessed the location of the queen of clubs to make four hearts. He lost, all together, two hearts and a diamond.

This was the bidding at the second table:

South, who had previously appraised his hand as unworthy of an opening bid, decided it was now worth four hearts, vulnerable, after West had opened the bidding with three spades.

At this table, also, West led the jack of spades, taken with the queen. Declarer played a heart, which lost to the king, and got the ten of spades in return, the same as at the first table.

But here came a parting of the ways. East ruffed the king of spades with the queen instead of a low trump, and returned a diamond to establish the setting trick. It did not matter that declarer subsequently trapped East's queen of clubs—the damage had already been done.

South went down one at this table, losing three hearts and a diamond as a result of East's alert defense.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:
A X Y D L B A A X E is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.
